

Her Christain Duty To Other Sufferers

MRS. M. E. LAUCKS

Had Been Troubled for Year With Gall Stones Until Fruitola Brought Relief

Anyone who has ever suffered the agony of gall stone trouble will understand the sense of gratitude that impelled Mrs. M. E. Lauck, Red Lion, York Co., Pa., (R. P. D. No. 1) to write to the Pinus laboratories as follows: "I feel it my Christian duty to anyone suffering from gall stones to write this testimonial. I suffered for several years with gall stones and severe attacks of gall colic. The best doctors in our community could not help me; the only thing they recommended was an operation, which I hesitated to permit. I am very thankful I heard of Fruitola and Traxo and used it. Have not had an attack for two years and gladly recommend with stomach trouble and gall stones, Fruitola is a pure fruit oil that acts as an intestinal lubricant, disintegrating the hardened particles that cause so much suffering and discharging the accumulated waste to the sufferer's intense relief. One bottle is usually sufficient to indicate its efficacy. Traxo is a tonic alternative that is most effective to rebuild and restore the weakened, run down system. A booklet of special interest to those who suffer with stomach trouble can be obtained by writing to the Pinus laboratories, Monticello, Illinois.

for them. They say it is an admission by the chief executive that a shakeup is needed.

"We seek my mandatory legislation to effect the re-organization the president has in mind," said one of them, "while the president seeks to do it through permissive legislation. The president wants to reorganize the whole government," said Senator Hitchcock. "The military affairs committee does not propose to go that far. We will continue our fight for the Chamberlain bills because we believe the reorganization and centralization necessary can be accomplished without granting the president such broad powers as he seeks."

That the measure will meet the most stubborn opposition from the minority side of the house was admitted. These opponents, it was predicted, would gather strength from the democrats.

The Salem Rebekah lodge, No. 1, was officially visited Monday evening by Mrs. Mary Lancaster of Astoria, the president of the Rebekah Assembly of Oregon. The Salem team exemplified their degree work at the request of Mrs. Lancaster, under the captain, Mrs. Fay Wright.

A six o'clock dinner was served to the members and the grand officers, after which an interesting program was given. Mrs. Lancaster gave the address of the evening, succeeded by the following speakers: Mrs. Ora Cosper of Dallas, grand secretary; Mrs. Emma Galloway, past president; Judge William Galloway, past grand master; John Ellis, past grandmaster. A social was contributed by a mixed quartette, and a reading given by Mrs. Siegmund. Mrs. Luella Engstrom, noble grand of the Salem lodge presided during the evening.

Mrs. A. T. Wynans and son, Earl Wynans, arrived in Salem Tuesday to attend the funeral services of Mrs. Wynans' mother, Mrs. Eliza O'Donald of Portland, which were held here Tuesday. Mrs. O'Donald was a sister of E. C. Cross, and a former resident of Salem, attending Williams University at Astoria. While in Salem Mrs. Wynans and her son will be the guests of Mrs. W. S. Mott.

Mrs. George H. Alden and Mrs. E. J. Swafford were Portland visitors on Tuesday, when they attended the Methodist Conference Board meeting held in that city. Following the meeting, the members of the board were entertained at a luncheon given by Mrs. Joshua Stanfield. Mrs. Alden went up to Portland Monday, to attend Judge Moreland's funeral. Mrs. Carl Engstrom was also among the Salem friends, attending the funeral of Judge Moreland.

Mrs. Mary Lancaster of Astoria has been the guest of Mrs. Carl Engstrom this week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Giddings have returned from a three month sojourn in Iowa, where they visited with relatives in Sioux City and Mapleton. Along with the other middle western states, Iowa received the full force of the recent cold spell. Mr. and Mrs. Giddings report, shortening their visit somewhat, by its extreme rigor.

Mrs. Ralph White and daughter, Miss Margaret, spent yesterday in Portland. Mrs. White, who has charge of several popular dancing classes in Salem, went to Portland to perfect herself in a number of the latest steps including the new ballroom and juvenile dances. Mrs. White spent the greater part of the day attending the classes of Professor Christensen, the well known Portland dancing instructor.

The Woman's Alliance of the Unitarian church will hold its next regular meeting tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. M. Hamilton on West Lincoln street. A Red Cross auxiliary will be organized at the meeting. It has been decided to take this step, inasmuch as the members are already doing Red Cross sewing and knitting.

Mrs. Minnie Hansen of Blaine, Washington, arrived in Salem yesterday, and will be the guest of her sister, Mrs. J. P. Keller.

The forty second birthday of William P. Babcock was delightfully observed last Sunday at his home on South Commercial street, when Mrs.

up when the senate gnashed its teeth in vain over the Garfield fuel order, is strongly opposed to granting any further general powers to the president.

The war department fight spread thru both houses of congress today.

Representative Carter Glass was ready with the first prepared defense of the administration that has been heard in congress.

In the senate Senator Shields attacked the constitutionality of the war cabinet and the munitions director bills. He charged they encroached upon powers given the executive department by the constitution.

Technical Training For Soldiers at O. A. C.

Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, Feb. 7.—(Special) President Kerr today returned to Washington to questionaire intended for a survey of the facilities of the Oregon state agricultural college that might be of use to the war department in providing technical training for soldiers. The plan of the government is to utilize technical institutions of the type of O. A. C. in providing special training for men who are in the service, in preparing them for certain positions requiring responsibility and technical skill. In the questionnaire there are upwards of eighty different occupations listed. While the college is not prepared to give instruction in all of these, the war department is being advised of the maximum number of men the college can train in the various occupations, such as the following: Gas engines, auto repair men, concrete workers, plumbers and steam fitters, wood specialists for aeroplane factories, electricians and repairmen, electric instrument and telephone repairmen, switchboard men, civil engineers, draftsmen, mechanical engineers, lumber specialists, blacksmiths, foundrymen, machinists, explosive experts, wood specialists for aeroplane factories, pattern makers, wood workers, photographers, radio operators, etc.

"Our entire plant is at the disposal of the government," said President Kerr, "for such uses as may be determined most important. We are fully equipped to accommodate 2000 men in the various lines of technical work distinctive of this institution."

GIRLS! DRAW A MOIST CLOTH THROUGH HAIR, DOUBLE ITS BEAUTY

Try This! Hair Gets Thick,
Glossy, Wavy and Beautiful
at Once

Immediate!—Yes! Certain! That's the joy of it. Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after a Danderine hair cleanse.

Just try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or excessive oil, and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair. A delightful surprise awaits those whose hair has been neglected or is scraggy, faded, dry, brittle or thin. Besides beautifying the hair, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair; but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing—all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair, and lots of it, surely get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter for a few cents.

to believe that there is a hell of suffering for those who sin. Of course we suffer for our wrong doings. Why shouldn't we?

"Some people think of the atonement as if God used Jesus to purchase and ransom humanity from the devil. The devil however, never owned anyone; can't own you unless you give yourself to him. You belong to God; His child, not the devil's."

"The cross is not a mere example of patient suffering. Other men have suffered as patiently as Christ, and have suffered even more awful deaths. What makes the cross real and vital is that it is God who thus identifies Himself with suffering mankind, God suffering with us, because He loves us. And that calls forth my love for Him."

The preacher speaks from a wealth of experience gained in his work in the slums of the eastern cities. He is able to strip aside all the futilities, and superficialities, and deal with the deep things of life. It is this faculty which makes his preaching so attractive. He speaks again tonight at 7:30 at St. Paul's. The mission closes Sunday evening.

SICK WIFE'S STORY SURPRISES SALEM

The following has surprised Salem: A business man's wife suffered from dyspepsia and constipation for years. Although she dieted she was so bloated her clothes would not fit. ONE SPOON PULBUKTHORN bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-Ika relieved her INSTANTLY. Because Adler-Ika empties BOTH large and small intestine it relieves ANY CASE constipation, sour stomach or gas and prevents appendicitis. It has QUICKEST action of anything we ever sold. J. C. Perry, drug-gist.

Rev. J. Attwood Stanfield at Episcopal Church

Erroneous ideas of what is meant by the atonement of the cross were reviewed by the Rev. J. Attwood Stanfield, missionary at St. Paul's church, this week, in a sermon preached last evening at that church.

"Some people think of the cross as the innocent suffering for the guilty," said the missionary. "I cannot find anything in the Scriptures or in my own experience to indicate to me that I am to escape, suffering for sin. My own sense of fair play compels me

Are You Still Young at Heart? Then Why Look Older Than You Feel?

Every woman is as young as she looks, so why let sentiment or prejudice prevent your keeping youthful as long as you wish? Not long ago many women would not use face powders or cosmetics. Today, most women know their needs and use them. This is equally true of the hair restorer. Thousands of women keep their hair dark and youthful with

Sinking of Tuscania Brings Us Face to Face With the Terrible Losses of War

Washington, Feb. 7.—"An adversary who has refined but made more deadly the stealth of the savage in warfare," has challenged America, Secretary of War Baker declared today in an official statement on the torpedoing of the Tuscania.

"But," he added, "we must and we will win this war." Baker made his statement after looking through the scant early cable dispatches on the disaster. He called off his promised appearance before the senate military committee shortly afterward.

"The sinking of the Tuscania," he said, "leaves us face to face with the losses of war in its most relentless form. It is the first challenge to the civilized world by an adversary who has refined, but made more deadly the stealth of the savage in warfare."

"We must win this war and we will win this war. Losses like this unite the country in sympathy with the families of those who have suffered loss; they also unite us to make more determined our purpose to press on.

"As rapidly as details come in they will be given to the public in order to relieve anxiety where possible and notice will be sent as soon as possible to those whose sons and brothers have been added to the nation's heroic dead."

"Ripe raspberries, grown out of doors strawberries, roses, new potatoes, all in January," is a headline in the Myrtle Point American.
