LIFE AND BATTLES OF JOHN L. SULLIVAN

CHAPTER XXIV.

Milling meekly at times, the men were beginning to show the terrific strain. Kilrain dropped helplessly whenever the chance came, and it was not until the sixty-eighth round that Sullivan was able to land a blow that began to turn the tide toward a certain defeat of his challenger. Kilrain was falling to the ground to end a round when the champion delivered a right uppercut with all his strength. It caught Kilrain under the chin, lifted him from his half-reclining posture, and sprawled him in a heap against the ropes. He was in very bad shape when his seconds lifted him and carried him to his corner.

From then on, Kilrain fought as if in a daze. Although he never admitted it, it is more than probable that Kilrain was, even then, out, but fighting on mechanically with a fighter's spirit. He slipped and skidded around the ring as Sullivan vainly tried to put over a blow that would finish the fight.

In the seventy-fifth round Kilrain caught a very light tap to the neck, but he reeled and went down under it. He had to be assisted to his feet and to his corner. Once seated there, Charley Mitchell left him and walked to the Sullivan corner, where he again proposed that the bout be called a draw. Sullivan looked at him contemptuously and growled:

"Let him stand up and fight like a man. We'll call it no draw till it's over."

Mitchell carried the news back to the Kilrain corner and Mike Donovan, another of the Kilrain supporters, picked a sponge from the water bucket, walked to the center of the ring and threw it into the air. The fight was over. Sullivan had gained the victory by a knockout, but it was over one of the most courageous men he ever had met. Kilrain protested vainly and wept when Donovan carried the sponge to the center of the ring, and afterward he told friends his heart had been broken.

The fight was the last ever held in this country with bare knuckles, under London prize ring rules. It left John L. Sullivan the champion under this code, an honor which never has been wrested from him. When he again fought--this time to meet James J. Corbett, it was with gloves.

The best dispeller any belief held by sport followers that John L. Sullivan was through. The hero had returned and he was just such of a hero as ever.

Both men had a lot of trouble before they finally settled their differences with the law over the Richburg fight. Sullivan was hauled from a train in Tennessee as he was passing through on his way back out and held before a court. He stated afterward that it cost him more than $25,000 to get out of his difficulties.

NON ESSENTIALS

which experts are attacking the problem, the bureau of standards has recommended to the shipping board that crates between cans in cases of canned goods be filled with beans, rice or dried fruits. Twenty per cent. of the space on the average canned goods crate is wasted by the space between round cans.

Shipping experts point out that even if 20 per cent of shipping space can be saved, this is equivalent to adding one ship in five to the fleet in war service.

Administrator Hoover, it was learned officially today, has been personally considering the advisability of establishing a wheatless week but this plan has been rejected completely in favor of more drastic and far-reaching measures.

French Supplies Low

Food administration officials endorsed Andre Tardieu, French high commissioner, in his plea for more food for France. His statement that in the last three months only one third of the cereal requirements had been met was substantiated. This situation, it was reiterated, must lead to steps shortly, materially reducing the consumption of cereals.

War's tremendous drain on American meat supply apparently has not yet reduced the stock materially, according to figures just made public by the railroad administration.

The greatest increase at any market compared with receipts last year was at Chicago where the increase was 5,542 cars. Chicago also leads in total receipts for the month.

With the appointment of Charles Barham to be stationed at Atlanta, the food administration today had three regional traffic managers to cooperate with the railroad administration in dovetailing the supplies of vital goods to be moved from farms to markets with the necessary cars to carry them.

The other representatives are at Chicago and New York city.

Isn't it about time that next season's crops are being reported in danger because of too little heat or too much cold, or not enough moisture or too much rain, or something of that kind?

WILL SEAT 23,000 IF THEY STAGE FIGHT

Plan to Have Thousands of $3 and $5 Seats--All Going to Chicago

New Orleans, La., Mar. 19.—Matt Hinkle and Dominick Tortorich, fight promoters, who are partners in the $105,000 bid for the Willard-Fulton championship battle are now busy figuring on preparing the biggest fight arena in history of pugilism if their record smashing offer is accepted. Tortorich already has an arena which seats over 10,000 fans, but he and Hinkle have decided to enlarge this to seat 23,000, if they stage the battle.

They plan for the first time in ring history to have thousands of $3 and $5 seats, which will be popular price duces when compared with prices at other heavyweight champion affairs. Ringside box seats are to sell at $50 each and possibly $100.

All Eyes on Chicago.

Chicago, Mar. 19.—Chicago today became headquarters for the approaching heavyweight fight when promoters and managers were reported heading this way. Fred Fulton's manager, Mike Collins, will confer with Promotor J. C. Miller, possibly producing his fighter to sign the formal agreement to meet Jess Willard July 4.

Dominick Tortorich of New Orleans, who offered $105,000 for the match, also notified Miller he is shortly coming for a talkfest.

Want Sunday Baseball.

New York, Mar. 19.—Baseball lovers of this city want an amuse to Albany today to take up the cudgels of oratory in favor of the Sunday baseball bill, now languishing in the state legislature. They will point out, among other things that golf and other games are permitted without restriction, but baseball is not. Judge Francis McQuade will be one of those present.

Two Coast Umpires.

San Francisco, Mar. 19.—Pearl Casey and Ed Finney are slated today as two of the Pacific Coast league's umpires this season. President Baum didn't name the other one, Ralph Frary, Herman Held and Bill Hyle are candidates. There will be only three umpires.

Ping May Sign Today.

Macon, Ga., Mar. 19.—The Yankees training grind may now proceed without further interruption. Ping Bodie will don a uniform for the first time today. Ping hasn't signed a contract, but is expected to today.

Indians Are Shy.

New Orleans, La., Mar. 19.—The Cleveland Indians are still six players shy of their complete quota, absentees being Bagby, Groom, Boshing, Speaker and two recruits. Harry Lunte, infielder from Mobile, and Floyd Farmer, outfielder from Portland. All but Bagby and Boshing are expected to report before the end of the week. Bagby's holdout may last till the season starts.

The Cubs' Line Up.

Pasadena, Cal., Mar. 19.—With his first game of the season—against San Diego—24 hours away, Manager Mitchell of the Cubs announced his lineup which may be retained throughout the 1918 season. Pasick, Mann and Flack, in the outfield; Merkle, Kiluff, Holler and Deal infielders, were the favored players.

Grover Alexander, supposed to decide on joining or quitting, showed no signs of weakening.

HE RATTLED THE SLATS OF THE DENTAL TRUST!

And he's still jarring the so-called "ethical" tooth-cobblers by selling dentistry that is so different—so much better and so fair in price that he has now the most efficient and best appointed offices of their kind in the Pacific Northwest. The enormous patronage of the Painless Parker offices, not only in Portland, Salem and Tacoma, but also in thirteen other large cities is strong enough endorsement of the work done by this organization.

The Painless Parker system is to bring dentistry to everybody's doors. Tooth-grief multiplies like tar-weed. While you are going about your business, suffering from a decayed tooth or a nagging nerve, putting off the day when you will visit the fang-fixer, you are only making the matter worse and more costly for yourself.

That's why the Painless Parker offices in the Northwest have, at heavy expense, sent their novel demonstration motor-cars throughout the thinly settled districts, giving lectures on the importance of the care of one's teeth and giving conclusive illustrations of the painlessness of our operations by out-of-door work in the automobile. Many a person, who, hitherto, had paid no more attention to the teeth in his head than he has to the teeth in his harrow—often not as much—has been thus aroused to the danger of neglecting his chawers and has found welcome and inexpensive relief at our hands.

The beauty about the Painless Parker system is that because of the size of the organization, it is possible to provide patients with specialists to handle their individual cases. If it is crown work an expert operator takes the job. Another expert looks after the bridge work; another, pyorrhea; another, filling, and so on.

Not only this, but the dental work is backed with a guarantee good in any of the nineteen offices of the Painless Parker organization, or any we may open in the future. If our work needs attention, call and have it straightened out free of charge. Call, anyway, once every six months, and have the ivories given the once-over, just for good luck.
