TEMPERANCE FORCES TO DO INVESTIGATING

Object to Pershings Order Allowing Boys Light Wines and Beer

Washington, Dec. 26.—Temperance forces are making their own investigations of conditions in the American camps in France in planning their fight against General Pershing's order permitting his Sammies to light wines and beers.

E. C. Dinwiddie, legislative chief of the Anti-Saloon league, made this known today while congressional dry leaders prepared to extend to the Sammies the present home dry regime in United States military camps.

Representative Randall of California, house dry leader, will introduce next week a resolution calling upon President Wilson to explain on what authority Pershing issued his light liquor permit. This will be preliminary to submission of an amendment to the present statute forbidding the sale of liquors to American soldiers in uniform.

The amendment will seek to forbid American officers permitting soldiers to use any kind of liquor. "The temper of the people is decidedly against such violations of the spirit of all dry legislation of congress," stated Randall.

"They will not stand for it," Randall characterized Secretary Baker's explanation of the Pershing order that dry legislation affecting armies on American soil as being null in France, as mere camouflage.

"I am not going to pass judgment on Pershing's order until I see the official text of it," said Senator Shepard, the senate dry leader. "But the war department should have done as the navy did—require every man in uniform, no matter where he is, to be absolutely dry."

The American people will not stand for their sons being sent to France with the prospects of their becoming debauched—for that is what the effect of the Pershing order will be.

Raiders Believed To Be Part of Villa Gang Located Near Border

Marfa, Texas, Dec. 26.—The bandit force which raided the town of Candelaria, Texas, has been located today 20 miles south of the international border, encamped five hundred strong according to reports reaching here.

The Mexicans are believed to be a part of the Villista forces which recently captured and evacuated Ojinaga.

Captain Leslie A. Sprinkle, with a detachment of the Eighth cavalry, is patrolling the border at the point where the bandits crossed, and Colonel Langhorne, commanding the Big Bend military district, has thrown a strong patrol along the international line to guard against another possible invasion by the raiders.

EUGENE PIONEER DEAD

Eugene, Or., Dec. 26.—Clara Conger, who crossed the plains to Oregon in 1853 at the age of 11 years, died at the home of his brother, John Conger, 10 miles west of Eugene, Sunday night. He was 76 years of age. He is survived by his brother here and a brother and a sister, Jonathan Conger of Washington, and Mrs. Isabella Nunn, of Texas.

Red Cross Bandages Loaded with Poison

Cleveland, Ohio, Dec. 26.—Federal and Red Cross officials today were investigating what is declared to be a nation-wide plot to poison or render unfit for use hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of Red Cross supplies.

The plot was discovered as disclosed about a week ago when 3,400 bandages made by Red Cross workers in Toledo were found on their arrival here to be infected with a greenish poison. They were immediately destroyed. It is believed the bandages were tampered with en route to Cleveland. The bandages were sent here as are many thousands of others, because Cleveland is headquarters for the lake district of the Red Cross, which comprises Indiana, Ohio, and Kentucky.

Mrs. Lawson took the child up to the big tree to get some toys and when she returned, couldn't find Norma's mother. She said she had no intention of abducting the child.

Huns Cut Throat of American Sentry

With the American Army in France, Dec. 26.—Information concerning German savagery has reached the troops in one of a series of bulletins read to them by the unit commanders and posted on the bulletin boards. Here is what they heard:

"After a raid by the Germans on trenches held by American troops a lone sentry of infantry was found with his throat cut from ear to ear. He had been surprised by an overwhelming force of Germans, and must have been so killed after capture."

"Such brutality is familiar to old soldiers who served against savages in the Philippine campaign."

Another bulletin tells the men how the Germans in occupied sections of France and Belgium are turning women and children out of their homes into the snows, the buildings being then given over to soldiers, horses and material.

Trotsky Worked His Fellow Passengers

Washington, Dec. 26.—Five distinct crises are hastening the fall of the Lenin-Trotsky Bolshevik government at Petrograd, according to Charles R. Crane, recently returned from Russia.

The military, industrial, financial, transportation and political situations in the new republic are becoming increasingly critical and the Bolsheviks cannot long survive, he said.

Crane was a White House visitor today. Crane was asked as to Trotsky, former 88 a week editor in New York and now foreign minister.

"When I returned from Russia recently I was asked by one of my Russian servants at home 'did you see Trotsky?'"

"Yes, I went over on the boat with him," I replied.

"Well, he owes me $5, she said."

"Another said he claimed a $10 indebtedness due from the present foreign minister."

"These women were members of an organization in New York over which Trotsky presided when here."

NO MYSTERY ABOUT MYSTERIOUS VESSEL

Is Being Unloaded and Beans Most Deadly Thing Found Aboard

A Pacific Port, Dec. 26.—Unless some startling and unexpected circumstance bobs up, the Russian vessel Shilka, much discussed as the "Bolshevik mystery ship," will leave this port in continuation of her commercial errand, as soon as the cargo is unloaded.

Work of unloading the shipment of licorice root, beans, peas and hides continued today after the Christmas holiday.

Federal officials, who thought it wise to investigate wild rumors about the vessel have found nothing unusual in her status up to date and are inclined to believe that no mystery or alarming features will be uncovered.

The fact that the Shilka is a naval vessel chartered to a private firm created some interest but no excitement. Captain Bedel explained to officials that the vessel had been used as a transport and was laid at the time of charter. Secrecy of bottoms made it possible to obtain the Shilka for the trip to the United States.

Possibly 35 old rifles were found in a locker on board the ship and this fact gave rise to the startling story of vast quantities of ammunition.

The authorities here are of the opinion that the Shilka did not carry as many effective arms as most merchant vessels do these times on long voyages.

Since the Shilka came from an allied country, the vessel has never been under formal seizure. A guard was established to keep away curious persons attempting to board the vessel after sensational reports were circulated.

Revolution So Many Russians Don't Know Which Side They're On

New York, Dec. 26.—Stories of street fighting in Petrograd and Moscow and of buildings deliberately riddled by machine guns were told here today by Americans arriving from the Russia on the Norwegian-American steamer Bergensfjord.

None had a definite idea of what all of the fighting they witnessed was about. There were so many "revolutions" and "counter revolutions" in progress, it was impossible to keep track of the various factions, they declared.

Captain C. T. Williams of the Red Cross in Rumania, told of the Matropole hotel at Moscow being riddled by machine guns after all guests had been warned to flee. He declared that a group of soldiers of some unknown faction gave the warning that the hotel should be evacuated. Then they mounted machine guns on a building opposite the hotel and opened fire, without any apparent object other than to destroy the hotel.

John M. Larsen of Chicago, another passenger, said he was taken prisoner by the German soldiers when he crossed the frontier from Denmark, but was released after being held for four days.

The Bergensfjord had 500 passengers aboard, about 150 of whom were Russians fleeing from the revolution-ridden country.

"Turn to the Right" tells of the reform of three young rapscallions by the application of peach jam in large and "gooey" portions.

Car Shortage Cause of Scant Coal Supply

Washington, Dec. 26.—The car shortage between August 18 and November 24 cut down the available coal supply 20,166,442 tons, Garfield testified this afternoon.

"What increase do you estimate is necessary to meet demands during the war?" asked Senator Jones.

"From 33 1-3 per cent to 50 per cent above present production," Garfield answered the following twelve cities, the coal prices were lower in November than in August:

Montgomery, Birmingham, Atlanta, Augusta, Ga., St. Paul, St. Louis, Superior, Wis., Tacoma, Sparta, N. C., Sioux Falls, S. D., Columbus and Terre Haute, Ind.

SOLDIERS TO SPLIT SPRUCE

Portland, Or., Dec. 26.—First to take advantage of the government's proffer of troops for spruce production, the Western Co-operative company is today preparing a camp in Clatsop county to accommodate 300 forestry soldiers splitting spruce for airplane construction. With other timber holding companies planning similar use of troops it is believed the ten million feet monthly required by the signal corps from the northwest will soon be available.
