President Wants Insurance at $10,000

Washington, Sept. 4.—President Wilson wants soldiers and sailors to have $10,000 government insurance. In a letter to Representative Adomson, Georgia, he expressed the hope today that the limit for life insurance available would not remain at $5,000 to which figure it was cut in committee.

The president wrote: "I am glad to express to you and through you to the committee on interstate and foreign commerce of the house my sincere gratification at the favorable report the committee has just made on the bill granting family allowance, indemnities and life insurance for the officers and enlisted men of the army and navy; and the hope that the proposed figure may receive the prompt approval of the congress."

State Superintendent Churchill Hopes to Secure $15,000 Aid for Vocational Work

State Superintendent of Public Instruction Churchill is back from Washington, D. C., where he met with representatives from every state in the United States in connection with the U. S. Board of Vocational Education. The object of the meeting was to outline a policy for distributing the money appropriated by congress for the furthering of vocational education. The whole matter was discussed and an agreement was reached as to the standards that would be required where a school desires to match local money with the federal appropriation.

There was some doubt as to whether or not Oregon could secure its apportionment of $15,000 because the legislature adjourned before this bill became law. However, Oregon was told to go ahead and prepare a plan under the requirements set up by the board and submit not later than September 20. If this plan meets with the approval of the federal board it will probably make the money available for Oregon this year.

Superintendent Churchill expressed himself this morning as confident that the measure remedying the Oregon deficiency will go through the senate. He has placed the matter before Senators McNary and Chamberlain and they have promised to do all they can for it.

There are three lines of vocational teaching that will be followed. They are: 1. Training teachers for vocational educational work; 2. Industrial education; and 3. Agricultural education. The money appropriated by the federal government goes to high schools and not to colleges, except for the training of these teachers. Superintendent Churchill expects to call a meeting of the state board of vocational education soon so that a plan can be formulated.

*****

Since last Friday, the following work has been turned in at the Red Cross headquarters, room 418 U. S. National Bank building:

From Rickreall—8 four tailed pieces, 18 abdominal bandages, 18 T-bandages, 10 knitted washrags, 17 triangular pieces and 7 suits of pajamas.

From the Three Links auxiliary of Salem—124 triangular bandages and 10 operating gowns. Donations from this auxiliary were 15 napkins, 12 handkerchiefs and 13 emergency dressings.

From the Stayton auxiliary—50 pair bed socks and 88 towels. The auxiliary donated 32 handkerchiefs.

From the Presbyterian auxiliary of Salem—2 dozen T-bandages.

From St. Paul's Episcopal church auxiliary of Salem—70 triangular bandages and 4 dozen four tailed pieces.

Red Cross headquarters for children have been established at Toul, France. In one of the villages formerly occupied by the Germans, children were found in old barracks, unfurnished, with no sanitary appliances and the sick and well all herded together. Twenty-one of the children were under the age of one year and all were less than eight years of age. From the several villages 750 children were collected and taken to the Red Cross headquarters at Toul where sanitary quarters and proper food were given them.

Under the law, the Red Cross emblem can only be used by authority. It cannot be used for the manufacture and sale of buttons or emblems except upon such authorization. Many novel houses have issued large quantities of Red Cross pins, post cards and devices. Another abuse of the Red Cross emblem is on the covers of patriotic songs and magazines. The law provides that it shall be unlawful for any person or corporation other than the American National Red Cross to use the emblem of the Greek Red Cross on a white ground, or any sign or insignia made in imitation thereof, or to use the words Red Cross or combination of these words.

AEROPLANES RAID BRITISH NAVAL BASE

Official Report Says 108 Are Killed, 86 Wounded—May Have Blown Up Ship

London, Sept. 4.—German aeroplanes last night raided the Chatham Sheerness area of England (Chatham is a British naval base and Sheerness is a naval and military depot) inflicting what were officially described today as "naval casualties," totaling 108 dead and 86 wounded.

On the late of Thanet the raiders killed one and wounded six other persons.

About six enemy aeroplanes followed the south bank of the Thames from 10:40 to 11:30 last night," the official statement said. "Our machines rose and anti-aircraft guns were in action without results."

Chatham contains immense military and naval establishments, docks, barracks, engineer schools and immense fortifications.

Sheerness is also a strongly fortified seaport, the naval arsenal of England. It likewise has great docks.

The size of the "naval casualties" reported indicates that the German raiders' bombs blew up something—possibly a ship or some of the buildings in the two great bases.

Chatham is about 25 miles from London. It is at the lower point of the River Medway, which flows from the River Thames at the point where Sheerness is located.
