REGISTRATION WEEK

The registration does not apply to Austrians or Hungarians.

In announcing the provisions and requirements for the registration the department of justice took care to avoid creating the impression that the government looks on each German with contempt.

"Registrants are not to be treated as persons of evil dispositions," instructions to registrars point out, "and the registration officers are urged to deal with them in a courteous and friendly manner."

Cooperation of police, federal officers, postal employes and private citizens is expected by the department to see that the United States government has accurate information of every German alien within the borders of this country.

Certificates will be issued to registrants only after every item declared has been checked from all possible angles and found to have been correct.

Information so gathered officials believe will be of material assistance in tracing plots against this government and in discovering just which of the Germans here should be most closely watched.

The task of registration is a great one. In cities of 5,000 or more population, as shown by the census of 1910, the chief of police and his assistants will have charge of the work.

In smaller communities and rural districts registration will be conducted by the postmasters, with the postmaster in the largest office in the local judicial districts, which in most cases is the equivalent of a county in charge. It will be his duty to gather the reports and forward them to the department of justice. In most cities the work will

HEAD STUFFED FROM CATARRH OR A COLD

Says Cream Applied in Nostrils Opens Air Passages Right Up.

Instant relief—no waiting. Your clogged nostrils open right up; the air passages of your head clear and you can breathe freely. No more hawking, sniffling, blowing, headache, dryness. No struggling for breath at night; your cold or catarrh disappears.

Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist now. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic, healing cream in your nostrils. It penetrates through every air passage of the head, soothes the inflamed or swollen mucous membrane and relief comes instantly.

It's just fine. Don't stay stuffed-up with a cold or nasty catarrh.

SOCIETY

By Carol S. Dibble

A prettily appointed, family dinner was given Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. Clifford Elgin on South Liberty street, with Mrs. George Elgin and Mrs. Harry Elgin as additional hostesses, in honor of Charles Elgin, who left yesterday for Roseburg, Ore.

The announcement of the marriage of Miss Clara Neugebauer and Russell Mohney, which occurred in Trueman, Washington, December 29, has been received by Salem friends. Mr. and Mrs. Mohney will make their home at Tacoma. Mrs. Mohney is the daughter of Mrs. Pauline Neugebauer of Salem.

A special meeting of the Salem Patriotic League has been called for tomorrow afternoon at the Commercial club rooms, at two thirty. The League which was organized, while Company M was at the hospital, has rendered much practical service to the company in a variety of ways since its organization. At tomorrow's meeting, the election of officers for the coming year will take place. Plans for a dance to be given by the Patriotic League before Lent will be discussed in detail. The proceeds of the dance will go towards deferring the balance of the expenses incurred in the making of bags for the boys of Company M. Mrs. C. W. Faulkner will preside at the meeting.

Miss Dora Andressen will leave tonight for San Francisco, where she will visit her brother, Earl Andressen, who is in the electrical department of the navy at Mare Island. Miss Andressen will also visit friends in Oakland, and Palo Alto, before going on to Los Angeles, where she expects to spend several weeks. She will also visit other points of interest in southern California. Miss Andressen will be gone about two months.

Miss Mattie F. Beatty returned Saturday night from Portland, where she went to attend a meeting of the executive board of the State Federation of Women's clubs held on Saturday afternoon. The out of town members present at the meeting were guests at the Co-operative League luncheon also given on Saturday, in honor of Mrs. G. I. Frankel, the retiring president.

In observance of the eighty first anniversary of W. H. Burghardt, Sr., on Saturday, a number of friends called to extend their congratulations during the afternoon. Mrs. George Broughton of Portland, and daughter, Miss Mildred Broughton, who were guests at the Burghardt residence over the week end, returned home yesterday. Miss Broughton going back to Eugene where she is an instructor in the university.

Howard P. Jewett, principal of the high school at Sweet Home, joined Mrs. Jewett over the week end at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Jewett on North Sixteenth street. Mrs. Howard Jewett is teaching in the Salem schools this winter.

Mrs. Edward Weller will be hostess Wednesday afternoon at the regular monthly meeting of St. Paul's Guild of the Episcopal church, at her residence, 165 North Seventeenth street. The regular business meeting will be followed by Red Cross work.

The Junior Guild of St. Paul's church will meet tomorrow afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Homer Smith.

A club composed of the wives of the Public Service commission members met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. T. Russelle on Center street. An attractive arrangement of ferns and pussy willows, formed decoration for the pretty little affair. Mrs. E. Wright and Mrs. W. T. Neal poured. Additional guests were Mrs. Frances Shafer, Mrs. S. S. East and Mrs. Walter Buchner. The honor guest of the afternoon was Mrs. Carrie Oliver Robinson of New York, who is spending the winter in Salem as the guest of her mother, Mrs. S. E. Oliver.

Mr. and Mrs. John McNary returned the latter part of the week from a stay of several days spent in Portland.

The La. Area club will hold its reg-

THIS WOMAN SAVED FROM AN OPERATION

By taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, One of Thousands of Such Cases.

Black River Falls, Wis.—"An Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound saved me from an operation, I cannot say enough in praise of it. I suffered from organic troubles and my side hurt me so I could hardly be up from my bed, and I was unable to do my household work. I had the best doctors in Black River Falls and they wanted me to have an operation, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured me so I did not need the operation, and I am telling all my friends about it."—Mrs. A. W. Binzer, Black River Falls, Wis.

It is just such experiences as that of Mrs. Binzer that has made this famous root and herb remedy a household word from ocean to ocean. Any woman who suffers from inflammation, ulceration, displacements, backache, nervousness, irregularities or "the blues" should not rest until she has given it a trial, and for special advice write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

Boys in France Appreciate Tobacco

James Farrier, received a Christmas card, and letter from one of the boys in France, who received a package of the Capital Journal tobacco, paid for by Mr. Farrier. The letter reads as follows:

Jan. 1, 1918. My Dear Friend: "I have received your little gift with great pleasure. And thank you very much for it. I would like to correspond with you, if you care to write to me. I am a handsome soldier boy, somewhere in France. We received the packages on New Years morn and all the soldier boys received a nice little package of tobacco, and thanking you all very much for the presents.

Well, if you care to correspond with a lonely soldier boy please write to me as soon as you receive this letter. Best regards from your unknown friend, "CAPT. FRANK MUHIRK, 1st. Co. 1, 3rd Inf. A. E. L. France."

Portland Boy's Exploit
Portland, Or., Feb. 4.—Single handedly Bud Free, a Portland boy with the quaternary arms, crossed No Man's Land and bombed a German trench with rotten eggs, according to a letter from a comrade today. The feat was performed on a bet, and after the first two or three throws at bobbing helmets, Free's barrage was not contested the odor of the eggs perhaps causing the Hunns to scurry for their gas masks.

Boy Set Four Fires
Walla Walla, Wash., Feb. 4.—Admission that he started four of the six fires recently threatening buildings of Walla Walla college was obtained from Charles Jennings, a young student, of forces declare today. Jennings is under guard in a sanitarium where he is suffering from a nervous collapse. The lad is believed to have been actuated by a desire to revenge the suspension of two of his brothers from the college recently. He has been under observation for some time.

Home Breweries
Portland, Or., Feb. 4.—Request that he furnish information upon which he based his recent statements in San Francisco that fully 20,000 "home breweries" are operating in Portland since Oregon cocktail liquor was made to John F. Logan, attorney, today by the Oregon Anti-Saloon League. The leagueurs hold Logan's statement would mean that one third of Portland's homes are "brewing their own" and they question this.

Craft. She was born June 6, 1847, the daughter of Charles Craft, Salem pioneer of 1845. Her father opened the first tannery here and he also auctioned off the logs from which were constructed the first houses of Salem.

She was educated at the old Oregon Institute, founded by Jason Lee, out of which afterward grew Willamette University. All her life she was a resident of this city and practically all of her life was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church.

Fifty years ago last Christmas she was married to George P. Litchfield, one of Salem's best-known citizens, and on Christmas, 1918, the semi-centennial anniversary of their wedding was a notable feature in the annuals of pioneers of this section.

Although she had seen Salem grow from its embryonic state in the wilderness it was in the home as mother of eight children that Mrs. Litchfield centered her main activities, outside of her constant connection with the Methodist church.

Six children, beside her husband, survive. They are: Charles L. Portland; Mrs. Alma R. Schneider, Mrs. Corn J. Holman, George P. Litchfield, Mrs. Gertrude L. Scott and Helene Litchfield, all of Salem.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the First Methodist church, Rev. R. N. Avison having charge. Interment will be in the Odd Fellows cemetery.

That You will Admire

So temptingly low priced that most women will buy enough for months to come. These prices will prevail but this once. Now is your opportunity.

Nothing is more uncertain these days than "price." The price of any article today, is liable to change within an incredibly short time. This is true in practically all lines of merchandise.

Only one thing regarding "price" is reasonably certain, and that is, that whenever any change comes it is sure to be "upward."

Fortunately for this store and its patrons, we protected ourselves against unusual price-conditions by placing early and extensive orders with the result that now, much of our merchandise is being sold to you at prices lower than today's market value.
