SAYS RUSSIANS WILL MAKE UNITED EFFORT

Kerensky Says Nation Will Sacrifice Everything In Defense of Republic

By William G. Sheppard (United Press staff correspondent) Moscow, Sept. 1.—Premier Kerensky sent word to the American people through the United Press today that he believes the Moscow conference has "shown the whole nation is preparing actively to make sacrifice for the country's defense."

"The national assembly," he told the United Press, "was convoked for two objects."

"First, it was considered necessary to get acquainted with the needs and opinions of the country and to tell the whole, bare truth to the representatives of all races apropos of Russia's crisis."

"Second, it was to impress on the national consciousness the necessity for union of all for defense of the country and of liberty."

"After consultation of the temporary government with about 2500 representatives of the people thus assembled I am confident both objects have been attained."

"Can the allies feel that Russia, as a result of the meeting, will continue vigorous warfare?" he was asked.

"We are convinced a majority of the people are overwhelmingly democratic and that the whole nation is preparing actively to make sacrifice for the country's defense," the premier declared.

"All sides are willing to make the concessions necessary for united effort," he added. "I am sure the nation's impassioned impulse resulting from learning the whole truth, will not fade away, but will burn with an ever increasing flame."

Commercial Club Wants Work On Locks Completed This Year

An appropriation of $80,000 was voted by Congress for the improvement of the locks at Oregon City, whereby it would be made possible for boats of larger size and drawing deeper water to pass through the locks as at all times of the year.

But there seems to be danger of the work being delayed due to it is said to the efforts of individuals and private corporations. The work of deepening the locks was started but just now the government has a crew ready, but no work is being done.

At a meeting of the directors of the Commercial club held today noon, resolutions were passed to send to the U. S. engineers at Washington and also to the Oregon congressmen urging that the work be continued.

With a lock that would permit larger boats on the river at all times of the year, it is thought that Salem would be in a better position to secure a lower freight rate.

Wheat Prices Unsteady But Will Settle Soon

For the farmer who would like to figure out what wheat will be worth should Chicago be accepted as the only primary market, D. A. White gives the following information: The freight rate from Salem to Chicago in bulk is $10 a ton, or half a cent a pound. As a bushel of wheat weighs 60 pounds, that would figure 30 cents a bushel to get it to Chicago.

But wheat from the valley is generally shipped in sacks and the average cost of a sack per bushel is six cents. Then while Blue steam is quoted at $2.29 in Chicago, yet the valley wheat is generally of a grade to sell about ten cents less a bushel than the Blue stem. Then of course the dealer is entitled to some margin for handling.

The Blue stem quotation in Portland today is $2. With these figures, while the market is attempting to steady, the farmer may figure out what he is entitled to for his valley wheat.

Commission Suspended Increase of Some Rates

Washington, Sept. 1.—The interstate commerce commission today suspended until December 30, 1917, the operation of rate increases on flour and other grain products from Minneapolis, Minn., to Chicago and other lake Michigan ports for transportation via the Great Lakes Transit corporation to eastern destinations. The present proportional rates on flour from Minneapolis to Chicago for local delivery in New York is 8.3 cents per hundred pounds and the proposed rate is 9.3 cents.

Some Increase Permitted. Washington, Sept. 1.—The interstate commerce commission today suspended proposed commodity rate increases on railroads throughout the east until December 30, 1917.

A selected list of commodities is named, for which increases will be allowed. This list includes alcohol, cotton, grain, iron ore, leather, livestock and sugar.

Initiative Measure for 1918 Election

The first initiative measure for the general election of 1918 was filed yesterday afternoon with Secretary of State Oleott for approval as to form for circulation. It deals with the closing of all streams in the state to fishing with seines, traps, or fish wheels.

The measure is submitted by Charles C. Babcock, of Oregon City, street superintendent of that city.

This is the first measure to be submitted under the new law which provides that the ballot title of the measure shall be drafted by the attorney general before it is circulated. It also provides that the county clerk shall

State House News

Three fatal accidents were reported to the state industrial accident commission during the past week, according to the weekly report of the commission. The fatalities were Andrew Denholm, Portland, miller; Alex Aniska, Knappa, logger; Stefan Kuleshevich, Knappa, logger. The total number of accidents reported was 458 of which 385 were subject to the compensation act.

The public service commission this morning denied the application of the railroads of Oregon for an increase of fifteen cents a ton on coal shipments within the state. The matter has been before the commission for some time and the coal dealers of the Coos Bay country were opposed to the increase as it is declared it would hurt their business.

The Portland Galvanizing Works filed a certificate of increase of capital from $25,000 to $35,000 with the corporation commissioner this morning.

Ed Wright of La Grande, who was elected secretary of the public service commission a month ago, took up the duties of his office this morning. He was formerly county clerk of Union county and was a candidate in the primaries for the republican nomination for public service commissioner from eastern Oregon against H. H. Corey. Ed Ostrander, who has held the position of secretary for the past year, resigned to take up some other work. He was formerly an examiner for the commission.

Application was made today to the public service commission by the Portland Railway, Light and Power company for permission to increase its fares on city lines from five cents to six cents. The company claims that with its present rate of income that it is insufficient to pay the cost of maintenance and the demand for increasing salaries all around. Besides, the company states that the cost of operation, material, supplies, labor, etc., has increased and that this year the company is giving 13.4 per cent more service than it did last year.

Miss Mabel Nicholson and Miss Nell Bell, stenographers in the corporation department at the state house, left Salem this afternoon for a short vacation at the coast. They expect to remain over Labor day, which is next Monday. They left for Portland today.

certify to the names as to whether or not they are legal voters, and if the names are not on the registration list then the names can be certified to by affidavit of a notary public. Heretofore, the ballot title was drafted by the attorney general after the petitions were circulated, and the secretary of state certified to the names. It requires 22,553 names to initiate a measure.

The proposed bill states that it will be unlawful to fish for salmon in the waters of the state of Oregon after January 1, 1919, by means of seines, traps, or fish wheels. A fine of not less than $100 or more than $1000 is provided for violation.
