Market Remains Weak Awaiting Developments

Street today expressed disappointment over the failure of the pope to make peace proposals, coupled with the vitroloic atterances of the kaiser and the increased pressure of the Contral Powers on the Italian front, the continued ancertainty regarding the the fature of the railreads, and poer net carnings of two important railroad systems. The whole active list of stocks participated in the reaction from the advancing movement which had prevailed for nearly a week and liberty long 4's made a new low at 195.76, while the low points of the day ranged generally from 1 to 3g points below Monday's close, the declines being orderly and the market may be said to have dribbled off easily. There was noticeable a moderate amount of liquidation, particularly in the rails, but the small attendance customary on a day after a holiday, many of the big active traders being about, failed to provide the market with sharp railying powers. The market is awaiting one and needs some import.
