This fall when he organized the university football team, he found but one man available who had played. All the other men were absolutely new to the game.

However, within a month Mr. Mathews had taken this raw material and whipped it in shape that it held down the Oregon freshman team until within a few minutes until the close of the game.

Then in a game with the hospital corps players of Vancouver entirely by out of the home players class the Bearcats went after them to the tune of 20 to 0 in favor of Willamette.

Mathews named them Bearcats and it was up to the boys to live up to the name. They did.

Now it just happens that the O. A. C. and Portland University of Oregon teams play in Portland tomorrow. For several days the O. A. C. boys have felt the need of a real live Bearcat coach and they found him here at Willamette University.

Examination of the captured reds began today. Their pamphlets, mailed to a Seattle Japanese from Lynn, Mass., have proven conclusively that the Italian plotters were sending money to Italy, to finance agitators there whose association was to destroy the morale of the Italian army.

SCANDINAVIANS TO DECIDE WAR COURSE AT NORWAY'S CAPITAL

Tightening of Allied Blockade Brings Three Neutral Kings Together

Christiania, Norway, Nov. 28.—Scandinavian kings, premiers and ministers were assembling here today for a conference of far-reaching importance.

The future policy of Norway, Sweden and Denmark is at stake in the meeting. Neutrality at all costs was the decision to which the three nations jointly pledged themselves early in the war.

An agreement was entered into at that time the Scandinavian countries would act in unison on all questions arising out of the war.

The constantly tightening embargo put in force by the allies, plus America's recent strict curtailment of supplies, has brought about serious internal conditions in the three nations.

Germany's control of the Baltic on the one hand; and America's insistence against Teutonic demands for supplies, have put the three nations in a position of great difficulty.

Added to this has been an undercurrent of distinctly pro-ally sentiment, recently developed in Norway, through Germany's ruthless sinking of Norwegian ships and ally suspicions of Sweden's pro-Germanism, due to the revelations of the Luxburg messages.

Sweden, according to well-defined reports, has profited by her winking at Germany's use of her diplomatic agencies for transmission of messages.

It is declared here that a liberal supply of wheat, harvested by the Germans in the Riga region, after the Russians had been driven out late in the summer, was shipped direct to Stockholm.

It is to sweep away all these undercurrents of feeling that the present conference has been called, according to best information here.

NOT ONE SOLDIER LOST IN TRANSPORT

That Is Good Reason Why General Pershing Will Give Hearty Thanks

American Field Headquarters, France, Nov. 28.—Not a single American soldier has been lost to date in the transportation of the American army to France.

In a statement written for the United Press as a Thanksgiving message to the American people today, Major General William L. Sibert, directly in command of the American forces in France, held this to be one of the main causes why America should return thanks tomorrow.

General Pershing also sent a message "back home" for the American people. The two messages follow:

By General John J. Pershing: First, we may be thankful for the spirit which a great cause has aroused in our nation.

Second, that our army in France increases and that its training continues according to plan.

Third, for the energy and unity of purpose from home which sustains us here and which will send us the men and material enabling us to deliver blows whose result "will give us even greater cause for thanks when another Thanksgiving Day arrives."

By Major General William L. Sibert: This little pioneer contingent of mine has many things to be truly thankful for.

We have progressed far along our program of training. We have become so hardened physically that despite exposure to the rough weather our men have had a minimum of illness.

But most of all we are thankful for this: In the great task of transporting our army to France we have not lost a single man—not one casualty. It is very encouraging. Because we know and our people back home know that when the full force of the United States can be transported over here and thrown into the fight, then we allies will win this war—hands down.

Senator McNary Resigns Chairmanship of Central Committee

Senator McNary being a candidate for re-election today forwarded to Ed D. Baldwin, secretary of the republican state Central Committee his resignation as its chairman.

In a letter addressed to Mr. Baldwin at Washington, D. C., he says: "Through you as secretary, I here with present to the Republican State Central Committee my resignation as chairman. This course I deem proper, on account of my intention to become a candidate in the republican primaries for the office of United States Senator. To occupy the position of chairman, while a candidate, might place me on a disadvantage and would be unfair to my opponents. I shall take no part in the selection of my successor, either directly, or indirectly, and whomsoever he may be, he will find his work made light by the intelligent assistance, and loyal support of the entire membership of the State Committee.

May I ask you to state to the committee, my appreciation of the honor laid upon me by my selection as chairman."

Plenty of Candidates for McNary's Place

The news of Senator McNary's resignation of the chairmanship of the republican central committee traveled fast. It was only made known this

An Economical, Delightful, Light Place to Trade

Thanksgiving PROCLAMATION

For What Shall We Be Thankful? As men first, and then as merchant we are thankful that to our generation has been committed the splendid cause of "Making the World Safe for Democracy."

As men we are thankful because these stirring times are giving us new visions to brighten those ideals that the routine of daily toil cannot help but dull--and because in the eyes of the people standing across the counter from us we see these visions, flaming too--and we realize that we are all of us, men and women, alike fighting or backing a fight for right against might.

As Merchants, we are thanking that we have so large a share in the distribution of those things which form the vital and daily needs of our people and in which honesty of value and suitability of purpose are great agents in the prevention of waste--our worst enemy in these war streaked days. We are glad to be able to serve so many of the folks here in our city, and to serve them with an eye single to giving them the best and the most for their money that we know how to get.

As men and merchants we are thankful for our opportunities for service and we pledge ourselves to make this service higher and broader and deeper as the days go on.

Twenty per cent of the net proceeds of the dance to be given by the Cherrians at the armory next Tuesday evening will be given to the Social Service Center, on the one condition that the money be spent for the welfare of the children, and that efforts be made at once to locate the children where the money will do the greatest amount of good.

Wall Street Market Thin and Featureless. New York, Nov. 28.—The New York Evening Sun financial review today said:

Today's stock market was thin, dull and featureless. Trading was under the influence of the Thanksgiving recess. Buying power was limited through disinclination of the traders to increase their commitments over Thursday, and, for the same reason perhaps, stocks were somewhat more freely offered. This state of affairs resulted in a dragging affair, with the course of prices somewhat below the Tuesday closing level, although there was not lacking consistent resistance to pressure.

Two Boys Skip From Training School. Fred Hill, aged 17, and Can Corrin, aged 16, both sent to the school from Portland escaped from the state training school for boys yesterday evening about dusk. Coming to Salem they stole an auto from J. B. Liebold of 892 N. Winter street, or it is supposed they did, as it was missed about 11 o'clock, and with it made the trip to Oregon City. The car was found there by the police who had been notified to keep a watch for the runaway, at 1:15 this morning, but the boys abandoned it and skipped. No trace of them has been found since.

morning but already the candidates for the place are numerous. Among these are E. B. Herrmann, of Roseburg; Tom Tongue of Hillsboro; G. S. Hanley, Oregon City and Marion Jack, of Pendleton. There are no doubt many others, but these "saw it first," and are on the ground early. There is really nothing for the committee to do until after the primaries when it will meet and elect its own chairman, but the fellow who gets the temporary honor figures it that he will have the better opportunity for the permanent place.

AGREEMENT REACHED TO CONSERVE FOOD

Grocerymen, Bakers and Butchers in Hearty Accord After Meeting

The butchers and the bakers and the grocerymen as well as those in the restaurant business declared their willingness to aid in the food conservation plans of the government at a meeting held last evening in the auditorium of the Commercial club. The meeting was called by President F. W. Steusloff of the Commercial club who stated that it was advisable that a permanent organization be formed whereby all interested in the food proposition might act in harmony.

C. M. Roberts said that he was quite willing to do what was right but felt that there should be some official communications received from headquarters as he wasn't quite satisfied with what he read in the papers.

After the grocerymen had discussed various plans of observing meatless and wheatless days, H. S. Poisel announced that to discuss the situation more fully, the grocers had effected an organization. The chairman is H. S. Poisel and the secretary, C. M. Roberts. This organization will figure out some plans whereby every groceryman will be put on record as supporting the food administration. A committee consisting of Theo Roth, E. Deue, William Busick, Chas. Weber and C. M. Eppley were appointed to draw up these plans. This committee will meet with the market men and bakers Friday evening and have ready a report for the general meeting to be held next Tuesday evening.

Those representing the restaurants named W. F. George as chairman and he reported that a committee would be appointed to visit all the hotels and restaurants of the city, to report at the Tuesday evening meeting. This committee will include Mrs. Josie Parow of the Elks restaurant, Miss May Oleson of the Y. W. C. A., Gordon McGillchrist of the Royale Cafeteria and W. F. George of the White House restaurant.

The bakers thought they should line up with the grocerymen as their lines run together. As their interest in the proposed Wednesday wheat less day, the bakers thought this could be done by pushing brown grades of bread for that day.

At the meeting yesterday evening, it will be definitely known that grocers, bakers and restaurants as well as meat markets are in sympathy with the government in its food conservation plans. As President Steusloff remarked, "If we do not volunteer, the government will demand that we take action."

Land Grant Taxes and Voting Precincts Passed On by Attorney General

Attorney General Brown has given his opinion to the district attorney of Benton county on the matter of the tax money received from the government for the forfeited railroad lands. He holds that this tax money can be used only after the budget for the year 1918 has been made, and that its use must be provided for in the county budgets the same as other tax money.

Answering a question of district attorney Gehlar of this county the attorney general holds that the county courts must arrange the voting precincts in incorporated cities so they are the same as the city precincts. This must be done before the coming elections.

Another Marion County Man Praises Dr. May and Chiropractic

The Palmer School of Chiropractic Methods will bring relief to those suffering untold misery, and in most cases effect a permanent cure.

Read what this man has to say about Chiropractic and what it did for him:

Salem, Or., Nov. 20, 1917. To Whom It May Concern:

I have been suffering with Eczema over twenty years and my whole body with the exception of my face and hands was covered with inflamed scaly sores and the terrible itching was almost unendurable. Have used different ointments and also drugs enough to float a battleship and while some of these gave me temporary relief there was nothing permanent. Last summer my arms and legs began to swell and an excruciating pain in my knee and ankle made me nearly helpless. On Nov. 12, I consulted Dr. May, the Chiropractor, and the change which Dr. May effected in such a short time is nothing short of a miracle. The swelling in my arms and legs disappeared and my skin is nearly normal and I am sure that I will be a well man again before long. I hope this statement will be of benefit to someone who suffers from a trouble similar to mine. In conclusion I will state that Dr. May employed only Palmer School Chiropractic methods and uses no drugs whatever.
