SOCIETY

By ALINE THOMPSON

ALL important on the social calendar for this week is the dance to be given tomorrow night at the "Hilabee Country club."

The group of untrons to whom the members of the club and society are indebted for this affair have been spending the greater part of their time this week at the links, decorating and doing the thousand and one things that have to be done before the opening.

That their efforts are appreciated, is evinced by the enthusiasm and interest that society is taking in the affair. Needless to say there will be a number of out of town guests here and many smart new gowns.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon McGilchrist and Henry E. Bolinger will go to Portland tomorrow to join Mrs. Bolinger, who has been spending several days there visiting her son and daughter.

in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bolinger. They will remain in Portland for the week end.

The marriage of Miss Esther Anderson to Hugh Trunnell of Cottage Grove, Oregon, took place yesterday at 2:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Anderson, on Salem Heights. Rev. Carl H. Elliott of the First Presbyterian church performing the ceremony.

The young couple were unattended and the ceremony was attended only by relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Trunnell left in their car for Cottage Grove, where they will make their home.

Yesterday afternoon the members of the P. E. O. Sisterhood gathered at the home of Mrs. Gerald Volk for an informal afternoon of sewing. The time was devoted to Red Cross work and later dainty refreshments were served. Mrs. William Chambers of Portland formerly a resident of Salem, left Thursday evening for Woodburn, where she will visit for a few days before returning home. While in Salem Mrs. Chambers was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. James Batchelor and Mrs. William Anderson.

The food conservation division of the food administration is asking all housekeepers to do a lot of thinking and managing these days.

If fresh fruit is used instead of pies, puddings and cakes this season, it will mean a great saving of flour, sugar and lard, while vegetables to a large extent can take the place of meat.

We will lose nothing by this substitution, for we, as a nation, eat far too little fruit and vegetables. We tolerate, for instance, a dish of sliced fruit for breakfast, but if we have the same dish served for dessert at dinner we feel we have been cheated.

This is an attitude of mind that the housekeeper must discourage. But, of course, do not tamper with your family's temper by serving sliced fruit every dessert. Write today to the department of agriculture, Washington, D. C. for Farmers' Bulletin 293. This is full of suggestions as to how to serve fruit simply and attractively—Oregonian.

At the meeting of the North Salem Woman's club on Wednesday, Mrs. Guy Smith was appointed head of a committee to solicit books for the soldiers' library.

Tuesday evening, October 23, Miss Lydia Fuhrer and Warren Welborn of Salem were united in marriage in the First Reformed church at Portland by the Rev. G. Hafner.

The bride was attired in white and carried a bouquet of white carnations. The groom was in uniform, being a member of Company M, 3d Oregon infantry. Miss Katherine Perlich acted as bridesmaid and Jack Fuhrer, the bride's brother, was best man, also in uniform. The ceremony was performed in the simple and solemn way of the Reformed church.

Miss Hulda Hafner played the wedding march. The following relatives and friends of the married couple were present at the wedding: Mrs. L. Welborn of Salem, the groom's mother; Mrs. J. Fuhrer of Salem, mother of the bride; Miss Martha Fuhrer, Miss Violet Welborn, Miss Edith Welborn, Miss Grace Welborn, Mr. and Mrs. Forest Welborn, Miss Salome Socolofsky, Mrs. Elizabeth Penner, all of Salem; Mr. and Mrs. Adolf Schulz of Vancouver, Wash.; Mrs. House of Dallas, Miss Martha Duersteler, Peter Moore, Jr., Mrs. G. Hafner of Portland.

Interesting New Books Received at the Library

"Kitchener's Mob," Hall. An American, who enlisted in Kitchener's volunteer army, pictures his experiences with the "Tommy's" in a most interesting way. The nine months of training, the trench life with its monotony, humor and tragedy, the actual participation in battle, all are here.

"The future of World Peace" Hobson. Another contribution on international peace.

"Representative English Plays," Tappan and Martin.

"Representative American Plays" Quinn.

"English Poetry," Manly.

"English Prose," Manly.

The above four collections of literature form a noteworthy addition to the library. The selection is careful and comprehensive.

"Musicians of To-Day," Holland. The author of "Jean Christophe" compares French and German music of the present in an able manner. Berlioz, Wagner, Strauss, Wolf, Perosi, receive special attention.

"Pictures from the lives of great musicians" Tappan. This is a book for the children on the lives of musicians.

"Masters of Space," Towers. The masters are Morse and the telegraph, Thompson and the cable, Marconi and the wireless telegraph, Carty and the

Organized Labor Charged with Conspiracy to Hamper

San Francisco, Oct. 26.—Abbott Christie, manager of the Union Iron Works, declared, while testifying today before the federal adjustment board investigating the recent San Francisco bay shipping strike, his belief that labor is engaged in a deliberate plot to embarrass employers engaged in building government ships.

His charge was the climax to a stormy session during which representatives of capital and labor repeatedly clashed. After Christie had declared that union workers had attempted to intimidate non-union yards, R. W. Burton, president of the Iron Trade Councils, demanded whether the witness had ever seen a union man intimidate any other.

"Yes, indeed I have," Christie replied. "Are you a union man, Mr. Christie?" Burton asked.

"No, thank God. I am a good American citizen," the witness retorted. "I have seen workmen beaten by thugs hired by organized labor."

"And I have seen workmen beaten by thugs of organized capital," Burton replied.

Christie asserted that workers do not start work on time and quit before quitting time.

"I have seen as many as 400 men leaving before the schedule hour," he declared. "Foremen are unable to keep them steadily at work. They are taking advantage of the war situation to have their own way."

He predicted that when four government ships, now being built at the Hanlon and Monticello yards, which are non-union yards, are brought to the Union Iron Works, union men will refuse to dock them. He charged that union organizers keep shifting the men from one yard to another, forcing companies to break in "raw crews" repeatedly.

wireless telephone.

"History of the Reformation," Peter. Written by a Lutheran minister.

"Walter Camp's book of College Sports" Rowing, track, baseball and football are the sports.

"Michael" Benson, "The Match-makers" Buckrose, are new fiction.

Head of United Mine Workers Has Resigned

Indianapolis, Ind. Oct. 26.—John P. White today resigned as president of the United Mine Workers of America.

White's resignation was presented at a meeting of the board of directors. Frank J. Hays of Whatcheer, Ind., vice president under White, was elected president. John L. Lewis, of Springfield, Ill., former general organizer, was elected vice president.

White stated that he offered his resignation because his work as adviser to the federal fuel administrator, H. A. Garfield, would require most of his time. His term would not have expired until April 1, 1919.

Harry Lauder is now en route to America through the U-boat zone.
