The illustrated lecture and food exhibit at the public library tonight promises to be quite interesting. The winter street entrance to the auditorium will be open at 7:15, and the lecture on Russia will start at 8 o'clock. The interval between will be given to examining the food exhibit, and opportunity for this will also be given after the lecture. The public is cordially invited to attend.

"The Mormon Maid" was the cause of considerable disturbance among the Mormons in Seattle, where the picture just finished a successful engagement. Jack Lannon, who owns the production in the Pacific northwest, reports that the Mormon elders demanded of the city officials that the picture be suppressed. As a result of the agitation, the picture was put up to the Seattle censor board, which passed it unanimously. This picture will be shown in Salem at the Liberty theatre starting Friday of this week.

A certain prominent Salem business man lost his trousers on his way down town one morning this week. Arriving at his place of business he discovered, with much alarm, the loss, and started to slip back the way he had come to look for the lost trousers. Several blocks back he found said trousers straddling the low-down branch of a tree along the pavement. Said business man rubbed his eyes, looked around, hastily rolled the trousers up and thrust them under his arm. Of course he had others on. He was merely bringing the lost garment down to the cleaners and pressers and had dropped it on the way.

The regular annual meeting of the stockholders of the Salem Fruit Union will be held in this city next Saturday February 16, beginning at 10 o'clock a. m. The directors will be chosen to take the place of Dr. O. B. Miles and W. T. Stolz, whose terms expire on this date, and the annual report of the business for 1917 will be made by Manager Robert C. Paulus. In addition the regular business of the meeting, the growers will be addressed by Professor I. C. Lewis, chief of the division of horticulture at O. A. C., who will talk on the question of fertilizers for orchards and berries. Lunch will be served at noon to the members, who are asked to come prepared to stay all day.

At the meeting of the Salem Floral Society Monday evening it was voted to give 200 rose slips to the poor farm for use in beautifying their grounds. The society also took up the matter of setting a date for "Exchange Day," at which time all who have plants, shrubs and seed adaptable for setting or planting bring them to a central location and exchange them for different plants, etc., which they do not have at home. Last year an exchange day was held and it is estimated that 3000 exchanges of plants were made. A very interesting address was made at the meeting Monday night by Luther J. Chapin, who spoke on "War Gardens."

MINE WAS EXPLODED.
Rome, Feb. 13.—A mine was exploded under enemy positions at Passabio, considerably damaging them, the war offices stated today.

At Coleprile an enemy attempt to break through the Italian defenses, after a violent artillery preparation, was checked. Several enemy prisoners were taken.

LITTLE TALKS ON THRIFT

By S. W. STRAUSS
President American Society for Thrift

While we have made tremendous strides in the country toward a more thorough application of thrift principles in our daily lives, we still have much to learn in this direction. On every hand we find evidences of intelligent economy, and on all sides, too, we see manifestations of waste. For example we are told by the waste disposal conservation section of the food administration that 25 cities in the United States throw away in garbage $2,400,000 worth of grease, $1,000,000 worth of fertilizer, 8,000,000 pounds of glycerin, and 200,000,000 pounds of soap making material. In 29 American cities with a population of about 17,000,000 garbage to the amount of 1,250,000 tons is wasted each year. This waste would be sufficient to produce 70,000,000 pounds of grease worth $8,500,000 and 150,000 tons of fertilizer valued at $2,250,000.

There are 25 cities with a population of over 5,000,000 that could by establishing reduction plants save $1,000,000 worth of fertilizer and $2,400,000 worth of grease annually. Excluding cities of 100,000 and over, the available American garbage (most of which now is wasted) would produce 120,000,000 pounds of pork valued at $20,000,000. The output of glycerin in garbage now wasted is sufficient to supply 8,000,000

Daily Newspaper By Seattle Unionists

Seattle, Wash., Feb. 13.—A daily newspaper, owned and directly controlled by the Central Labor Council of Seattle, will appear on the streets of the Puget Sound metropolis within a few weeks, if plans now well under way are consummated.

Already the Seattle labor unions have fostered a successful mutual laundry as an outgrowth of Seattle's recent laundry workers strike, and a new cooperative meat market is ready to start.

The paper will be named the Daily Union Record. E. B. Ault, editor-manager of the present Weekly Union Record, says the daily will have a modern printing plant and full leased wire telegraph service.

The tremendous influx of highly paid shipyard workers is responsible for the unprecedented prosperity of the Seattle unions. Labor leaders assert there are 45,000 members of unions in Seattle.

Labor Leader Predicts Revolt of Laborers

Chicago, Feb. 13.—Prophecying a revolution in the United States "if the government doesn't come to the people's aid," John Kennedy, president of the International Meat Cutters union, today asked Arbitrator Samuel Alschuler to grant the demands of the stockyards workers.

"There is nothing for the common people to do but take these matters in their own hands," said Kennedy. "Mine owners, packers and railroads are forcing them to this every hour." Kennedy pointed to "poverty stricken" women and children of the stockyards district, who were present as evidence. Attorney Frank P. Walsh, directing the workers' case, expects to call some of them to testify.

John Tikulski, American Federation of Labor organizer, when called as a witness, blamed the importation of negro laborers for the low wage scale. He said but ten per cent of the packing house employees were Americans.

GENERAL PLUMMER RETURNS

Camp Dodge, Iowa, Feb. 13.—Major General E. H. Plummer, commandant of the 88th division has returned to America after a two months' visit at the fighting front in France.

His safe arrival at an American port was announced here today without details.

It is thought the general will stop off at Washington en route to the camp. During Plummer's absence Brigadier General Getty has been in command of the cantonment.

Arrested For Exploding Ammunition Works

Pottsville, Pa., Feb. 13.—Harold McCool, 30, residence unknown, is held in the Schuylkill county prison here today by the state police on a charge of complicity in blowing up the Edgelytown ammunition plant on April 10, 1917, resulting in the death of 140 persons and the injury of a hundred others.

He was picked up at Ambler, Pa., on Tuesday, by Trooper Eiler, who has charge of a sub-station there.

KELLOGG ON RAILROADS.

Washington, Feb. 13.—Senator Kellogg, Minnesota, today predicted failure of government control of railroads in a speech to the senate on the railroad control bill. Kellogg declared that over the roads was not necessary.

"All that was necessary for congress to authorize the president to appoint a director who should have authority to see that the railroads would be operated as a unit in order to facilitate as far as possible the transportation of those articles absolutely necessary to the life of the people and the prosecution of the war," he said.

The Medford American has been founded by the American Publishing company, with W. W. Watson, as manager.

SECOND DRAFT PROPOSED

Washington, Feb. 13.—The second draft call probably will not be before May or June, Representative Flood stated on the floor of the house this afternoon. Chairman Dent of the military committee confirms Flood's statement, saying he had information from the war department that the call will not be made for "some time."

Congress May Raise Government Wheat Price

Washington, Feb. 13.—Legislation to increase the price of wheat this year from $2, as fixed in the food control law, to $2.50, was introduced in the senate today.

Senator Gore, chairman of the agricultural committee, who introduced the measure, declared that an increased price was necessary to insure production of wheat already in prospect.

Senator McCumber, North Dakota, also offered a resolution increasing the price of wheat to $2.75 a bushel.

"The winter wheat crop is going to be short," said Gore. "Unless the price is increased, much wheat will be ploughed under this spring and corn planted."

Get the proper Glasses and your eyes will rest easy.

How many of your friends have you told about the comfort you are deriving from those glasses I fitted for you. I ask this question because so many people have come to me saying they were sent to me by a friend.

You can rest assured that your eyes will be given proper attention and perfect service if I fit you.

I guarantee satisfaction in every respect.
