"Cocchi," says the telegraph, "is willing to pay the penalty for his crime," but who cares whether Cocchi is willing or not? What's that got to do with it anyway?

ARE YOU SICK, NERVOUS, RUN DOWN, TIRED OUT?

Do you feel that life is not worth the living? You have tried doctors, systems, plans all to no avail? Many residents of Salem who had given up hope, who felt that they would never be well again, have been restored to health by the work of Dr. O. L. Scott, Chiropractor.

Many testimonials of Dr. Scott's work have appeared in the daily papers. Quite a number of folks have been benefited, who have not expressed themselves in print, but who would be glad to add their testimony.

Do you want health? Call and see Dr. Scott. The consultation and his examination is free. There are no doubt neighbors and friends of yours whom he has helped.

Don't delay. Every day that you put it off is a day wasted.

Dr. Scott's office is on the Fourth Floor of the United States Bank Building

Church of God Holds Annual Camp Meeting

This year's gathering of the good people of the Church of God at their camp grounds in North Woodburn is one of the largest yet recorded, there being from 65 to 70 camps and over 250 campers from many sections of the Northwest. The interest manifested is very gratifying and especially pleasing to Rev. Oscar Lewis and Secretary Peter Chappell, who had worked hard for the splendid success of this year's camp. The sanitary conditions of this large camp are good and it is worth a visit just to see so many happy faces congregated in this grove.

People began arriving for camp early last week, but the meetings did not start until Thursday and have been growing in interest ever since. They will continue until after Sunday and Monday the crowds of over 80 families will begin. Among the visiting ministers are Evangelist E. G. Masters, who will make his home at Boise, Idaho; U. G. Clark, Eugene; Frank Van Lydegraft, Albany; J. J. Gillespie, Eugene; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Neal, Portland; Mrs. Olive Myers, Rainier; Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Brant, Rainier; James Bamford, Blaine; Wash; H. E. Holemb, Harrisburg, Ore.; Mrs. Carl Jarrett, Gladport, Ore.; Miss Viola Baskin, Portland; Rev. Mr. Knight, Shedd, Ore., and others.—Woodburn Independent.

CHARLES E. TAYLOR DIES

The death of Charles E. Taylor occurred at the home of his mother, Friday morning, July 21, tuberculosis being the cause of death. The family had just gotten located in the Hinkle property, moving to Hubbard from Silverton last week. Deceased was a member of the K. P. lodge and the remains were taken to the lodge room and prepared for burial. Arrangements for the funeral services, conducted in the lodge hall Sunday at 2 p. m., by Rev. T. Acheson, interment in the Hubbard cemetery.

Charles E. Taylor, son of Geo. W. and Rachel J. Taylor, was born in Clackamas county, near Seelye, August 21, 1872; died at Hubbard, Oregon, July 13, 1917, and his remains laid to rest in the family plot in the Hubbard cemetery.—Hubbard Enterprise.

D. L. C. were sold at public auction July 14, by the sheriff of Clackamas county, to satisfy a judgment against L. G. Gribble and W. H. Gribble in favor of the estate of Henry J. Miller.

A. H. Giesy, J. M. Will, A. W. Kraus and J. W. Sadler motored to Silverton yesterday to attend a meeting of the Willamette Valley Merchant's association.

George Miller was here Sunday from Portland to visit his parents. He has enlisted in the hospital corps for service in France, and his brother Andrew Miller has applied for enlistment in the same service.

Miss Emma J. Snyder returned this week from a trip to eastern Oregon where she visited lodges of the order of Pythian Sisters, of which she is grand chief of the state organization. She was the guest of Mrs. Cora M. Davis of Union, while there.

J. A. Kosmark, superintendent of the city water works, reports that the water supply in the city wells is now lower than at any time last year. The water in the river is not yet quite so low as last year, at its lowest stage but the continued dry weather will doubtless soon lower it to that point.

D. R. F. Giesy has been appointed instructor in the Red Cross work in Aurora, and if the auxiliary takes up first aid lessons, he will give those who desire it a series of lectures on the work, which is invaluable in any home, and something that every housekeeper should know. Dr. Giesy's appointment comes from the war department at Washington.

In what is known as the Aurora hop district there are only 150 acres under cultivation, whereas in the past the acreage has been about 2000. This is the average of 45 growers, most of whom have their hops contracted. An actual enumeration of the growers and their acreage shows that the Chinese growers remained in the business quite generally, and a large part of the acreage this year is theirs.—Aurora Observer.

BOUGHT 5,000 MOTORCYCLES Washington, July 21.—The war department today contracted for 5000 motorcycles for the new army with the Hendon Manufacturing company, Springfield, Mass., and the Harley Davidson company, Milwaukee, Wis.

SITUATION IN GERMANY ALARMING

She Is Short 600,000 Tons of Wheat and Crop Outlook Very Bad—Kaiser's Popularity Is Waning—Germany Interning Suspected Austrians and Situation Between Countries Is Tense

Washington, July 21.—Food shortage grows appreciably worse in Germany and there is such a dearth of war material she cannot last through another winter, according to cablegrams sent here through "reliable sources" from Americans recently in Berlin.

Other advice reaching the state department say Germany lacks six hundred thousand tons of wheat to reach the mid-August harvest and the crop prospects "are very poor."

These reports also go so far as to say the Kaiser's popularity is waning. They say that the German people see no hope for improvement over their present lot.

Authorities here see in Chancellor Michaelis' statement to the reichstag this week a determination by Germany to throw her full force into the balance at this time. Officials believe Germany's force is certain to wane from now on.

One of the American travelers reporting to the department today emphasizes the danger to war materials and believes Germany cannot be starved, despite the bad crops.

The situation between Germany and Austria-Hungary is reported as "tense" and it is added that Germany is even interning suspected Austrians.

COURT HOUSE NEWS

Judge Busby this morning set August 27 as the date for hearing the final account of the estate of Carroll E. Cummings, deceased.

An order confirming the sale of personal property in the estate of W. H. Edwards, deceased, was made by Judge Busby this morning. Consent to the sale had been given in an order given previously.

County School Superintendent Smith and mother, Mrs. Shirla Smith, of Marion, left Salem this morning for Portland. They will return this evening.

FOOD CONTROL BILL

"reasonable price for it." It establishes a food administration board of three members, one of them to be a practical farmer, to undertake the direction of fuel, food and feed control. Included along with fuel are kerosene and gasoline.

It establishes a minimum price of $2 a bushel on wheat until July 1, 1919, in order to encourage production of wheat and guarantee the farmer a profit. The $2 price will apply to high grade wheat with prices for other grades in proportion.

The bill establishes government control of coal from mine to consumer and fixes prices for it. It authorizes President Wilson to license wholesale dealers in enforcing the act.

At the last moment the senate rejected an amendment by Senator La Follette that would have authorized the president to commandeer the locomotives of all railroads and ships in domestic trade as a unit in directing shipments of goods.

The bill as passed by the senate is entirely different from that adopted by the house. The status of Herbert Hoover is changed to the extent that he will be one of a board of three "food dictators" instead of sole controller. The house, however, threatens to throw out the senate "hoard" plan and restore control to Hoover alone.

The senate bill allows the president to appoint the chairman of the board which will be Hoover.

A long fight in conference between the house and senate representatives threatens and it is probable both sides will be asked by the president to make concessions in order to expedite final passage of the bill.

Company M Will Stop Here On Its Way to Training Camp

Friends, relatives and sweethearts of the members of Company M, Third Oregon Infantry, will be given a chance to see the boys when they go through Salem on their journey to Palo Alto, Cal., where they will be given intensive training before being sent to France. This information was received by C. H. Jones, who wrote to Representative Hawley. The matter was taken up with Adjutant General McCain by Mr. Hawley. The adjutant replied by saying that he was making arrangements to allow all national guardsmen to see their homefolks before going south. This will be good news to Salem people, and plans for a rousing reception to the boys will be worked out as soon as possible to show that the home people appreciate the company to the fullest extent.
