CHARLES M. WOELKE DIES

August Woelke received an official telegram Wednesday from California announcing the death of his son, Charles, who enlisted at Salem last February and was at a training camp in California, but had not been assigned California but had not been assigned on ill and was in the hospital and his father received word Monday that the boy was seriously ill, but had no idea he was so near death's door.

He was about 18 years of age and was the youngest son. Another brother enlisted about the same time but is at Vancouver, Wash.

The body will be shipped here for burial and the funeral will probably take place Friday or Saturday from the Catholic church—Gervais Star.

Espe place, 150 on the Simon farm, 90 on the Leonard place and other tracts around Lafayette and Hillsboro.

To plant the 106 acres Mr. McCutchan used a Mogul tractor and 22 head of horses. He planted a few red beans, but mostly Lady Washington and white kidney varieties. He put them in clover and sod ground, those planted early looking better than those put in late. Mr. Starkweather will have his own threshing outfit—Woodburn Independent.

$500,000 IN ROAD AWARDS DECIDED ON

Bids Are Unexpectedly Low and Contracts Are Tentatively Allowed by Board

Portland, Or., July 21.—Contracts for approximately $500,000 worth of paving and grading work in various parts of the state will be awarded by the Oregon State Highway commission within the next few days on a basis of bids received yesterday.

The bids were unexpectedly low, averaging approximately $1.28 a square yard for bituminous paving, which was specified for most of the work.

Contracts were tentatively allowed as follows: Ten miles of the Portland-Salem east side road, in Clackamas and Marion counties, to the Hassam Paving company.

Fourteen miles of the Portland-Salem west side road, between the Multnomah county line and Newberg, to Oskar Huber.

Columbia Highway Included. Ten miles of the Columbia river highway, between Astoria and Svenson, in Clatsop county, to the Warren Construction company.

Only one bid was received for the pavement of the Siskiyou grade in Jackson county, but it was unsatisfactory to the commission and was rejected. The commission will do this work on force account.

All successful bidders agreed, in their offers, to maintain the roads for a period of 10 years.

Work on these improvements will start as soon as the contracts are formally awarded and the contractors can get their plants together. Every job is expected to be complete before the cold weather sets in next fall.

Highway Link to Be Provided. By building 14 miles of road between the Multnomah county line and Newberg, the highway commission will provide another link in the Portland-Salem highway over what heretofore has been one of the worst stretches of road in the state—the Rox-Tigardville stretch. This will furnish a paved highway nearly half the way to Salem. It is expected that the southern end of this highway will be paved next year. The road now is paved to the county line, including the Terwilliger boulevard in Portland.

At the same time substantial progress will be made on a paved road east of the river between Portland and Salem. The commissioners have arranged to begin at the Marion-Clackamas county line and pave five miles in each direction. It is aimed to extend the road both ways until it is completed.

The Astoria-Svenson road will furnish another important link in the highway between Portland and the Pacific beaches. The road now is paved through Multnomah county to the Columbia county line. The city of Astoria has arranged to pave to the city limits.

More Contracts to Be Let. The biggest stretch, of course, lies between Svenson and the Multnomah-Columbia line, but it is intended to pave this road gradually as soon as the permanent grades are established.

Within the next few weeks the commission will let contracts for other highway improvement work in various parts of the state, approaching in aggregate cost, with the contracts awarded yesterday, the full $1,000,000 which is to be spent this year under terms of the $6,000,000 bonding bill passed by the voters last month.

Bids for the $1,000,000 worth of bonds will be opened on August 3, and the commission is confident of realizing good value despite the present uncertain tone of the bond market.

ROSINA GILSDORF DROWNS

This community was greatly shocked Sunday afternoon when word came that someone had drowned in the Pudding river near Peter Kuschnick's place.

According to reports Miss Gilsdorf and some smaller girls were in bathing when Inez Pickens, about twelve, got into deep water and called for help. Miss Gilsdorf went to assist her, but before reaching the little girl she herself went down and never came up again.

Adolph Mathis, who was passing heard the cry for help and reached there in time to save the little girl, but in the excitement they could not tell him the exact place where Miss Gilsdorf went down. He dove several times but could not locate the body. The body was finally recovered by dragging—Gervais Star.

BATTLEFIELD JUNK CAREFULLY RECLAIMED

Wornout Equipment and Material Not Wasted—Everything Is Utilized

By William Philip Simms (United Press staff correspondent)

With the British Armies in the Field July 5—(By mail)—Did you ever stop to think what becomes of all the worn out equipment of an army composed of millions of men?

At the outset of the present war much of this was pure loss. Now in the British army there is an "old clothes man" and the profits he reports back to his boss, John Bull, might make Morgan, Rockefeller or Carnegie envious.

The old clothes man saves the scraps. He makes new things out of old. He cleans up the battlefields and camps and very little is wasted nowadays. His job is to collect everything from a horseshoe nail to a disordered siege gun and put it back into commission.

Brass objects which have lost their usefulness are melted into ingots; cast iron junk becomes pig iron again; bronze, tin, steel, nickel and everything of this kind which has irretrievably lost its shape is put into melting pots to be born again in another guise keeping up an eternal transmigration but serving all the while.

I recently visited one of these scrap saving and repair shops. About 12,000 people are employed, mostly French women and girls.

Here great howitzers are repaired and government chronometers have their hair springs readjusted; tests are patched and mended and covers are made for steel helmets; artillery wheels are repaired and micrometers put true again. There is a wood working shop, a foundry for running brass, bronze, zinc, tin and iron; a boot repair department, a great machine shop; a gas mask repair department and many others.

In one room there were hundreds and hundreds of rifles.

This is one day's arrivals. "By tonight the room must be cleared to make room for tomorrow's arrivals."

Many of the rifles were muddy and rusty as though picked out of the mud on the battlefield. Women were cleaning these. In one corner a soldier was rhythmically swinging the rifles up, one by one to a rest and squinting through the barrels at a light to see if they were bent or if the rifling was damaged. The officer explained this was obviously the first bit of inspection because it would be a waste of time to repair other parts of the rifle if the barrel was damaged.

These rifles pass on down the line. When they reach the end they are as good as new and after being oiled are packed in boxes and shipped back to the front.

PRESIDENT WILSON ADVISES CITIZENS TO OBTAIN VALUE

President Wilson has appealed to the country's business interests to put aside every selfish consideration and give their aid to the nation as freely as those who go out to offer their lives on the battlefield.

The world's greatest diplomat further said, "your patriotism is of the same self-denying stuff as the patriotism of the men dead and maimed on the fields of France or elsewhere in the world."

"Many a grievous burden of taxation will be laid on this nation in this generation and the next to pay for this war; let us see to it that for every dollar that is taken from the people's pockets it shall be possible to obtain a dollar's worth of the sound stuff they need."

"We must make prices to the public the same as the prices to the government."

"Prices mean the same thing everywhere now. They mean the efficiency or the inefficiency of the nation. They mean victory or defeat. They mean that America will win her place once for all among the foremost nations of the world, or that she will sink to become a second-rate power alike in thought and action."

The advice of the president may be well considered when buying fuel. Menlo Park is being sold at a price with low profits to the retailers and for every dollar expended the buyer is assured of a full dollar's worth of efficiency. It may be obtained at $8 a ton delivered where required. Orders for delivery on September 1 may now be phoned to the Big One Fuel company, 1521 or 946-M at 484 Court street—Adv.

STICKING PLASTER WAS FULL OF GERMS

Washington, July 21.—The department of justice today warned against purchase of unapproved sticking plaster as the result of official reports on alleged German-poisoned court plasters which have appeared in western states.

Samples of the germ laden plasters are being examined, Assistant Attorney General William C. Pitts announced.

"There has been enough officially reported," he said, "pending further information, it would be well for the consuming public to use no remedies of this kind, except those obtained from approved sources of supply."

Pueblo, Colo., July 21.—A state wide search for two "court plaster plotters" is on today, following discovery by H. L. Craft, special federal investigator that two men, supposed agents of the Kaiser, have distributed inoculated court plasters in this section.

An analysis by Dr. C. W. Maynard, city bacteriologist, revealed the presence of millions of tetanus bacteria.

SOCIETY

Will Probe Plot to Convey Diseases

Kansas City, Mo., July 21.—Fred Robertson, United States District Attorney for Kansas, and associates today were bending every effort to reveal whether the alleged poison court-plaster plot, believed to have been started in Kansas to spread an epidemic of disease over that state, was part of an organized system of German terrorism propaganda.

Government bacteriologists have declared contained bacilli of tetanus. Other germs than tetanus were said to have been found on the little rectangles of plaster, but so far these have not been isolated.
