SOCIETY

By ALANE THOMPSON

THE big jitney dance to be given at the armory on Saturday night for the benefit of the Company M is swinging well on toward success, and as the date draws near the affair figures more and more importantly.

The benefit just now is engrossing much time and energy of the group of women sponsoring it, and it most certainly is Salem's duty to turn out en masse and make it a huge success. Not only does the affair give promise of a good time for the dancing contingent but for everyone else for that matter.

There of course will be plenty of good music, and besides, one or two delightful features, which will call forth unusual interest among those who attend.

A small admission fee of ten cents will be charged along with a jitney for every dance, and there also will be plenty of other things for one to spend one's money for, such as candy, drinks etc.

From every standpoint the affair will be one well worth attending.

Washington Street Excavating Nearly Done

The work of grading Washington street between Commercial and Fir streets is nearly completed. It has proved to be one of the hardest bits of excavating work the city has had.

The presence of a vast quantity of large boulders most of which had to be blasted. The side streets are filled with these big fellows which will be used by the city in filling in places where Mill creek hits the roadways, and if they won't stop any wear and tear on its part, then it can't be done.

The curbing has been placed from Fir street to the alley between it and Saginaw, and with the continuance of good weather the work should be well along by the end of the week. The street from Fir to Commercial is to be paved with concrete the asphalt covering being too slippery for use on the grade.

Italians In Air Raid

Washington, Oct. 9.—Italian aeroplanes bombed Cattaro early today, inflicting severe damage to Austrian destroyers and submarines in the harbor, cables to the Italian embassy stated.

Fires were started in military storehouses. Although several of the big Caproni planes were riddled by Austrian batteries, all returned safely across the Adriatic to their base.

Salem music lovers anticipate with pleasure the evening of music to be given by Mrs. Vera Schnapp Frickey tonight at 8:30 o'clock at the Methodist Episcopal church, on South Commercial street.

Dr. Frank Wilbur Chace will assist Mrs. Frickey, has delighted Salem audiences with her excellent pianistic work, but at no time have her selections been so difficult a test of musicianship as those of this evening's programme. The Chopin E Minor Concerto, in three movements, Romance Larghetto and Rondo Vivace has been featured by Moritz Rosenthal, prince of technicians, in his great orchestral programmes, both in America and Europe. It is replete with technical intricacy, tremendous climaxes and exquisite tonal effects, and requires forty-five minutes for performance. With the masterful work of Dr. Chace in the orchestral portions, an excellent performance of the entire composition is assured.

Germany Is Facing Fuel and Gas Shortage; Coal Supply Inadequate

Washington, Oct. 9.—Germany, facing a coal and gas shortage, plans to crowd school children into fewer rooms, limit heating water for bathing purposes and urge housewives to use fireless cookers. The Hague consular advises today which carried this information declared that coal production in the central empires had decreased enormously, due to labor shortage and transportation congestion. Reserve stocks have been exhausted.

School for Feeble Minded Will Be Over Crowded

In discussing this morning, the care of a feeble-minded girl whom the county court is asked to take care of, it was disclosed that the new building at the school for the feeble-minded would be completed in about six weeks. It was also stated that when it was ready to receive its charges that the management of the state hospital for the insane had enough patients belonging in this class whom it was calculating to turn over to the school, to over-load it; and that there would be no room for the list of applicants now waiting. It is probable this matter will be taken up with the board and if possible have some arrangement made that will leave at least part of the building open for those now in charge of the various county courts which are awaiting the completion of the building to send them to the school.

A MISSIONARY OUTING

The members and friends of the Missionary society of the First Christian church enjoyed a rare treat Friday afternoon when more than forty of them took an auto trip out to the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Cernik, of Fruitland and were entertained for the afternoon by Mr. and Mrs. Cernik, who presented informally the many curious and beautiful things Mr. Cernik had collected in his years of government service in the Philippines and trips around the world. They possess a great collection of natural and man-made things. Things from the sea life and land animals, beautiful carved tables, chairs, and many small articles for ornament and service. It is impossible to describe the worthy beautiful fine embroideries, table linens and draperies. It is equally difficult to picture fine hand-painted Chinese and oriental kimonos and wedding garments made from oriental fabrics. The hideous and grotesque little heathen gods made us appreciate our religion of the living God, and the musical numbers instrumental and vocal furnished by Mr. Cernik and Mrs. Cernik's sister added an unusual and appreciative feature to the program.

After refreshments made pleasing by the rare china on which they were served we found we must close the afternoon's pleasure if we would reach Salem at a reasonable hour and drove away with well stored memories and happy hearts.

Portland Unions Refuse to Accept Mediation

Portland, Or. Oct. 9.—Both strikers and employers in the shipyard tieup here today were awaiting the arrival of the shipyard labor adjustment board, now in Seattle to settle their differences.

Efforts of Federal Mediator G. Y. Harry today evidently had failed completely. After a week of almost daily conferences, the strikers and employers were even unable to reach a temporary agreement whereby the yards could reopen until the federal board had permanently adjusted the issues.

Harry's proposal that the men return to work on the basis of the San Francisco scale, accepted by the employers with minor changes, was turned down by the unions.

Union leaders today are arranging for a mass meeting of all unions engaged in either steel or wooden shipbuilding when the situation will be discussed. The date for the meeting had not been set.

Pittsburgh, Pa. Oct. 9.—The horribly slashed body of a man found dead in the Duquesne yards of the Pennsylvania railroad here last night was identified as that of John M. Wilson, of Sheridan, today, Wilson was the engineer of the Naptha train that blew up in the Sheridan yard fifteen years ago spreading fire and causing death and injury to more than 100 people.
