Packing Investigation Awaits Court's Decision

Chicago, Feb. 6.—The future course of the federal trade-commission's packing investigation was to be determined late today in Federal Judge Landis' court here. His ruling on the question of further seizures of packers' papers, raised by Attorney Henry Veeder's success in temporarily halting Special Counsel Francis J. Heney's search for evidence, will be a decisive factor.

The government's prosecution of the L. W. W. is at stake, also, according to Heney, who declares the search warrant on which the L. W. W. seizures were made is practically identical with that which forced open Veeder's vaults for a few hours yesterday.

Heney seeks to obtain further evidence to support his charge that the leading packers conspired to defraud the war government in army meat, hide and food contracts. He said: "We got what we were after," in a swift perusal of the papers taken from Veeder's office before Landis ordered them turned over to the court's keeping.

The hearing was scheduled to begin at 2 p. m. today. Aiding Veeder are Attorney John J. Healey and former District Attorney Elwood Goodman, while arrayed on Heney's side are United States District Attorneys Clyde and Fleming, Attorney Egan of Washington, D. C., and Basil Mann, special investigator.

The public service commission today set February 20 as the time for hearing the application of the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph company and the Northwestern Long Distance Telephone company for a change in long distance rates according to tariffs filed with the commission. The hearing will be held at Portland.

These tariffs, which are supposed to be based on air line distances, have been suspended by the commission pending the investigation. They make many changes in the rates, some increases and some deductions.

Robert E. Strahorn has applied to the public service commission for authority to establish a grade crossing over the Klamath Falls Municipal railroad, near Olene post office. Attorney General Brown has advised the desert land board in a written opinion, that the board would be within its authority to cancel the $50,000 bond put up by the Portland Irrigation company as a guarantee of the completion of the Paisley irrigation project and allow the company to substitute for the bond acceptable securities.

The company, because of litigation this county this year through purchasing from the government, telephoned to headquarters at Corvallis this afternoon that 6 tons was the amount Marion county farmers had placed orders for. The fertilizer will be purchased from the government for $75.00 per ton at seaboard point. Mr. Paulus stated that this was a small amount of fertilizer for the acreage of the county compared to the amount used over the south and east where this fertilizer has been in use longer and the farmers know more about the results it brings. Nitrate of soda is comparatively a new fertilizer in this section of the country.

Optometry Means Eye Service

Which of Your Eyes Is the Strongest?

Many people permit the strong eye to do the work nature intended should be done by the pair.

Do you know if your eyes are equal in strength—or is one limping along and letting the other bear the strain?

A thorough examination will remove that doubt and correct lenses in a Shur-On mounting will remedy the trouble.

Better have your eyes examined.
