STATE HOSPITAL IS SOUND FINANCIALLY

Superintendent Steiner Expects To Go Through Year Without Deficiency

A balance of $234,387 remains in the maintenance fund of the Oregon state hospital for the insane, according to a report submitted to the state board of control by Superintendent Steiner. The institution also has on hand supplies worth $90,068, which is $57,512 more than was on hand at the beginning of the biennium. This gives the institution a total of $321,905, or an average of $36,533 a month for the balance of the year. Dr. Steiner said if nothing unexpected happens, his institution will be able to get through the year without incurring a deficiency. Two months ago, he said, he had thought it would be impossible to get through without running behind, but since then better returns than he expected have been obtained from the institution's poultry and dairy herd and farm products. Dr. Steiner reported that it was necessary to increase the wages of attendants from $5 to $10 a month, and the board authorized him to make such salary adjustments without filing written application with the board. The board also authorized him to abrogate the old rule that at least two thirds of the attendants employed at the institution should be at the building all the time. He said with the improved equipment at the institution, the fire danger was greatly lessened and it was not necessary to keep such a large force on hand at night. The day attendants who are married and have their own homes will be permitted to go home at night. As the result of a scientific test of the value of oil and coal and wood as fuel, Dr. Steiner reported to the board that he got much better results from the use of oil. The cost of fuel for evaporating 1000 pounds of water was as follows: Oil, based on a price of $1.06 a barrel, was 26 cents, plus 15 cents for labor, making a total of 37.5 cents; coal, based on a price of $6.90 a ton, was 32 cents, plus 4 cents for labor, making a total of 66 cents; fir wood, based on a price of $4 a cord, was 39 cents, plus 3 cents for labor, making a total of 42 cents.

MAKING OUR SOLDIERS SMILE IS A PATRIOTIC DUTY, SAYS JUDGE LINDSEY

Putting smiles on our soldiers' faces will do almost as much to win the war as arms and ammunition, says Judge Ben B. Lindsey, of Denver, of Juvenile Court fame. Judge Lindsey, who has visited the war zones in Europe and been in the American soldier camps at home, says it is a patriotic duty to keep our soldiers in the good humor they now enjoy. He has sent Harold Braddock, director of the Military Entertainment Council, which is putting on a nation-wide campaign for the sale of Smileage Books, which contain soldiers' ruses to the camp shows, a telegram, in which he says: "Smileage to Help Win the War. "Smileage is not only an inspiring, but one of the most practical, helpful things of this war. I know something of the questions of morality and discipline among the soldiers, as I have seen it in Europe and at home during the war. They cannot be solved by guardhouses and jails. They are practical, human questions. "The Smileage idea will do more to keep our boys the wholesome, manly fellows that most of them are and want to be, than all the other systems of entertainment combined. There has to be a deterrent, and the helpful, stimulating entertainment you are arranging for the boys at the camps furnishes that deterrent. "It is a patriotic duty to furnish 'Smileage,' and it will do almost as much to win the war as arms and ammunition. "Smileage books, of $1 and $5 varieties, containing 20 and 100 pages, are on sale in every city and town in the country. The campaign show to which they pass soldiers will present the best Chautauqua and latest talent as well as some of the best Broadway successes. The Government is backing the plan.

BREAD MAY BE HIGHER

Portland, Or., Feb. 5.—Bread may be higher in price as well as altered in ingredients. Master bakers of Oregon and Washington, who are in conference here, today held the cost of wheat flour substitutes compels the advances. Everything under the sun but wheat flour and sawdust may eventually be used in bread making, according to food administrators of California, Washington, Alaska and Idaho, in session here. They insist more wheat must be saved for Europe.

America Will Retaliate Mistreatment of Prisoners

Washington, Feb. 5.—Sharp retaliatory measures will follow any mistreatment of American prisoners in Germany it was officially hinted. Following reports that a number of captured Sammies were being placed under stress to reveal military secrets the state department has instituted an inquiry to learn exactly what treatment is being accorded these men by the Germans. Eight soldiers have been captured in the first and subsequent raids against the trench sector held by Americans, the Red Cross reports. It is pointed out significantly the Germans should treat these men well, as this government holds far more German prisoners than Germany holds Americans.

Dr. Alan Hart Said To Be Oregon Girl

Albany, Or., Feb. 5.—The "Doctor Alan Hart" referred to in the United Press story from San Francisco is believed to be Dr. A. Lucille Hart, daughter of Mrs. J. W. Barton of this city and long a resident of Albany. She received a medical degree from the University of Oregon last June. Soon after she enlisted in the Red Cross for service in France, and was called into service in August as a physician-surgeon, and has been in the hospitals in the south. Dr. Hart has been noted for independence in thought and action particularly in the discarding of feminine frills and substitution of more simple and mannish modes.

Proclamation Issued Regarding Aliens

Washington, Feb. 5.—President Wilson tonight issued a proclamation authorizing the alien property custodian to take over and manage the property of "alien enemies of large means who have been permanently interned." It also prohibits alien enemies from carrying on from internment camps trading activities which might be inimical to the interests of the United States. Only Those of Large Means Washington, Feb. 5.—Only those alien enemies "of large means who have been permanently interned" are affected by President Wilson's recent proclamation creating the office of the alien property custodian. A. Mitchell Palmer, who holds that office, ruled late today. "The proclamation does not include the ordinary alien enemy," Palmer said. "It is limited to those who have been found to be dangerous and who have been transferred to the war department for permanent detention."

Trading Is Light In Wall Street Today

New York, Feb. 5.—The New York financial review today said: It was a cold greeting which Wall Street had after the second blue and fuelless Monday. This state of affairs cast a chill over the operations of the stock market in which trading was scarcely half the volume of Friday last. The behavior of the market was regarded as wholly natural in relation to the violent forward movement of last Thursday. Selling was active in the first hour. At least a third of the business transacted through the forenoon was in United States Steel. In the early afternoon prices ebbed and flowed lazily within a rather narrow range. Most of the list displayed a better tone in the last hour when it became known that an agreement had been reached in regard to future Mondays.

Strike Officially Ends

London, Feb. 5.—Partial strikes in Berlin and elsewhere are ended. Official wireless dispatches from Berlin asserted today. Anaconda Standard Suffers From Fire Anaconda, Mont., Feb. 5.—The Butte fire department early today assisted in checking a fire destroying the plant and building of the Anaconda Standard, which also menaced the business section of the city. The Standard was printed today by presses of a Butte newspaper. The damage to the Standard plant will be fully $100,000. The press room and business office were destroyed, and the loss in the composing room will be minimal. reduced bread rations. "Not more than two ounces of bread or rolls can be served as one portion, according to instructions issued today. Only in the case of corn, oatmeal or bran bread can the serving to any one person exceed this allowance. In these cases four ounces is permitted.

Salem High School Will Play Newberg Tonight

Tonight in the high school gym the Salem basketball fans will witness one of the best games of basketball scheduled for this season. The boys from the Quaker City are coming down with the expectation of carrying home the bacon. Newberg has a strong quintet this year, having fulfilled numerous victories, and they feel somewhat confident of winning tonight's game. The Salem boys have started out one of the most successful seasons in years having won six games and lost only one, this game being lost by one point on the visitor's floor. By winning tonight's game will practically give Salem the championship of the Willamette valley. Salem is out for the state championship and the way things look she is liable to walk away with it. The lineup for tonight's game will be, Gregg and Gill forwards, Latham at center and Capt. Ross and Hulsey at the guard positions. The game will begin at 7:30 p. m. in the high school gym, the admission will be 35c.

State House News

Charles Galloway, state tax commissioner, has returned from a trip to Pass Christian, Miss., where he attended a meeting of the model tax system committee appointed by the National Tax Association. Eight members of the committee attended the meeting. An outline of general principles for what is considered a correct system for state taxation was prepared by the committee and will be submitted at the next meeting of the National Tax Association.

Funeral of Mrs. Mangis Held at Dallas Today

The funeral of Mrs. John W. Mangis, aged 60 years, whose death occurred at her home in Dallas early yesterday morning, was held in that city at 2 o'clock this afternoon. The family came to Oregon in 1890, settling near Salem and living here till 1901, when they moved to Santa Rosa, Cal. They returned to Oregon seven years ago and settled at Dallas where they have since lived. Frances Elizabeth Allen was born in Illinois, September 13, 1858. She was married to John W. Mangis at McPleasboro, Ill., in 1876. She was the daughter of soldiers as well as the mother of soldiers, being a direct descendant of Ethan Allen, commander of the famed "Green Mountain boys" in the Revolutionary war. Her ancestors have fought in every war since the Revolution, her father, James K. Allen having served in the Sixth Illinois regiment in the Civil war. Besides her husband she is survived by four sons, two of which, Earl and Charles, are with the Third Oregon in France, while Fred E. and Elmer J. reside at this place. Four daughters also survive her as follows: Mrs. C. E. Bradley, of Three Hills, Alta, Canada; Mrs. R. Bradley, Portland, Ore.; Mrs. D. C. Getchel and Mrs. E. H. Conkey, of Dallas, Ore. A sister, Mrs. C. Y. Allen and two brothers, Chas. T. Allen, and James W. Allen live at McPleasboro, Ill.
