WHITE SOX HAVE LEAD OF REDS THREE GAMES

Standing Is White Sox .630, Reds .598—Giants Lead Nationals

*****
LEAD BY THREE GAMES
 *****
 Three full games now separate the White Sox and the Red Sox. If the White Sox win today and the Red Sox lose, the standing will be:
 Chicago .630; Boston .598
 The Giants are leading the National league by 136 points.
 *****

(By H. C. Hamilton)
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

New York, Aug. 10.—Lee Fohl, manager of the Cleveland Indians, believes his team will finish third. That's where his team stands today after a victory over the Yankees, while the Red Sox were resting.

"Pitchers are what I need," Fohl declared.

Two strong, husky heavers are drawing pay checks and they are nearly or quite the equal of anything in the league. Baby and Covaletskio would look good in any American league uniform.

But right there the resemblance to a championship pitching staff ends. Lambeth can twirl nicely at times, but not enough times to make him a star. Klepper has been an in and out. Gould needs developing and Joe Wood is still in the experimental stage. Guy Morton has made noises like a come back and if he ever succeeds in making it stick, the Indians will be far more troublesome than the bearers of their name have been for some years.

Fohl, aside from a pitching staff, has a team that would be figured as a pennant possibility. He has a fine outfield, one of the best catchers in the game and an outfield that ranks with the best. Harris, first baseman, is developing into a star.

An added pitcher would suddenly fling Cleveland into the suspense of waiting decisions for a pennant.

Another full game has been added to the Giant's National league lead and a half game has been piled into the White Sox accumulation. Evidence continues to pile up that these two clubs will do the figuring when the split comes in the world's series money.

Ex-Senator Works Says Not To Resist Law—But Resists It

San Francisco, Aug. 10.—Impeachment of the United States district attorney may be demanded by members of the People's Council as the result of the arrest of Attorney Daniel O'Conner while the council was in convention.

That steps will be taken at once was indicated by members of the council today after ex-Senator John D. Works had declared in a speech that, if the arrest was made for the purpose of intimidating those attending the council an offense had been committed which could lead to an impeachment of those officials involved.

"If the district attorney caused that arrest to be made for the purpose of intimidating you or me or for the purpose of interfering with free speech he went far beyond his duty and violated his office."

Works appealed to members of the council to be extremely careful of violating the law.

"Free speech has limits," he said, "and does not entitle us to talk treason. We are not claiming that right. I am not here to advise any young man to resist the law. I am here to say that if they think the law wrong they have a right to protest."

"I believe that the enactment of the law that put us into this war was wrong. We have everything to lose and nothing to gain and all we could gain would not be worth the life of one American boy."

Portland, Or., Aug. 10.—Warring Chinese tongmen locked up together in a big cell at the county jail are reaching a peace agreement after efforts of authorities and members of the Chinese Peace Society to secure a peace pact had failed.
