Prices Vacillating But Trend Is Upward New York, Sept. 7.—The New York Evening Sun financial review today said: While there was a good deal of shifting about in prices in today's stock market, the general trend was upward after a sharp decline in the steel and shipping shares brought about by the shipping board's announcement with respect to ocean freight rates. Mercantile marine common dropped more than three points, the preferred lost 3 1/2 points and Atlantic, Gulf and West Indies yielded five points. There was little change in United Fruit. $840,000,000 MORE TO COME FROM INCOMES

Senate Adopted Committee's Plan Making This Increase—Exemptions Remain

Washington, Sept. 7.—Without a record vote, the senate late today adopted the finance committee's income tax section of the war revenue bill. The committee plan will raise $840,000,000 revenue from incomes additional to the sums raised under existing income laws. Senator Trammell's amendment to increase exemptions from $1,000 for single men to $2,000, and from $2,000 for married men to $3,000 was defeated.

Washington, Sept. 7.—The senate today again defeated wealth conscriptionists by rejecting 19 to 55 Senator LaFollette's amendment increasing income tax rates so as to raise $643,000,000 more than the finance committee's plan.

LaFollette's amendment provided for a fifty per cent surtax upon incomes of $1,000,000 or more, but its heaviest increases were put upon incomes between $50,000 and $100,000. By a vote of 25 to 51 the senate then rejected the Hollis amendment adding $80,000,000 to the income tax levy proposed by the finance committee. The Hollis amendment would have increased rates on incomes between $25,000 and $50,000.

The senate rejected the Hardwick amendment to pay soldiers in foreign service a bonus of $50 a month. The vote was five to 74.

CITY NEWS

There was no rain for 31 days in July and none for 31 days in August and none for six and one half days in September. This ends the story of the driest summer within the memory of the oldest inhabitant, for although the dry spell during the summer of 1914 covered 72 days, the drought of this summer was of a different kind, with more sunshine and less dew and less fog.

The government service seems to be greatly in need of clerical help as well as stenographers and typewriters. An examination will be held in Seattle, September 28, to fill positions in the clerical department of the Internal Revenue service at from $800 to $1200 a year. Those interested might write for application blanks to the secretary of the local board of Civil Service examiners, Salem, or to the Secretary of the Eleventh Civil Service district, 303 Postoffice building, Seattle, Wash.

Miss Olive Mark, and her father, of Sheridan, were in Salem yesterday to bid goodbye to Ray Mark, who passed through here with a troop of cavalry on its way to Charlotte, North Carolina, where the Oregon troops will be mobilized for final training before going across the Atlantic. The movement of Oregon troops is being accomplished without notes as to the leaving of any of the units, and it may surprise some to know that a considerable number of men have left for the south already. Ray Mark was a student at the Willamette University college of law and was practicing law at Sheridan before he enlisted.

O. A. C. to Select County Agriculturist

Judge Bushey said this afternoon that the appointment of the county agriculturist would be made by the Oregon Agricultural college, as provided by law. Who the appointee will be, or when the appointment would be made, when issues sold down more than a point. The motor stocks were again subject to bear raids, particularly General Motors, which gave way nearly seven points on top of yesterday's decline of five points. The rails were not especially affected by the decline in the industrial and later most of them made substantial gains.

Advices Women to "Can All They Can"

Besides knitting for the Red Cross, it behooves the good house keeper to put in a lot of her extra time canning. The more she cans, the more she will be doing her share to reduce the high cost of living during the winter months. A prominent grocer who has a faculty of guessing about 100 per cent right on many of the grocers' problems, says now that it is too late to can peas, the good housekeeper should get busy canning corn and fruits. The government will take from 12 to 18 per cent of the packers' output of all kinds of packed goods. Then there is a shortage in many lines and the grocermen will probably be shipped barely three fourths of their orders. Canned goods will sell this winter from 15 to 20 per cent higher than a year ago and many standard lines are expected to run short.

MILLION AND A HALF UNDER ARMS IN MONTH

Washington, Sept. 7.—Two million men in active service and training camps by June 30 is the plan of the war department. Another draft of 500,000 men this winter is planned.

A HIT IS AS GOOD AS A MISS—Providing of course that the German picks out the wrong target which he should for it is not possible to detect the difference between this "camouflage" soldier and the real trooper. The designer and builder of this paper mache soldier is J. Burgess, a rookie officer at Fort Sheridan, Ill, who is seen in the photo.

RED CROSS BULLETINS

Willamette Chapter, American Red Cross Business Office and Supply Department, Room 418 U. S. National Bank Building

LOCAL RED CROSS IS ABOUT OUT OF FUNDS

Cannot Ask for Money So Has Hopes Some Person or Persons Will Donate

Willamette chapter, American Red Cross, with headquarters in the U. S. National bank building isn't exactly broke, but it is entirely out of funds and money is needed to buy the thousands of yards of materials being called for every day by the one hundred or more auxiliaries with their 5,000 busy women. Unlike other patriotic organizations, the Red Cross is not allowed to ask for money. The higher ups in the Red Cross take the stand that patriotic citizens will care for its workers without the necessity of going out and begging for funds.

Hence, those in charge of the active work in the city would feel especially grateful if some patriotic person or persons would take note of its empty treasury. For the fact is, Willamette Chapter is entirely out of money, and at the same time materials must be supplied for the 5,000 patriotic women who are making hospital supplies.

Although the chapter is entitled to 25 per cent of the Red Cross War Fund, it is not available at present, as this fund must come from Washington and everybody knows that the old time red tape officials at Washington move slowly.

There is urgent need for the money at once not only for the feeding of troops that are expected to pass through the city soon, but for aid in supporting dependent families of soldiers and in funds necessary for the University of Oregon base hospital.

It might be said for the benefit of those who wonder who is doing all this Red Cross work, that no salaries are paid, the rooms in the U. S. bank are donated and that the whole organization is run at scarcely any expense whatever.

Mrs. Marie McGuire an Oregonian pioneer, is one of the latest members of Willamette Chapter, A. B. C. She is 88 years old and felt she should do her bit by joining and assisting in the knitting of woolen socks.

It is all right to make money for the Red Cross by giving a show or supper or some kind of benefit but there is a certain Red Cross etiquette, established in Washington, as to how it is announced. For instance, it is proper to announce that a show or supper will be given "for the benefit" of the American Red Cross, but it is all wrong to say "under the auspices of the Red Cross."

Since Willamette Chapter with its auxiliaries began work, it has made into hospital supplies 25,080 yards of materials. The Murphy Honor auxiliary came in a few days ago with 13 new members and the Dallas auxiliary, with 19. The Airie auxiliary made a record by its 52 new members and the donating of 32 handkerchiefs.

The following work has been brought to headquarters within the past few days: From Mehana: 24 abdominal bandages, 2 triangular bandages, 11 napkins, 600 men this winter is planned.

This became known today when statements of Secretary Baker and expert advisers before the recent hearings of the house appropriations committee were printed as a public document.

By October tenth, the department expects to have 1,500,000 under arms. If sufficient equipment and accommodations have been obtained for these men, another draft will be recommended to the president. All war department estimates were asked by Secretary Baker and granted by the committee, on the assumption that the president will issue the call.

There are about a million men under arms today—soldiers, militia and marines. When the first draft mobilization is completed there will be over 1,500,000 men, another draft this winter will complete the two million men expected.

State House News

Teachers in the public schools of the state of Oregon cannot resign their positions within thirty days of the opening of school or during the period of the school term without the consent of the school board, according to a law passed by the 1917 legislature.

This feature of the new law has been overlooked by some teachers and several notices of resignations have been sent in to State Superintendent of Public Instruction Chutehill. A provision of the law requires the state superintendent to cancel the certificate of a teacher who resigns without consent of the school board within the thirty day limit or the school term period. This is mandatory on him and is not discretionary.

The contract of the teacher with the school board is a legal contract and therefore can not be terminated without due notice. The superintendent has called the attention of the teachers to this part of the law and will require them to be on hand to teach when school opens.

Bids are being advertised for by the state highway commission for the second bond issue of $300,000 of the six million dollar issue voted for road purposes by the people at the special election in June. The bids will be opened on September 12 and the Irwin-Holston company of Portland have promised to have the bonds ready for delivery by September 15.

The advertisements appear in The Bond Buyer, of New York, the Record Abstract of Portland, and the Pacific Banker, of Portland. The bonds are four per cent, non registered and straight all-bearing. It is the plan of the commission to get the bonds sold before the new liberty loan bonds are put on the market.

Governor Withycombe yesterday received the resignation of Dr. M. B. Marcellus as a member of the state board of health. Dr. Marcellus is at present stationed with the headquarters sanitary troop at Clackamas, and has been compelled to resign his membership upon the board of health because of his military services.

Governor Withycombe is appointing Dr. F. M. Brooks of Portland to succeed Dr. Marcellus. This appointment is in line with the others made by Governor Withycombe to fill vacancies caused through absence from office on military duty, and is for the duration of Dr. Marcellus' absence on military duty.
