Members of Highway Commission Has Hearing On Polk County Route

Dallas, Or., Sept. 13.—E. J. Adams one of the state highway commissioners was in Dallas, Tuesday and conducted a hearing in the circuit court room of the Polk county court house relative to the location of the West Side Pacific highway through this county. Interested parties were present from every district in the county and strong arguments were made favoring the location of the highway by the Ballston-Dallas route. This line would tap a much more productive district than other routes that have been placed before the commission and would cost much less to build as there are no steep grades to speak of. There is also some talk of building the highway on a direct line through the county and if this is done it will leave Dallas on a side line which is contrary to the bill as voted on and as passed by the legislature at its last session. Whitney Boice of Portland, an extensive land owner in Polk county made a plea of justice to this community to have the road run directly through Dallas and he was backed by other speakers who spoke on the same line. Dr. B. H. McCullon of this city made a forceful talk in behalf of the Ballston-Dallas route. The commission will make a decision at an early date as to the location of the highway but it is highly probable that the route chosen will be the one through the Salt Creek valley.

To Hunt on Trask River.
Circuit Judge Harry H. Bell, Attorney John R. Sibley, Dick Layton and John E. Miller leave this afternoon for North Yamhill where they will start on a 10-day hunting trip to the head water of the Trask River. Numerous boys have been made by the party as to the number of deer they will secure.

Former Dallas Boy Enlists.
Chester Zumwalt of Newberg, son of Mrs. J. V. Chitty of this city is here for a short visit with his mother after which he will go to Portland and enlist in the United States Marine corps.

Dallas Couple Still Missing.
No news has been received by the anxious relatives and friends in this city from the searching party that left Dallas early Monday morning for the Tillamook coast to look for the bodies of E. R. Viers and Mrs. W. A. Graham who were supposed to have been drowned one day last week in or near Tillamook Bay, stating as to whether the bodies of the boat in which the couple were last seen had been found. A message received last Monday from Harry B. Viers, a cousin of the missing man, and one of the members of the work on a scaffold of ten hour lumber, he'll walk out.

"All the shipyards here are using 10-hour lumber now," declared Brown. "Besides these shipyard workers, members of the building trades are laying down their tools on dozens of other jobs throughout the city where lumber products are involved," declared Brown. The union mill and timber workers, who are striking for an eight hour day, received the endorsement of the building and Metal Trades union some time ago.

The action taken today, their representatives pointed out, will show conclusively that the mill strike is a union movement and not an I. W. W. affair, as the employers are alleged to have attempted to make it appear.

100 Mutinied.
San Francisco, Sept. 13.—More than 100 strikebreakers in one of the United Railroads barns mutinied early today.

already informally sounding out the Swedish foreign office as to that government's attitude toward the Luxburg affair, Sweden is expected to formally take a stand soon.

Calls United States "Thief"
London, Sept. 13.—The German people have not yet been permitted by their government to know that Count Luxburg called an Argentine foreign official a "notorious ass" nor have they been given any details at all of the German charge's Machiavellian messages.

Dispatches from Germany, received via Holland, today indicated the newspapers there had been permitted to publish only a general reference to the whole episode. Instead, the German government apparently sought to twist the matter into an attack on the American government for "stealing diplomatic dispatches."

The Cologne Gazette's comment was typical. It printed a Holland dispatch dismissing the Luxburg correspondence with the brief mention:

"Three specimens of correspondence contain confidential communications regarding public feeling in Argentina, one a report on the negotiations growing out of the sinking of the Argentine ships and suggestions for future treatment."

The remainder of the article is an assault on the American state department for its "theft."

The newspaper declares the apparent reason for making the dispatches public is to influence Argentine.

"This is a fit companion piece to Wilson's exploitation of our Mexico message," the editorial continued. "It seems to be part of an American specialty which has a preference for dealing with stolen documents."

The Voessische Zeitung expressed conviction that American attempts to create friction between Germany and Argentine would fail.

MONMOUTH DRILLS MORE WELLS TO SUPPLY CITY
Monmouth, Or., Sept. 13.—Faced with a shortage of city water caused by the partial failure of the one city well, the Monmouth city council has drilled two more wells in the vicinity of West Main street. Each of these wells is 100 feet deep and the water has risen to the surface.

BEON PRUNE DRYING
Prune drying will begin at Riddle in a few days and from present indications the crop will be quite large. The fruit appears to be heavy and meaty and will dry heavy, the growers predict. The Drager, Gile and Arnsby companies have bought the entire crop of Riddle and vicinity, at the best prices growers have received for many years. Some of the buyers paid as much as 8½ cents, orchard run.—Roseburg Review.

RUSH WORK ON CHAPEL
Monmouth, Or., Sept. 13.—Work on the addition to the chapel of the Oregon normal school is being rushed in order to have it completed in time for the opening of school, September 24. The seating capacity of the new auditorium will be nearly 1000, approximately twice what it was. The senior cottage is also nearing completion.

Diarrhoea Remedy
This is a medicine that every family should be provided with. Colic and diarrhoea often come on suddenly and it is of the greatest importance that they be treated promptly. Consider the suffering that must be endured until a physician arrives or medicine can be obtained. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has a reputation second to none for the quick relief which it affords. Obtainable everywhere.

PIC CLUB WILL HAVE BIG EXHIBIT AT FAIR
Manager Carleton Says at Least 200 Porkers Will Be Shown

According to reports received by E. P. Carleton, manager of the educational department of the Oregon state fair, the boy engaged in the pig club work of the state will have on exhibit not less than 200 pigs at the state fair. The counties of Marion and Umatilla will send the largest number. In Marion county the work has received a great stimulus through the efforts of D. W. Eyre, of the United States National bank. Early in the spring Mr. Eyre loaned to 55 boys in Marion county $10 each. Each boy bought a pig, paying from $3 to $5. The balance of the money was used to pay for feed. This feed, together with the scraps and skim milk on the farm, provided sufficient food to raise the pigs. Every boy who took part in the club project was successful and will have his pig on exhibition at the state fair, including 10 other boys who did not find it necessary to borrow the money.

These pigs will average 250 pounds, and the market today is 15½¢, making an average price of $38.75, or a profit of nearly $30 on each pig.

The pig club projects have been under the special direction and management of L. J. Allen of the Oregon Agricultural college, who travels out from the college, organizing the pig clubs and assisting the boys by giving them proper instructions as to how to raise their pigs.

Police were called, but withdrew when the strikebreakers barricaded themselves in the barns and refused to be ousted. A "loyalist" group of strikebreakers, imported from New York, and led by Jack Cohn, professional strikebreaker, also failed to oust the mutineers.

United Railroads officials then ordered the food supply of the mutineers cut off.

The board visited the Madison Street and Fremont barns this morning and was scheduled to investigate the Georgetown barns this afternoon.

"We expect to show on these visits," said Charles A. Reynolds attorney for the employees, "that the men are not agitating one another when they testify on the witness stand to the various ways in which the company exploits them."

Reynolds called the attention of the arbitrators to the fact that the motormen and conductors spend from 10 to 15 minutes at the beginning of each run and the same length of time at the end of the run, in adjusting the car, and that they receive no pay for this time.

"It means," he said, "that the company receives a half hour's labor from every employee every day for which it pays nothing."

He also produced evidence to show that no matter how long a man is in the employ of the company, if he quits and later returns to work he starts in at apprentice pay and that it will take him six years to reach the maximum wage.
