Marion County Leads In Thrift Stamp Sales

According to figures issued today by county superintendent W. M. Smith, who is in charge of the county Thrift Stamp work, Marion county is leading the state, outside of Portland, in sales. To date, Marion county has sold $77,345 worth of stamps and the nearest competitor is Clackamas with $55,197. The thrift stamp campaign is producing results. The first day's work has not yet been reported by the workers, but postmaster August Huckestein is receiving hundreds of orders on the cards used by the workers. The total orders and the numbers have not been made up as yet, but several hundred orders are waiting at the postoffice for filling, ranging from 25c to $25. The work is continuing in the city and in the county. In addition to workers making the house to house canvass, speakers are being used. Mr. Huckestein is addressing the children of the Grant school this afternoon on Thrift stamps.

Exemption Board Says 586 Men In Class One

The local exemption board today wired the adjutant general at Portland the number of men in the Marion county draft list, and the number in class one. Class one men now total 586 out of a total of 1885 registered in the county, but this figure may be a trifle modified when complete returns are made by the district board. The information is desired by the adjutant general's office and will be sent to Washington. The number of class one men is playing a larger part in the registration work now, and it is possible that future quotas will be based on the number of men in this class.

CONTROLS RAILROADS NOW.

Washington, Mar. 21.—President Wilson today signed the railroad control bill which gives the government absolute control over the operation of roads of the country for the duration of the war.

Klamath County Is Having More Trouble Over Its Court House

Klamath Falls, Or., Mar. 21.—Klamath county's old contention—the location of the courthouse—developed into yet another fight today, with a suit on file in the circuit court to prevent the court from proceeding with its plan of abandoning the partially completed structure in Hot Springs addition after expenditures of $189,000 and erecting a new building on the site of the present court house. A second recall is under way. A contract for construction of an entirely new court house was made yesterday with a Portland firm, Commissioner Burrell Short refusing to sign the contract. The court contends that it will be cheaper to build a new building than to finish the partially completed structure. Petitions asking the recall of County Judge Marion Banks and Commissioner Frank McCornack are in circulation. If this election is called, it will be the second within five years growing out of the courthouse feud. In the preceding recall Judge Worden, who started the courthouse on the Hot Springs site, but although the failed, bitterness developing over the courthouse resulted in his defeat for re-election a year later.

WILD TIME IN REICHSTAG

Zurich, Mar. 21.—Wild scenes in the German reichstag on Tuesday are described by the Munich Zeitung, copies of which were received here today. Independent socialist members, resenting the vice president's criticisms of the Russian peace treaty, rushed toward the chair, shouting and gesticulating. Quill was restored by floor officers. Doctor Ledebour is one of the majority socialist leaders.

THE NON PARTISAN LEAGUE GIVEN ROAST BY ARTHUR FOSTER

Says Greatest Enemy to America Except Kaiser—Calls Townley Graftor

The principal address given at the monthly membership meeting last night at the Commercial club was made by Arthur Foster, who spoke on the Non-Partisan League. Mr. Foster lived in North Dakota when the league was first organized and has seen two years' of its workings, and his advice is that every effort should be made to prevent it from getting a foothold in Oregon. Some of the high points of Mr. Foster's address were as follows: "Next to the job of licking the Kaiser the non-partisan league is the biggest thing in the United States today that has to be met. "The non-partisan league controls three states and is working in three or four more. It has a campaign fund of three or four million dollars. The next campaign will be decided by the league, for it will hold the balance of power. "The league was organized to control the politics of North Dakota. Its organizers never got near a town. They stay away from business men, and work in secret. Township and whole counties are signed up over night. The business men of North Dakota thought it was a big joke at first and that in a few months it would never be heard of. In six months the league controlled North Dakota. In three years it has gained control of North Dakota, Montana and Idaho, and has a strong following in Minnesota and other states. "The Non-Partisan Leader," the league's newspaper, reminds one of reading a certain paper published in Kansas, the "Appeal to Reason." "I have lived in North Dakota and made a living when I sold my wheat at 40 cents a bushel, oats at 15 cents and hops at 4 cents a pound. They bring five times that price now. Any man who tries to tell you that the farmer is downtrodden today has a screw loose, and any attempt to stir up discontent among the farmers is criminal. "Townley is a failure as a farmer and as a business man, and he is in bankruptcy proceedings now. He would make 'Get Rich Quick Wallingford' look like 30 cents. He has collected $4,000,000 from the farmers of North Dakota and adjacent states in two years. "Townley ought to be in jail. He is going about right now and preaching sedition among the farmers. He is encouraging an antagonistic spirit among the farmers to help the Red Cross and to subscribing to Liberty bonds. "When the league gained control of the lower house all kinds of radical and farcical bills were passed. One bill passed the house that three members of the supreme bench should be farmers. Bills were passed throwing the state open to bonded indebtedness, which had not been prevented from becoming law by the holdover senators in the senate, would have had the state bankrupt by today. If the league gets complete control of both houses this election and puts into effect its socialistic and radical constitution, I will take $25 an acre for my farm, worth considerably over $100 an acre now. "Living in North Dakota without being a member of the league is like living with your face against a grindstone. You can't reason with them, nor argue—nothing. Farmers who are my best friends and the truest fellow in the world take to it like religion. They live and swear by it. I don't know why it is, unless they have had the gospel of discontent preached to them so long that they consider themselves the most oppressed class of people on earth and grab at anything that promises relief. Whole counties and townships sign up to a man. "Anybody who says the non-partisan league is not affiliated with the I. W. W. is either a liar or very ignorant. It is affiliated with the I. W. W., and is the same thing among farmers that the I. W. W. are among the laboring classes." Arthur E. Giffard, superintendent of the mails at the local postoffice, made a short talk, asking greater cooperation between the business men and the postal department. Mr. Giffard stated that one way in which the business men could help greatly was to mail their letters earlier in the day so that outgoing mail would not accumulate at the post office all at once. He suggested that business houses make at least two mailings a day, one of which should be before noon. E. T. Barnes moved that a petition be presented to the postal department to install mail boxes at the intersections of State and Court streets with Church, thus making it more convenient to mail letters. A letter was read by Secretary Ivan G. McDaniel of results accomplished in several cities in centralizing all Red Cross, Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A. and other war funds campaigns into the hands of one committee. Short talks were made by E. A. Harris and Rev. Robert Gill favoring the plan, and a motion was made by W. M. Hamilton that a committee be appointed to investigate various methods. P. G. Deekabach spoke on the impending liberty loan drive which is scheduled to open on April 6. Mr. Deekabach emphasized the fact that it is not a question of giving but a question of saving. "We must back up the government in debts it has already incurred," said Mr. Deekabach. "It is not the intention of the government to take money for liberty bonds out of the regular channels of trade, not to take money needed in carrying on business, far that would defeat the ends aimed at. But it is from savings and profits that the bonds are to be subscribed from."

Judge Kelly Tries Conserving Jurors, Cuts Them 25 Per Cent

The circuit court continued its sessions today and finally got the Collins versus Weyl-Zukerman case in the hands of the jury after a three day trial. The jury has not reported on the affair. This suit involved a question of whether onions delivered to the defendant by Mr. Collins were wet when brought into the warehouse at Brooks. Mr. Collins claims they were wet, that he had not been paid in full, and desired damages totaling $600. The defendant alleges that the onions were wet, and as a result many spoiled and that Mr. Collins was paid for all the onions delivered in good shape. The court is trying the case of Haack versus Goidich this afternoon before the short end of the jury. With 12 men out on the onion affair, but 9 are remaining, and by the agreement of the attorneys the abbreviated panel was accepted. This case was appealed by Mr. Gooch from Judge Webster's court, and involves the collection of money for service.

Price Changes Narrow and Market Is Firm

New York, Mar. 21.—The New York Evening Sun financial review today says: Price changes were narrow in the future in both the industrial and railroad lists. Firmness underlay the market. Monetary strength was shown in the steel and equipment shares under the leadership of American car and Foundry, which advanced nearly two points. Pittsburgh coal, Corn Products, refining and the Alcohol issues were in a measure strong spots. There was a slight stiffening of prices in the last hour, but changes were confined to small fractions. The oil stocks moved forward, particularly Mexican Petroleum and Texas Company, the latter gaining some three points. The rails made only the mildest response. St. Paul preferred which advanced over a point, being one of the few exceptions. Trading quickened in the last fifteen minutes and advances on the day of a point, also were shown.

Month's Grain Exports Are 45,447,000 Bushels—Consumption Reduced

Chicago, Mar. 21.—March exports of grains to the allies will be larger than the February shipments which were the biggest in months, food administration officials here declared today. American ports will be nearly choked to capacity with exports this month "so that America is discharging its obligation," officials said. Army rations of wheat flour have been cut from 33 pounds a month per man in the last two months to fourteen pounds per month per man officials say by curtailing the waste and by substitution of proper mixed flours and other foods. An effort is to be made to establish a standard of twelve pounds of wheat flour per month for every American civilian, according to food officials. Exports during February were: Wheat and flour, 16,382,000 bushels. Corn and corn meal, $2,383,000 bushels. Barley, 6,614,000 bushels. Rye and rye flour, 1,995,000 bushels. Oats and oat meal, 14,473,000 bushels. Total 45,347,000 bushels.
