Her "Astral Body" Was Witness of Bomb Tragedy

San Francisco, Nov. 12.—The astral body of Mrs. Nellie Edeau floated in and out of the courtroom where Israel Weinberg is being tried for complicity in the preparedness bomb outrage.

It was during the testimony of Captain Walter J. Petersen, former police chief of Oakland, that Mrs. Edeau's astral self crept in and stayed until the noon recess.

Mrs. Edeau had told Petersen, according to his testimony, that she had been at Stuart and Market streets, the scene of the explosion, and that she had also seen an ambulance carrying away the maimed and wounded.

"I asked her," witness said, "how in the world she could have been at Stuart and Market streets and have witnessed the carrying away of the wounded when she had testified that she had been at 721 Market street."

Her answer was "I could be in the flesh at Stuart and Market street while my astral body could be at 721 Market street or any other place."

Mrs. Edeau, Peterson said, called at his office on July 27, 1916, and told him she believed she could identify the two suspects who were arrested in San Francisco as she had been present at Stuart and Market streets on July 22 with her daughter at the time of the explosion.

She told him, he said, that she had seen two men carrying a black suitcase with white metal trimmings and that they remained at Stuart and Market streets until after the explosion. Mrs. Edeau has testified that she was at 721 Market street, a mile from Stuart and Market, at the time of the explosion.

A petition from 57 residents of Brownsville has been filed with the public service commission asking that the old train schedule be maintained as under the new one it is impossible for residents of Brownsville to get to the county seat, transact any business and get home the same day, the new schedule giving them but an hour at the county seat, and this the noon hour.

SOCIETY

By ALINE THOMPSON

MRS. R. E. LEE STEINER who with Mrs. William H. Dancy and Mrs. William Eldridge, has been the guest of Mrs. William Brown at the Brown summer place at Seal Rocks for a few days, came home this afternoon.

The others of the party will remain at the beach for a few days longer, returning the latter part of the week.

Mrs. Clifford Brown and Mrs. William H. Burghardt, Jr., spent the day yesterday in Portland.

News has just been received by Mrs. P. J. Corey of the arrival of a grand-daughter, the little miss arriving at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Berry Eastman in their new home at Tien-Tsin. The Barry Eastmans have hosts of friends in Portland, who regret their absence—Oregonian.

Mrs. Chester A. Moores has gone to Portland for a short stay.

Messages of congratulation are finding their way to Mr. and Mrs. Homer B. Jamieson upon the arrival of a baby daughter, Saturday. She will be called Mary Katherine Jamieson. Mr. Jamieson is a University of Oregon man and is well known in Salem.

Saturday night the officers of Chas-wick chapter No. 37, Order of Eastern Star, tendered a farewell reception to their worthy patron Ernest Ringo, who left yesterday to make his home in Portland. The officers presented Mr. Ringo with a beautiful silk umbrella.

Interest today centers in the big jittery dance to be given by the Cherrians at the armory. These informants were among the most popular diversions of the season last year and from all indications will be equally so again this winter.

Tonight's affair will naturally call forth a large number of devotees, as 20 per cent of the net proceeds will be Y. M. C. A. war fund.

Mrs. Ben O. Schueking, accompanied by her mother and sister-in-law, Mrs. A. V. Gilbert and Mrs. Ray D. Gilbert, motored home Saturday from a few days visit in Portland.

Mr. Schueking who accompanied them to Portland will be home tonight, having gone on to Tacoma on business.

At the beginning of the third year of organization the Lewis and Clark chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, which now numbers 53 members, planned to meet at the dinner hour Friday evening. Preceding the assembly in the Osburn grill room, the business session took place at the hour of 3 o'clock. The presence of the state regent, Mrs. Isaac Lee Patterson of Salem, was a matter of mention. Twenty three places were set at table decked in national colors, and owing to patriotic sentiment a conservatively planned menu was served at 6 o'clock.

The regent of the local chapter, Mrs. Edna Datson, presided over a list of splendid toasts chosen as follows:

"The opportunities for Red Cross work by the D. A. R. Mrs. F. M. Wilkins."

"The patriotic response in the schools," Miss Ida Patterson.

"Co-operation of the parent-teachers' association in the sugar campaign," Mrs. Robert McMurphy.

"Generous response of the university students to all patriotic appeals," Miss Elizabeth Fox.

"A new interpretation of patriotism," Miss Mary Perkins.

"Congratulations to Oregon Lewis and Clark chapter," Mrs. Isaac Lee Patterson.

Perhaps the entire spirit of the organization as related to the war situation was summarized in the talk by Miss Perkins, who traced the history of the trail of democracy from the American Revolution to the present struggle in Europe. "It was to perpetuate the memory and ideals of the men and women who helped in one part of this struggle that the daughters of the American Revolution were founded, and not for ancestor worship."

The honor guest who was a house guest of Mrs. Bruce L. Bogart during her short stay here Friday was entertained by the girls of Mary Spiller hall and Miss Fox at Saturday's luncheon in Friendly hall. The guests and members of the order which this visitor represents, who dined Friday evening at the Osburn were: Mrs. Edna Prescott Datson, Mrs. Isaac Lee Patterson, Mrs. F. M. Wilkins, Mrs. Herbert Condon, Mrs. B. I. Bogart, Mrs. L. R. Edmondson, Mrs. C. B. Willoughby, Mrs. Ellen Pennell, Mrs. P. Hubbs, Mrs. M. L. Bugby, Mrs. Woods, Mrs. S. Dyke Hooper, Mrs. Robert McMurphy, Mrs. O. T. Gilstrap, Mrs. G. O. Yoran, Miss Amy Dunn, Miss Mary Perkins, Miss Ida Patterson, Miss Harriette Patterson, Miss Lucylee Dunn, Miss Bertha Comings.—Eugene Register.

Miss Helen Mercer spent the week end in Corvallis and was a guest at the Delta Alpha sorority house.

Stayton News

(Capital Journal Special Service)
Stayton, Nov. 13.—The announcement of the marriage of Miss Theo Mathieu, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Mathieu of this city, to Clarence Forette is causing a stir among the younger set of this city among whom Miss Mathieu is very popular. The wedding which is to be a church affair will take place on the 27th of this month. Miss Mathieu is the grand-daughter of F. X. Mathieu, who is known all over the northwest for the connection he had with early history of Oregon. Mr. Forette is the son of E. Forette of this city, and is a prosperous farmer. It is thought that the young people will make their home on his farm, about three miles west of this city.

The Christian church was crowded on Monday afternoon with friends who came to pay their last respects to M. Goodie, who passed away suddenly on Saturday at the home of his half-brother, Geo. Brown, near Auneville.

Miss DeJardin of Gervais, spent the week end here with her brother, G. W. DeJardin, assistant cashier of the Stayton State bank.

Miss Lena Berg spent the week end with relatives here. E. D. Alexander and wife were Salem visitors Saturday.

Miss Theo Mathieu was a Salem visitor Saturday.

Miss M. O'Connell of Eugene, spent the week end here.

Miss Gladys Hamman was a Salem visitor Saturday.

Joe Brown and family are here from Pilot Rock.

Mrs. C. O. Crawford visited friends in this city Saturday and Sunday.

Ensign of St. Johns spent the week end here.

Mrs. H. A. Bouchamp and Mrs. Lee Tate were Salem visitors the last of the week.

Mrs. E. D. Alexander left Monday afternoon for a visit at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. C. Parry at Junction City.

W. F. Pollis is on the sick list. V. Dore Sloper and wife returned Saturday evening from a business trip to Portland.

H. Williams, brother of Mrs. H. J. Pollis of this city, is reported quite ill. He is at the home of his daughter, Mrs. M. Titus in Linn county.

McCammant May Resign; Governor Would Appoint Senator Olson to Place

Governor Withycombe got rid of Superintendent Crawford of the prison flax plant easily, but he has a different proposition on his hands in the matter of appointing a successor to Justice Wallace McCammant, for the simple reason that he cannot ask him to resign, and probably would not get what he wanted if he did. It is well known the governor wants to appoint Senator Conrad Olson to the supreme bench, but that is where the position differs from the governorship. There is no vacancy.

Sometime since it was understood that Justice McCammant was willing to resign if assured that Judge Gantenben would be named for the place, but as the latter has resumed his place on the circuit bench through the resignation of Judge Littlefield, this will not be done. Senator Olson was in the city recently and had considerable confabulations under the big dome, and it is understood the governor then agreed to appoint him providing there was a vacancy. According to a published statement accredited to Justice McCammant there will be no vacancy at least this year. The latter is credited with saying he had determined on three things—not to be a candidate for his present position at the coming election, not to resign at present, and not to resign at the first of the year. Farther than that he refused to state; but just at present the outlook for Senator Olson getting on the supreme bench through appointment by the governor are exceedingly slim. The governor is willing but alas, there is no vacancy and no assurance of one.
