

Kellogg's Krumbles
All Wheat Ready to Eat
ONE CENT A SERVING

KRUMBLES is true food economy. It is the whole of Durum wheat with every particle of this wonderful grain retained—all of the protein, phosphates, mineral salts and bran, cooked "krumbled" and delicately toasted.

Krumbles
has a delicious flavor that has been hiding in wheat for thousands of years. Children love it because the more they chew it the sweeter it tastes.

SOCIETY

By ALINE THOMPSON

MRS. CHESTER A. MOORES (Luella Moreland) of Portland is the guest of her parents, Judge and Mrs. J. C. Moreland.

Asabel Bush motored to Portland yesterday and was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. W. Melvin Plimpton and Milton Halley of San Francisco, California, who is en route home after a delightful visit to the Bushs at their summer place at Agate Beach.

Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Zedec J. Riggs motored to Eagle Creek, an attractive place on the Columbia Highway, and were accompanied by Mrs. Riggs' mother, Mrs. Janet Waller, Mrs. Margaret Mulkey and Mrs. G. A. Tow of Portland.

Miss Winifred Kerr of the extension department of the University of Oregon, will arrive in Salem Thursday, and will address the women of this city on food conservation Thursday afternoon, at the auditorium of the Commercial club at 2:30 o'clock.

The lecture will be given under the auspices of the food conservation committee of the Salem Woman's club.

This food conservation is of great importance to the country just now and it is every woman's duty to aid in the cause.

Salem women are always eager to do their share, and should therefore hear

Miss Kerr as her lecture will be very beneficial and of great value. If the interest is sufficient in Salem, Miss Kerr will remain over the week end and give talks on special topics, Friday and Saturday afternoons.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Lewis and daughters left today for Tillamook where they will enjoy a few weeks outing.

Miss Vivian Hargrove, who has been attending school at the Oregon Agricultural College, came home from Corvallis Saturday for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Harley White and family motored home Sunday evening from a few weeks outing at the Tillamook beaches.

Miss Lucile Moore, the young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Moore, has returned from Brownsville, where she has been visiting friends for the past week.

Dr. and Mrs. E. E. Fisher and Miss Mina Cook passed the week end in Newport.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Clough came home last night from Portland, where they have been enjoying a few days motor trip through the surrounding country.

Miss Ruby Baker left today for Hood River, where she has accepted a position with the Kresse Drug Co.

The marriage of Charles H. Schomaker of Hood River, formerly of Salem, to Miss Faith Dayton, took place in the former place on Saturday evening July the twenty-eighth, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dayton.

Mr. Schomaker who is the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schomaker of Salem, is assistant manager of the J. C. Penny store at Hood River.

Mrs. M. P. Mendelsohn and daughter Miss Ruth Mendelsohn, have returned from a sojourn at Newport.

Mrs. R. R. Bahn of Portland is visiting at the home of Mrs. Pascal Tragillo, 371 South Commercial street.

The visitor and Mrs. Tragillo were old friends in West Virginia.

Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Hopsop and their daughters, the Misses Zillah and Vivian Hopsop, of Oswego, Mich, have come to Salem to make their home and are with their daughters, Mrs. H. H. Hill and Mrs. M. D. Pilkinton for the time being.

Sunday they will all leave for an outing at Tillamook.

Miss Vivian Hopsop, who is a critic teacher in the normal school at Oswego will return to resume her work about the middle of August.

paredness and efficiency of our navy. It will do a great work."

Senator Chamberlain of the senate military committee:

"Unless there is a change in conditions along the battle line—and that shortly—there is no telling how long the war may be prolonged. America must be the deciding factor. Victory is sure to come to the allies, but it may be delayed unless America becomes thoroughly aroused and hastens to take her place in the forefront of battle."

Chairman Padgett of the house naval committee:

"I favor the allied blocking of the Skagerrak, helping Norway, Sweden and Denmark to protect their neutrality."

Chairman Dent of the house military committee:

"The most powerful blows to Germany's hopes of victory will be delivered by America's aircraft. Supremacy in the air will be given the allies by the United States in the coming year."

Chairman Howard Coffin of the aircraft production board:

"America will bring to the allied armies the unquestioned supremacy of the air. This will be her greatest single contribution to the vital cause of free nations."

Herbert Hoover, food administrator:

"The American people are now prepared to furnish the allies with food supplies during the coming year. We have been in the war but four months and had but little opportunity for preparation, yet, by intensive voluntary endeavor, we are assured an increasing our cereal production of more than 850,000,000 bushels above last year. There need be no fear that every pound of foodstuffs which can be transported by the allies will be available at our seaboard."

Hot Weather Makes Stock Gamblers Quit

New York, July 31.—The New York Evening Sun financial review today said:

The extreme heat and more or less psychological inconsistency on the subject of peace and its effect on the securities market took all the ginger out of what promised in the first hour or so to be a relatively active buying movement. Short covering and some quiet professional and semi-professional buying of stocks lifted the general industrial list to a materially higher level with the steel group in the lead.

In the second hour a good portion of the early gains were neutralized, not so much by liquidation as by the lack of new developments. Throughout the midday period trading was almost at a standstill but the undertone remained strong.

Strength in the steel stocks was induced also by the general expectation of an improved showing in the United States Steel quarterly statement of earnings, which was issued after the market closed.

The afternoon unsettlement developed into distinct weakness in the last hour. Not only were practically all gains wiped out, but in most cases piled up a fraction to a point or more below the previous closing, with partial recovery in the final stages. Steel receded below 124. There was nothing to account for the change in front unless it were sheer neglect brought about by the increasingly torrid weather.

That is an awful fight that is in progress at Chemin des Dames, and if one knew what "Chemin" means one could probably work the other part of the name for a good average pun.

UNLAWFUL IN OREGON LAWFUL ELSEWHERE

First Cousins May Be Legally Married Though It is Against State Law

First cousins may not marry in the state of Oregon, but if they go to a state where the law allows them to marry and a valid nuptial is contracted, then the marriage is valid in the state of Oregon, according to an opinion rendered this morning by the Oregon supreme court in the case of Otis D. Lee, appellant, against Elizabeth M. Lee, an action to declare the marriage void, appealed from the decree of Circuit Judge Calkins, who held that the marriage was valid. The supreme court affirmed the decree of the lower court.

When the suit came up before Judge Calkins in Josephine county, it was found that the couple was full first cousins, that they had gone from Oregon into Washington and were married at Vancouver, and that they went out of the state to evade the Oregon law which prohibited them from marrying. It was not shown that such a marriage was unlawful in Washington, and it was held that in order to be agood case it was necessary for the crime to have been committed in the state. The court also said that a divorce can only be granted on the causes specified in the statutes.

Other cases were as follows:

Oliver M. Hickey, appellant, against John B. Coffey, as county clerk of Multnomah county, an appeal from Multnomah county, an action to recover a U. S. Bank note in the sum of $100 taken from Paul Williams, alias Earl Carl, alias John R. Ainsley when he was arrested in Los Angeles, California, for obtaining money from Portland merchants under false pretenses; lower court reversed and case remanded by Justice Moore. Chief Justice McBride, Bean and McCannan concurred.

Other Opinions.

State of Oregon, appellant, against E. H. Amnden, respondent, appeal from Lake county, appeal from denurrer of defendant that circuit court has no jurisdiction; indiet for practicing practicing medicine without a license; judgment affirmed and Circuit Judge Knowles affirmed.

J. D. Halsey against J. D. Simmons, et al, appellants, appealed from Walla Walla county, an action in replevin, opinion by Justice Harris, Circuit Judge Knowles affirmed.

E. W. Riner, appellant, against Southwestern Surety and Insurance company, appeal from Multnomah county, motion to recall mandate allowed; opinion by Judge Harris.

First National Bank of Albany against Hazelwood company, appellant, appeal from Multnomah county, suit to construe a lease; opinion by Justice McCannan, Circuit Judge McGinn reversed.

California Trojan Powder company against Wadhams and company, appellant, appeal from Multnomah county, petition for rehearing, former opinion allowed; opinion by Chief Justice McBride.

Thomas Hodgson, et al, appellant, against James M. Curtin, appeal from Douglas county; action of forcible entry and detainer; appeal conditionally dismissed; opinion by Justice Moore.

Parker Steanek, trustee in bankruptcy for E. H. Dodge Lumber company, appellant, against J. K. Lumber company, appeal from Multnomah county, heard on rehearing; original opinion adhered to per curiam.

George Stanton Hollister, appellant, against Frederick Hollister, appeal from Coos county, action on the execution of a will; opinion by Judge Hays, Circuit Judge Coke affirmed.

erations tomorrow morning on the eight hour day basis for employees, led to the prediction today that all Tacoma mills would fall in line and will be running before the end of the week.

The report came from striking employees, who declared they had been told by officials of the company that the eight hour day would be granted.

Officials of the company would not comment on the subject.

As E. G. Griggs, president of the company, is a member of the Northwest Lumbermen's committee who has been directing the $500,000 anti-eight-hour day fight, the resumption of that strike in Tacoma and perhaps throughout southwest Washington.

Pressure brought by the State Council of Defense and by Dr. Carlton Parker, representative of the war department at the meeting of the council in Olympia Monday, is said to have had a big effect on the lumbermen.

This coupled with the fact that the list of Tacoma mills is steadily growing, is a big factor today in forcing Tacoma millmen to concede the demand of the timber workers.

Eleven Tacoma mills were on the list of those which either have granted the eight-hour day today or have promised to do so tomorrow.

Lumbermen are still holding out in the anti-eight hour day program are trying desperately today to stem the tide that has turned against them.

Since Monday four large Tacoma plants have announced the establishment of the eight hour day.

The Carstens Packing company which was closed by a strike of employees last week, resumed operations this morning.

BARR SAYS: Few People Realize

How large is the proportion of headaches directly due to strained eyes.

This is nature's danger signal. Unless the strain is relieved serious and permanent injury to the eyes will result. Children frequently suffer from eye strain without knowing the cause of it.

If your child has headaches find out the cause. Let me examine your child's eyes immediately. I will tell you if glasses are needed or not.

Under no circumstances allow your child to continue school work with strained eyes. Not only will the eyes be injured, but the whole nervous system will be affected by the strain.

In many cases I am able to advise you how to treat and care for your child's eyes in a way that will save him from being permanently dependent on glasses.

I make a reasonable charge for expert service.

GREAT BATTLE

es reeling backward today from the force of an unparalleled blow struck north of the River Lys.

French troops, cooperating with the British crossed the Ypres-Lille canal and swarmed over the enemy's first and second lines. Meanwhile British Tommies struck savagely and successfully, driving the foe back.

The British force captured LaBasseville in the first dash.

All counter attacks were repulsed here, as well as elsewhere.

This afternoon the victorious troops were consolidating their new gains.

The colossal battle begun in Flanders just before dawn in a mist and fog and under thick, low-lying clouds. The two forces, British and French, delivered a simultaneous blow.

First reports, coming in at the time this is enabled, indicate the advance is going well everywhere.

In the region of Ypres the British have taken the German system of front line trenches and at an early hour in the day were still advancing. Artillery is now moving forward at an extraordinarily rapid rate of progress.

Tanks were observed well in the forward van of the advance.

At 7:30 this morning when I passed headquarters both the British and French reports had detailed capture of many prisoners and a great quantity of booty.

With this titanic smash, the allies are now moving to the east, to the high ground beyond the bloody Yser.

The attack itself began at 4 a. m. The artillery fire and barrage preparation was absolutely unprecedented in its violence. It literally blasted away every vestige of the German front lines.

Heavy fighting accompanied every inch of the way forward from this front line. The Germans fought desperately. All over the ground concrete "pill boxes" as the Tommies have nicknamed the German machine gun turrets, poured their fire at the attackers.

The low lying clouds forced British aviators seeking out new artillery ranges and signalling for advance of the barrage, to fly very close over the enemy's trenches.

Fog clouds prevented British officers noting progress of the advance, but the airmen filled their places. The deadly accuracy of the barrage was due to the skill of the new artillery ranges.

It was plain the Germans had been expecting an attack and very shortly after the British and French jumped over the parapets their great guns roared so that windows forty miles distant rattled. As I conclude writing this dispatch there is an unending roar that even now shakes the Flemish village from which this is telegraphed.

The French are continuing their advance as rapidly as the British.

LaBasseville is located on the River Lys, a little less than three miles south east of Warneton and about three and a half miles north of Armentieres. From where authoritative reports last week placed the British lines, the capture of LaBasseville appears to indicate an advance of at least half mile.

Independence Loses Interesting Citizen; Mrs. Mary Gaines Dies

Independence, Or., July 31.—Independence lost one of her most interesting citizens Saturday morning when Mrs. Mary Ellen Looney Gaines, daughter-in-law of John Gaines, second territorial governor of Oregon, died at her home at 1 o'clock.

She was born in Independence, Mo., in 1838. Her ancestors were of Revolutionary stock.

Mrs. Gaines came on the first immigrant train that crossed the plains to Oregon. She left Independence, Mo., with her parents, May 22, 1842, and arrived in the Walla Walla valley the following October.

Mrs. Gaines' mother was the first white woman to come into the Walla Walla valley. Later the family moved to Salem.

Mrs. Gaines was the mother of a large family, all of whom except one being with her when she died. They are Chester Gaines, of Gates, Oregon; Richard Gaines, of Independence, Oregon; Wilbur Gaines, of Salem, Oregon; John Gaines, who is at sea; Mrs. Zepp Job, of Butte, Mont.; Mrs. Ida Wagner, of San Francisco, and Mrs. Frank Sims of Portland. Her husband passed away several years ago. She was 79 years old.

Funeral services were conducted Monday afternoon by Dr. H. C. Duns more. The remains were taken to Salem en draid to rest by those of her husband in the I. O. O. F. cemetery.

West Stayton

(Capital Journal Special Service)

West Stayton, July 31.—Our little town was saddened yesterday morning by the finding of the young son of T. Y. MacJelland lying by the side of his horse, both killed by a fall.

Grandma Giggy has gone to Washington on a visit with her sons in Everett for two or three months.

The grain and hay is short and scarce and if we don't get rain soon we will have a very small crop of potatoes.

The lumber company is still working. They loaded a car of wood and sent out this morning.

Mrs. Wygan has gone to Portland on a visit, to be gone several weeks.
