MOTORCYCLE NEWS

With the increasing price of gasoline any plan to cut down the consumption of the precious fluid is worth the consideration of motorcycle riders. One method of affecting a saving is to form the habit of coasting down long hills. It is really surprising, when you try it out, to see how long a distance you can coast with the motor dead. Coast half a mile and you are not uncommonly a mile and a half. It is a comfort to realize that each half mile so covered has been at no expense for gasoline or oil, to say nothing of the saving on the motor and tires.

"Don't waste gasoline" campaign being organized by the automobilists of the country, in co-operation with the petroleum division of the United States bureau of mines and the council of national defense.

The City of Tacoma, Wash., has just received a Harley-Davidson and sidecar outfit, ordered from the local dealer, for use by Overhead Engineer W. L. Gray in his work about the city and suburbs. The outfit was purchased on the strength of the showing made by the two 1916 Harley-Davidsons in use by the light department, one of which has traveled more than 15,000 miles with less than $7 for repairs, the other having gone 20,000 miles with a repair bill of $12.

The use of motorcycles equipped with sidecars for light delivery work has been found very satisfactory in many cities and towns, and in sections where the motorcycle delivery has been started the result was that many firms have adopted them.

In Galesburg, Ill., one enterprising dealer has planned a motorcycle delivery service and has closed contracts with several merchants to deliver all goods within a certain radius. Experienced riders have been obtained and the patrons will receive quick, efficient service. The stores which have agreed to make use of the motorcycle delivery have used practically every method of delivery from an errand boy to an electric truck.

A motorcycle delivery service has also been established at Tacoma, Wash., by A. J. Strong, who says that the Harley-Davidsons being used are subjected to pretty severe treatment but appear to be able to stand up under any conditions.

Football Fans Center Interest On Thirteenth Struggle Between Teams

 MAKES NEW RECORD.  New York, Nov. 17.—Ralph de Palma, veteran automobile speed driver, holds a new record today. The Italian drove a Packard car, fitted with a Liberty motor a distance of 633.12 miles in six hours, breaking the record for that time. De Palma's average was 105.6 miles an hour. *****

By H. C. Hamilton. New York, Nov. 17.—Michigan and Pennsylvania universities will hold the football center of attraction this afternoon at Philadelphia in the thirteenth struggle of their long rivalry.

Pitted against one of the greatest teams Fielding H. Yost ever has turned out will be the scrappiest little eleven of gridiron grapplers in the east. Pennsylvania is not figured to win, even among her staunchest supporters, but she is figured to give Michigan the battle of the season. It was Pennsylvania, fans remember, which halted Pittsburgh's powerful scoring machine and forced it to the limit. Likewise, it was Pennsylvania that downed the sturdy Dartmouth team after it had run amuck through its list of opponents.

Consequently, there are many who believe Pennsylvania will be able to hold down the score. It will be Howard Berry's greatest test—likewise Pennsylvania's. The Quakers have won six of the twelve games played; Michigan four and two have been tie contests. Last year was a Pennsylvania year, 10 to 7.

Aggies Meet Washington. Seattle, Wash., Nov. 17.—The Washington team which faces Oregon Aggies today is not going down to defeat as long as there is just one chance of victory," declared "Jump" Hunt, University of Washington coach, prior to this afternoon's football struggle on University field between Washington and Oregon Agricultural College.

Having learned a lesson by their defeat at the hands of California it will be a different Washington team that takes the field today. Many changes have been made in the line-up of the team and some much-needed strength added to the backfield.

Coch Pajal of the Aggies declared this morning that his team was in good trim. He did not have the men out but contented himself with taking them out to University field and letting them give the gridiron the once over.

Odds Against Eugene. Eugene, Or., Nov. 17.—Although the University of Oregon football team is confident of victory, odds seem to favor the University of California in the game here today.

The Bear state team outweighs the Oregonians an average of ten pounds to a man and includes in its team several veterans while the University of Oregon's most experienced man is a substitute from the 1916 organization. Oregon is expected to spring several surprises this afternoon and the hard work behind Johnny Beckett and Elmer Hall have brought forth many rumors of new plays and special brands of attacks.

Game at Camp Lewis. Tacoma, Wash., Nov. 17.—The Multnomah club's football team arrived on a special train from Portland this morning to meet the 91st army division team at Camp Lewis this afternoon.

Manager Bertz says his team is far from being as strong as it was a couple of weeks ago, due to some injuries received in the last two matches against the Oregon Aggies and the Chemawa Indians. He is confident, however, that it will be a battle from start to finish. Coach Lieutenant Stanton for the soldiers has been working under difficulties for the past week because of the numbers turning out for work. After today's clash the 91st division boys will rest until Thanksgiving when the navy boys will be taken on.

Tramblitas Beaten. San Francisco, Nov. 17.—Frank Barriera got the decision over Veller Tramblitas in a four round bout here last night.

Automobile Men Are Making Tractors

A significant sign of the times is seen in the decision of the crawler or track-laying tractor developed by Rollin H. White of White Motor Car and Motor Truck fame.

Mr. Knoblock was one of the pioneers in the automobile field, having been one of the founders of the Northway Motors Co., some sixteen years ago and associated in a managerial capacity with the General Motors Company.

Later he became identified with the Cole Motor Company at Indianapolis as Vice President and General Manager.

In commenting upon his new connection, Mr. Knoblock remarked that he believed that the right kind of a tractor offered the greatest opportunity of anything in the manufacturing world today, because it was fast becoming an economic necessity which would revolutionize agriculture as well as prove an important factor in industrial work.

McElroy's Dance at Armory Tonight Watch Your Step

The dance we've been talking about all week will take place at the armory tonight. In talking to Mr. Jaz, the leader of the orchestra, he declares his men are in the pink of condition and ready to go. Mr. McElroy is to be complimented on securing an orchestra of this kind for his tour of Oregon as he has the pick of the best in the state—all his former dances have been a great success in Salem and he intends this to be even greater than any of his previous efforts. The armory will undoubtedly have a record breaking crowd so better plan to get there early.

BUY LOCAL PRODUCTS BUILD HOME MARKET

Save Transportation Charges and Your Money Stays at Home

The United States is in this war to win. Every citizen can find a way to help. Uncle Sam is continually advertising about ways that our people may join in aiding the government.

One of the most significant lines being carried to the people is the one reading—

BUY LOCAL PRODUCTS

In following this advice, two results are accomplished, both good ones.

In the first place, when you buy Oregon products, you save transportation on all the goods that would otherwise require cars, now so badly needed for war purposes. On the other hand, your use of Oregon products also performs a patriotic duty to your state.

You are helping build up Oregon payrolls and that is a community movement that should carry a strong appeal to every one.

In building up our factories, you help create prosperity, and that means property values will be better and taxes will be lower.

When you spend money for goods made elsewhere, it is nearly a total loss to the state. When you buy Oregon goods, the principal and profit both remain here.

If more workers are added to payrolls, the population increases and more homes will be needed, and the money finds its way back to circulation quickly. And the grocer, baker, dentist, doctor, butcher; in fact all lines of endeavor have a chance at payroll money, because it circulates locally.

Oregon has given most of her attention to selling natural products, and the time is now here when more attention must be given to building up of payrolls.

Every housewife and consumer and merchant is standing loyally by our country. It is only one small effort to be loyal to our state. Each one can help and ought to get in line by demanding Home Products in all purchasing.

Thank me due the weather man for a day or so of warm sunshine to brighten the rainy season.

Of more than ordinary interest will be the appearance here of Irving Berlin's international symphonic musical success entitled "Watch Your Step," which comes to the Grand Opera House next Friday, Nov. 23 for a limited engagement of one night. With its wealth of soft melodies and plethora of dancing and laughter it will prove to be the brightest and likeliest musical comedy that has come to this city in many months. It is a riot of color, girls, gowns and gaiety from the rise of the first curtain until the finale.

Lack of food and supplies in both Petrograd and Moscow was believed likely to force an early truce between the factions. All of Russia's railway workers have been on the verge of a strike for more than a week.

If a strike comes with its total stoppage of all traffic, thousands will starve; there will be no means of transporting munitions to the troops and there may result scenes of anarchy beside which the street fighting and bloodshed of even the darkest months of Russia will be nothing.
