ANOTHER LEAGUE MAY BE FINAL OUTCOME

Wise Ones Say It Will Materialize After Associations Have Meeting

By H. C. Hamilton
(United Press staff correspondent)
Louisville, Ky., Nov. 15.—When spring again rolls around and the minor leagues get ready to swing open their gates, Louisville, Ky., and an alleged case of cold feet may be the battle cry of the radicals who have failed to split the minor league organization as it now stands.

With the National Association of Professional Baseball clubs closing its annual session here today, whispers slipped around hotel corridors and street corners that another independent league is in the embryo stage.

When the National league holds its meeting in New York, December 11, and after the American association has finished its meeting in Chicago, December 15, some very definite plans may be announced, for the material for a good fire is in the stove and the smoke is mounting.

The new league is a brand new idea. It hasn't been touched yet by anyone and isn't even in a state from which any predictions can be made, but there are certain American association club owners, who believe it can be made to pass the bars turned and there are International club owners who feel the same way about it.

Leaders are fighters. These men are fighters and they aren't ready to put back the thought that they have been whipped. In fact, it is felt in some quarters that a certain amount of organized baseball's support may be counted on for an independent organization. Certain leaders have made statements that might be construed in such a fashion. Whether the men would stick after a declaration of independence was flung in the teeth of those who refused to sanction a re-arrangement of territory, is something that can't be said.

The defeat of the plan to redistrict the leagues was more of a surprise than these behind the idea were willing to admit today. Out of the 13 leagues whose votes were cast there were at least seven whose votes would be counted in with the new plan. They turned their heels when the showdown came and the defeat of the radical element was turned into absolute rout. The International league and the Three-I league were the only organizations in the association to vote for the amendment that would have given new territory to every minor league in the country. Al Tearney, as well as Ed Barrow, saw the plan to save baseball wallowing in the dust of defeat.

Some Clubs Must Quit. There were well informed baseball men, however, who saw the bright side to the action of the association, pointing out the financial support that would have been given some club owners. Their arguments, however, found opposition when it was shown that some club owners will have to close their gates next season. In the case of the Western league, in fact, it was announced that changes are absolutely certain. It was stated by one club owner of that circuit that six clubs may be the only ones to open the season when spring gets around to baseball business.

St. Joseph's franchise, according to Jack Holland, owner of that club, is quite likely to be in Davenport, Ia., next year. The South Atlantic league has only two clubs left from the wreck that took place last summer. The American association will play only 140 games. The Pacific Coast league is going to cut its season short.

Garry Herrmann, chairman of the national commission, warned the minors they must cut salaries and reduce the other expenses if they hope to survive the war. So, despite the stand the association has made, it is regarded as certain that fewer leagues will finish the season next summer that were represented here at the annual meeting.

Every club owner wears a long face and only tales of woe are heard. It is agreed that minor leagues are in worse shape than ever before in history. They deserve credit for their spirit in voting to go on through.

O'Dowd is Champion. New York, Nov. 15.—Mike O'Dowd of St. Paul is middleweight champion of the world today.

Al McCoy, former champion, was hooked in the sixth round last night. His seconds tossed a towel into the ring. He was floored six times, four in the fourth and two in the sixth.

New York fans were out in force to see the battle and kiss the Frawley law good bye. It expired last night and professional boxing in this state went with it.

McCoy, who won the championship from George Chip with a wild swing to the jaw, a couple of years back, risked it for the first time—and lost it—in his go with O'Dowd. O'Dowd has never been prominent as a hard hitter, but his punches seemed to shake McCoy to his heels. The movies were there and the whole thing so dramatic that the Morning World today charged it "had all the ear marks of downright buncombe." Other New York sporting writers said there were rumors of a fake, but that the fight certainly looked like a real scrap.

At the conclusion many fans jumped up and down yelling "fake," and "McCoy laid down."

Promoters today denied framup innuendoes.

St. Mary's Team the Better. Oakland, Cal., Nov. 15.—Indignant because local newspapers have printed so many slanders for California's defeat at the hands of St. Mary's, have claimed that "the better" team, Russell Wilson, St. Mary's coach, issued a statement today declaring the St. Mary's team excelled in every phase of the game. Furthermore, he declared, St. Mary's had the edge on California in generalship also.

States food administration milling division said today that wholesale flour would drop 20 cents a barrel to $10.

Sudden Attack Brought Threat of Operation

Sent for a Bottle of Fruitola and Was Quickly Relieved of Gall Stones

T. L. SHERMAN

After treating with several doctors for stomach trouble and getting no relief, Mr. T. L. Sherman, 17 Crocker Ave., Johnson City, N. Y., says he was taken very suddenly one night with severe pains, and on calling the doctor was told he had gall stones and that an operation was necessary to remove them. Mr. Sherman writes: "I had heard of Fruitola, so sent for a bottle and took it as directed. I was quickly relieved of a quantity of gall stones, and continued the treatment. Now I am quite well, and have regained over forty pounds lost weight."

Fruitola and Traxo are compounded from the original Edsall formulas at the Pinus Laboratories in Monticello, Ill., and can be purchased at Fry's Drug Store, 250 North Commercial St.

A doctor's prescription is not necessary. Fruitola is a pure fruit oil that acts as an intestinal lubricant, and disintegrates the hardened particles that cause so much suffering, discharging the accumulated waste to the sufferer's intense relief. One dose is usually sufficient to indicate its efficiency. Traxo is a tonic alternative that is most effective to rebuild and restore the weakened, run down system.

A booklet of special interest to those who suffer with stomach trouble can be obtained by writing the Pinus Laboratories, Monticello, Illinois.

Sentiment and Sense Clash Over Saving of Defective Baby

Chicago, Nov. 15.—Paul Hodzima, two years old, the latest defective child sentenced to death by euthanasia, today was the object of a clash between the city health department and a coterie of physicians.

Dr. Herman Spaulding, representing the health department, submitted a report to the effect that "the present administration of opiates to terminate life is inexcusable." He said investigation disclosed that the child shows "little evidence of any pain or suffering."

Dr. Harry Haiselden, who has been administering "God-given drugs" to the Hodzima baby to relieve its sufferings—and ultimately cause death—took the child to the German-American hospital, where a number of physicians examined it. Seventeen of them signed a statement endorsing Dr. Haiselden's course.

Dr. John Hill Robertson, health officer, planned to confer with other city officials today to determine what steps shall be taken to save the baby's life.

Object to Paying to Hear Vice President

Butte, Mont., Nov. 15.—Much opposition has developed here to the plan of Vice President Thomas Marshall of charging admission to a patriotic address here November 22.

The vice president was being touring the Pacific Northwest under the auspices of a lyceum bureau, visiting, among other towns, Portland, Seattle, Spokane and Tacoma.

The Butte Minor, leading democratic daily, declared today that "for anyone in these war days to lecture on patriotism and demand pay for so doing presents about the most flagrant case of profiteering that can be imagined, and for a vice president of the United States even to lay himself open to the charge of this kind cannot help being humiliating to a very large class of loyal minded citizens."

Wireless Plants Seized by Naval Officers

Oakland, Cal., Nov. 15.—Naval radio officers today believed they had put an end to important operations of enemy agents when they seized a completely equipped wireless plant here. The set was in the rear of the home of W. S. Childs, who said it had been put out of commission two months ago when his two sons joined the naval reserve force. Neighbors, however, declared it
