4.400 SUBSCRIBERS

(22,000 READERS) DAILY Only Circulation in Salem Guar-anteed by the Audit Bureau of

FULL LEASED WIRE DISPATCHES.

BPECIAL WILLAMETTE VAL-LEY NEWS SERVICE

WEATHER

FORTY-FIRST YEAR— NO. 36

SALEM, OREGON, MONDAY FEBRUARY 11 1918

PRICE TWO CENTS

TO CONCRESS CLEARLY

Lays Down Clearly the Principles Involved In Settlement of World War-Another Step In His "Open Air Diplomacy" Program-Austrian Foreign Minister's Proposals Are Taken Up and Further Discussion of Subject Is Invited-America's Entrance Into War Shown to Have Only High Purpose Behind It

Washington, Feb. 11.—President Wil- reason why he should communicate prison today openly invited Austria to vately with me. I am quite content to further discussion of peace with the be one of his public audience.

uted to account for these relatively of their desire to extend their territory slight casualties, 2. Secretary of War westward at the expense of Austria. Baker declared.

This was accepted here as meaning the Washington, Feb. 11.-President Wil- reason why he should communicate prifurther discussion of peace with the be one of his public audience.
Reply Is Vague. Count Von Hertling's reply is, I must

United States. In a remarkable address to congress say, very vague and very confusing. It is of survivors are sent from England. viki. in join session, the president laid down is full of equivocal phrases and leads it. The work of checking will be resumed. in join session, the president laid down the basis for such negotiations. Austria, he said, "seeing and conceding the essential principles involved and the necessity of candidly applying them, can respond to the purpose of peace as expressed by the United States with less embarrassment than could Germany.

No peace is possible, he declared, on German Chancellor Von Hertling's basis—"individual barter and concession".

to the substantiative items which must

The address was another broadside in the president's world campaign of "open air diplomacy."

It was an open bid to Austria and a powerful stroke at the German militarists. It aimed again to widen the wedge between the Teuton peoples and their junker rulers.

If the nations are to go further in their comparison of views, the president declared today, this foundation must be adhered to:

One—Every difficulty must be settled on its own merits.

In refuses to apply them to the substantiative items which must constitute the body of any final settlement. He is jealous of international action and of international council. He accepts, he says, the principle of public diplomacy, but he appears to insist that it be confined, at any rate in this case, to generalities and that the several particular questions of territory and sovereignty, the several questions upon whose settlement must depend the acceptance of peace by the twenty three states now engaged in the war, must be discussed and settled, not in general council, but severally by the nations tled on its own merits.

Two-There shall be no bartering of most immediately concerned by interest nations as in the congress of Vienna.

Three—The voice of the people must should be free but looks askance to direct territorial settlements.

direct territorial settlements.

Four—Full opportunity to carry out well defined national aspirations must the common order. He would without reon this foundation, the president de-removed between nation and nation for clared "a general peace can be discust that could in no way impede the ambi-

Until such a peace can be attained, it is constrained to keep on terms. We have no choice but to go on.' Neither does he raise objection to a liming to arrange a peace following the 'method of the congress of Vienna.' Conomic conditions which must follow we cannot and will not return to that

"method of the congress of Vienna."
We cannot and will not return to that. He scathingly attacked Chancellor Von Hertling's recent war aims speech as "vague, confusing and full of equivocal phrases."
On the other hand, Count Czernin, the Austrian premier, he said, "seems to see the fundamental elements of peace with elear eyes and does not seek to obscure them." He expressed the belief that Czernin would have gone much further in his reply to the president's last war aims speech "if it had not been for Austria's alliance with and dependence upon Germany."
In the present situation America threatens no one, the president declared, but to the end of attaining the principles for which she entered the war, But the German colonies, he demands, must be returned without debate, with like war. But the German colonies, he demands, must be returned without debate, he will discuss with no one but the government of seem the 'senditions' under which French territory shall be evacuated; and only with Austria what shall be done with Poland. In the determination of all questions affecting the Balkan states he defers, as I understand him, to Austria and Turkey; and with regard to the agreement to be entered into concerning the non-Turkish people of the present Ottoman empire, to the Turkish authorities themselves. After a settlement of the proposition, by individual bartet and concession, he would have no objection, if I correctly interpret his statement, to a league of nations which would undertake to hold the new bulance of power steady against external disturbance.

Not Sound Basis for Peace.

It must be evident to everyone who understands what this war has wrought in the opinion and temper of the world, tlements she has suggested are not the 'est or the most eviduring. They are ally her provisional sketch of principles and the way they should be applied.' America's force, he concluded, 'is formance to no nation or people. It will never be used in aggression or aggrandizement. It springs out of freedom and is for the sarvice of freedom.'

Text of Address.

Washington, Feb. 11.—The president's speech follows:

Gentlemen of the Congress:
On the eighth day of January I had

Washington, Feb. 11.—The president's speech follows:

Geathemen of the Congress:
On the eighth day of January I had the honor of addressing you on the objects of the war as our people conseive them.

The prime minister of Great Britain had spoken in similar terms on the fifth of January. To these addresses the German chancellor replied on the twenty-fourth and Count Czernin, for Austria, on the same day. It is gratifying to that all exchanges of view on this great matter should be made in the hearing of all the world.

Count Czernin's reply, which is directed chiefly to mw own address on the eighth of January, is utfered in a very friendly tone. He finds in my statement a sufficiently encouraging approach to the views of his own governments to the views of his own governments. He is represented to have intimated that the views he was expressing had been communicated to me beforchand, and that I was aware of them at the time he was uttering them; but in this I am sure he was misunderstood. I had received no intimation of what he intended to say. There was, of course, no page three) of the world. What we are striving for is a new international order, based on broad and universal principles of right and justice—no mere peace of shreds and justice—no mere peace of shreds and justice—no mere peace of shreds and justice and patches. It is possible that Count Von Herting does not see that, does not grasp it, is in fact living in his thought in a world dead and gone? Has he utterly forgot the reichstag resolutions of the nineteenth of July or does he utterly forgot the reichstag resolutions of the nineteenth of July or does he deliberately lipore them! They speck of the conditions of a general peace, not of national aggrandizement or of strangements between attent and state. The peace of the world depends upon the just settlement of each of the several problems to which I adverted in my recent address to the congress. I, of ourse, do not mean that the peace of the world depends upon the just settlement of each of the tended to say. There was, of course, no

(Continued on page three)

Oregonians Not Yet Reported Among Survivors May Come In Later Lists

Washington, Feb. 11.-This govern-

Other Missing Troopers On this basis other Oregon men still naccounted for include: Peter A. Agrén, Jewell. Harry G. Bates, Baker. Sidney W. Bernitt, Marshfield. George N. Bjork, St. Helens, Verner G. Branland, Colton. Edwin J. Burgess, Noti. Hallie M. Hoselton, Coburg. Hand M. Erickson, Beaverton. Elmer H. Houston, Held. Carl V. Jacobson, Elk City Gus Johnson, Reedspore. Clarence A. Knott, Ruinier, John A. Laakke, Astoria. Walter T. Larson, Warren. Bulger Theodore E. Lewton, Forest irove.

George Montray, Grandview. Henry C. Murphy, Grandview.
Henry C. Murphy, Wallowa.
Riley F. Murray, Eugene.
Wilber S. Nutt, Spring Valley.
Edward F. Parker, Grants Pass.
James L. Pierce, Creswell.
Roy E. Powelson, Mill City.
Loy B. Redfield Clerific Joe R. Redfield, Glendale, Archie D. Roberts, Salem. Lester L. Smith, Galice. Elvin O. Stevens, Springfield. Percy A. Stephens, Bend. Corporal Terry Tuttle, Elgin. Curtis W. Wilson, Salem.

Many Oregonians Safe. The Portland survivors, as far as anounced are:

(Continued on page six.)

GERMANY MAY PURCHASE PEACE WITH RUMANIA BY GIVING SLICE OF RUSSIA

the efficient handling of a difficult of Russian Bessarabia, as an induce-situation by those in command, contrib-ment for the Rumanians' abandonment of Ukraine will extend from Tarnogoroo Baker declared.

Names of additional Oregon men will central powers would forcibly seize this possibly be received when additional territorial bait from the Russian Bolshe-

> Second only to the Rumanian situation in interest was the Ukraine-Teuton pence pact. There was some speculation in official circles here as to whether the

> > San Jose, Cal., Feb. 11 .- "I have another son, Charles, and he is ready to go now,' was the answer today of Mrs. Antone Chavez to the news that her son

German bullet in France and his brother George was a Tuscania alone but we do not mind because we know they fight gladly for us. We pray America shall win and win soon and that our boys will come home to us."

"My husband and I may be

Mother of Wounded

Mashington, Feb. 11.—This government is still unable to announce the lass been found to succeed Premier Bratiano's ministry, which resigned Friday after a rapid succession of meetings.

United Press figures based on a careful decking of announced survivors, against the ship's roster, showed 342 still unaccounted for in official cables thus far compiled.

War department reports show no change in the original statement that 113 American officers and soldiers are believed to have lost their lives when the vessel was torpedoed.

"The fine discipline of the men and the efficient handling of a difficult of Russian Bessarabia, as an induce
The pact provisional early decided anges caused by military measures would be permitted to "retanol anges caused by military measures would be "abandoned" and that war prisoners would be permitted to "return or remain."

The pact provided for immediate resumption of economic conmediate resumption of economic con-

(about 100 miles south of Lublin, Po land) through Bilgaraj, Szvezbrozsyu Sarnaki, Melnik, Wysekolitovsk, Kam ienzlitovsk, Pruschany to Wydonows

The details of the frontier, it is reported, will be settled by a special commission. Diplomatic and consular relations will be resumed as soon as the central powers would obtain large sup- treaty is ratified," it was said.

Will Remain In France Boy Will Send Another With Body of Her Son

> By W. S. Forrest (United Press Staff Correspondent) Paris, Jan. 15 .- (By Mail) .- Mrs. Beverly Macmonigal of San Francisco has decided to pass the remainder of her killed in an unequal air combat on the front, he had passed ten days leave with the American lines.

The full story of how the American Amsterdam report is true, Russia ap-

Edward T. Beletski, 908 Capitol Ave. day night when last seen. His over-Frank L. Clark, 449 East Twenty-Sec-coat remained on the houseboat. wony was formerly an attorney at the attacked them with resolution. Fe

By J. W. Pegler (United Press staff correspondent) With the American Armies in France Feb. 10-(Delayed)-A Texas Sammy was the hero of Friday's patrol battle in which five Americans were killed day. and four captured, it was learned to-

The Texan remained in No Man's first aid work, the Texan left a badly wounded Sammy in charge of another

Making his way back to the Ameri-can trench, the Texan filled his can-front, he had passed ten days leave with his mother in Paris. She came to Paris darkness among the wire entangle to be near him and the two had planned

(Continued on page six)

By Lowell Mellett
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
London, Feb. 11.—How Rumania will accept the reported Teutonic ultimatum, which was to have expired yesterday, was the question that occupied British officialdom today.

Latest reports from provisional capital of Jassy were that no new cabinet has been found to succeed Premier Bratiano's ministry, which resigned Friday prisoners would be "abandoned" and that war prisoners would be permitted to "re-tourned to the control of the Ukraine treaty.

They declared that "indemnities and danges caused by military measures" would be "abandoned" and that war prisoners would be permitted to "re-tourned to the Ukraine treaty.

They declared that "indemnities and danges caused by military measures" but they articipated. Latest reports here indicated that country had but a ten per cent surplus of wheat.

Berlin dispatches received via Copprisoners by Germans

During Fight

Augusticana All Troops Are Ordered Demonstrations and the Ukraine treaty.

They declared that "indemnities and danges caused by military measures" but they articipated. Latest reports here indicated that country had but a ten per cent surplus of wheat.

Berlin dispatches received via Copprisoners by Germans

During Fight

Augusticana All Troops Are Ordered Demonstrations and the Ukraine treaty.

They declared that "indemnities and danges caused by military measures" but they articipated. Latest reports here indicated that country had but a ten per cent surplus of wheat.

Berlin dispatches received via Copprisoners by Germans

During Fight

All Troops Are Ordered Demonstration and the proposition of the Ukraine treaty.

They declared that "indemnities and danges caused by military measures" but they are indicated that country had but a ten per cent surplus of wheat.

Berlin dispatches received via Copprisoners by Germans

During Fight

Amsterdam, Feb. 11.-The Russian Bolsheviki government has definitely withdrawn from the war ordering complete demobilization of Russian forces on all fronts, it was reported here to-

Dispatches received from Brest-Li-tovak declared that Leon Trotsky Bolsheviki foreign minister, while refus-Land after the encounter, ministering ing to sign a formal peace pact, asto two wounded comrades.

After ten minutes of impromptu powers is ended."

wounded Sammy in charge of another wounded man, who was trying to staunch the flow of blood from the seriously wounded lad's hurts.

German Sunday newspapers, received in Zurish from Stuttgart today restously wounded lad's hurts.

German peace negotiations" at Brest-

This may indicate that Trotsky, to teen with water and returned to his save Russia from the threatened Ger-comrades. He found the man who had been ser- evidently amounted to an ultimatum

* has decided to pass the remainder of her days in France in memory of her son, iously wounded lying dead in the arms the late Sergeant Douglas Macmonigal of the Other, who was crying:

'For God's sake Buddy, don't die tonight! Let's get another crack at the dirty boches.'

The Texan brought both the wounded lying dead in the arms from the central powers, ordered complete withdrawal of his country from the war.

While minor factions favors continuance of the fighting, and may still give the Teutons some trouble, through guerilla warfare, the Bolsheviki continuance of the fighting and may still the American lines. the parently is through as a factor in the

SEARCH RIVER FOR BODY

Portland, Or., Feb. $1.—Grapplers are today searching the river for the body of Lieutenant C. K. Twohy, stationed at Vancouver barracks, who is believed to have fallen into the river and drowned. Twohy was attending a dancing party on a houseboast Sature and drowned and night when last seen. His over to be near him and the two had planned to spend every possible day of future leaves together.

A few days ago Mrs. Macmonigal received from the French authorities the body of Lieutenant C. K. Twohy, stationed at Vancouver barracks, who is believed to have fallen into the river and drowned. Twohy was attending a dancing party on a houseboast Sature erican pilot, full of audace and courage day night when last seen. His over day night when last seen. His over to spend every possible day of future or swere able to talk after fumes had departed from their lungs in the base departed from the lungs in the base departed from their lungs in the base departed from the lungs in the base departed from their lungs in the base departed from the lungs in the base depart

(Continued on page four)

PEACE MUST BE MADE BY CENTRAL POWERS SOON OR PEOPLE WILL FORCE IT

Conditions With the Masses of Population Have Finally Become Unendurable

William Philip Simms, United Press staff correspondent, who has been on the battle fronts in Europe since the war began, was recently assigned to make a personal investigation of the actual state of affairs in the central powers were disrupted. Thereupon, Scheidemann and his followers automatically aligned themselves with the government. Like rats in a corner, they meant to fight, undging from what everyone fresh from Germany is saying, the allies are now on the right track, in that they will only continue the war until the German war party gives up its ambitions for world conquest, when they are ready to make an equitable peace (Continued on ones form) empires through the best possible sources of accurate information. His report, cabled from Zurich, Switzersand, will appear in the Capital Jour-nal in four dispatches of which the following is the first.

By William Philip Simms (United Press staff correspondent) (Copyrighted 1918 by the United Press staff)

Zurich, Switzerland, Feb. 11. - An ominous unrest is growing daily throughout the central empires. Germany and Austria must have peace or go under. The people of both countries demand.

If the allies stand pat on the Wil-sonian program and make a stone wall of the western front, the end of the war is in sight.

This sums up the situation, as seen from here, at this time.

It doesn't mean that Germany is on the brink of a revolution. But it does mean the people are tired of war and opposed to the Pan-German policy of

They are angry over the privations at home and the losses of men folk at the front. At the same time they be-lieve President Wilson is sincere in his tatement of war aims.

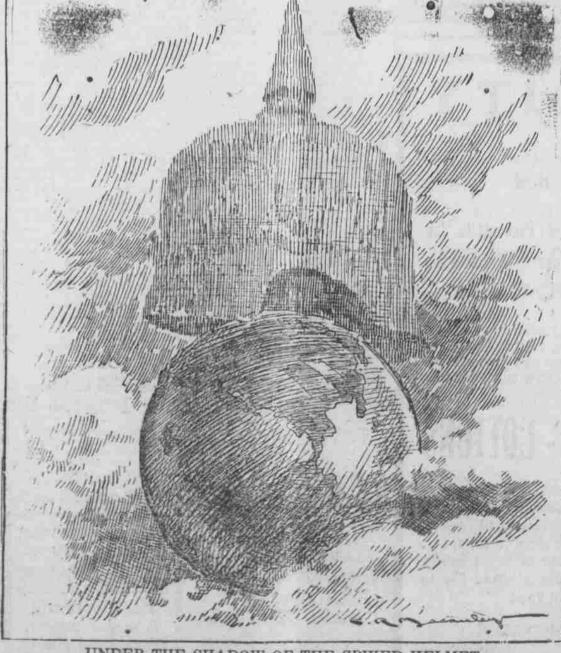

There is no doubt that the masse of the people are going to see the light Only the diplomatic blanders of the allies have kept them bound to the war party this long-n they would not stop un-j they are at home.

(Continued on page four)

Abe Martin

It begins t' look like th' oldest in-For instance, Philip Scheidemann habitant would have t' drop th' ole eighteen mouths ago threatened some-time winters an' talk about th' days thing little short of a revolution un-when th' sky wux so full o' wild pigless the junkers changed their tone, cons you had t' carry a lantern. Some Shortly after this the allies published folks are better off in a the-ater than

UNDER THE SHADOW OF THE SPIKED HELMET