estimates today went as high as one billion men.

New proof that the drive was forced by internal economic and political pressure in the central empire came today in a dispatch to an embassy saying:

"Intervention had been attempted on the part of the social democratic deputies of Austria, who declared that it was impossible for the workmen to endure another diminution of the potato and fat ration. They added that no measure would be effective and that the proletariat saw but the one way of remedying things—in other words, an immediate and general peace. The premier, Von Seydler, could only promise some vague and partial ameliorations and affirm that the Austro-Hungarian government would make every effort to arrive at peace as quickly as possible."

Conditions in Germany

Committee on this information, the dispatch continues:

"These facts show a curious light on the internal situation of the central powers. They help explain why Germany, without regard for risks and losses, wanted at all costs to reach a decision. When the allies stop the offensive, as they will, the central empires, who have killed off hundreds of thousands of men, will face serious difficulties."

With an Austro-German offensive against Italy still possible, the Italians are hurrying preparations to meet it, said Rome diplomatic advisers today. Italy is confident as to the west front and as to any new drive against her, said the message, which added that the "fronte interno" writes: "The offensive against Italy has been postponed, but not abandoned. It is necessary to prepare the spirit of our nation for the great trial which is impending. The Austrian offensive will find both army and country equally prepared."

not to be influenced by impatient and nervous home demands for immediate action.

Von Hindenburg is now concentrating what is left of his offensive strength for the capture of Amiens. His blows, however, are greatly weakened and may come to an end automatically through General Foch's pressure against the German southern flank. If they do not, Foch's first work of prime importance will be to save Amiens by a direct counter offensive against the German pressure to the east of that highly important railway center.

NEW HAVEN MAKES BID OF $135,000 FOR THE WILLARD FULTON GO

This Will Be Accepted If Assurance Given Match May Go 20 Rounds

New York, Mar. 30.—The Willard-Fulton scrap is slowly settling down to talk of an eastern location. New Haven promoters have offered $135,000 for the privilege of staging the affair there and the offer may be accepted at once provided the promoters can give assurance that there will be no official interference with a 20 round go. Western cities are still clamoring for a chance to be heard, but Colonel J. C. Miller, who holds the signed agreement of the principals favors the big eastern centers.

Dodgers are Weak

Hot Springs, Ark., Mar. 30.—The Dodgers broke camp here today decidedly weaker than when they started their training. Chief Ward, recently obtained from Pittsburgh in the trade which sent Cuthbert and Stengel to the Pirates, has been called for army service, leaving the Brooklyn club without a third baseman. Efforts will be made to get another infielder. Manager Robinson is considered Larry Kopf's status, since that player refused to report to Cincinnati.

Hunting Material

Macon, Ga., Mar. 30.—Realizing the weakness of his pitching staff, Miller Huggins, manager of the Yankees, today started on a hunt for new material. The fact that Babe Ruth has been told he is not wanted by Connie Mack makes it probable the former Giant again will wear a New York uniform—this time in the American league. The loss of Bob Shawkey has ripped a wide hole in the Yankee hurling staff.

Seals Beat Cubs

San Francisco, Mar. 30.—There was a cozy lot of Seals today as a result of their ten inning 3 to 2 win over the Chicago Cubs.

Casey Smith pitched the entire game in mid-season form, and but for a blow up of his support in the first inning, might have blanked the Cubs.

At that, the Cubs didn't use up any world-series energy. Rolly Zelder pitched most of the game for the Chicagoans.

Oaks Play Today

Oakland, Cal., Mar. 30.—The Oaks today will play the submarine base ball team as one of their windup training stunts. With Speed Martin hurling real baseball, Oakland yesterday easily beat the army all star team four to one.

Assigning Umpires

San Francisco, Mar. 30.—Assignment of these gentlemen whom the dictionary calls umpires for the first Coast league ball games next Tuesday was announced here by President Eamon. Pede Casey will call 'em for the San Francisco-Oakland game; Ed Finney will officiate at Sacramento in the Sacramento-Vernon contest and Ralph Frary will have charge of the Salt Lake-Los Angeles squabble at Los Angeles.

Giants on Exhibition

San Antonio, Texas, Mar. 30.—The Giants today begin the series of spring exhibition games on their trip north, when they meet the local Texas league club here.

Play this Afternoon

Waxahatchie, Texas, Mar. 30.—The Detroit Tigers will meet Dallas in a two game series this afternoon and tomorrow at Dallas. They beat the Camp Bowie team 9 to 5 here in an easy game yesterday.

Tennis Championship

New York, Mar. 30.—Finals in the national indoor tennis championships will be played here today on the courts of the Seventh regiment armory. Miss Molla Bjurstedt will meet Miss Eleanor Goss, runner-up last year for the singles title, and Miss Goss will team with Mrs. Spencer Fullerton Weaver, in opposition to Mrs. Homer Stuart Green and Miss Croma Wien in the doubles.

tion in Italy. Facing the probability of a strong Austro-German drive soon, Italy is now getting less than 40 percent of her normal food requirements. Deficiency in transportation facilities, labor shortage and lack of machinery have cut production there in all directions.

But pending the next harvest—which holds out great hope, the country appears willing to undergo sharp curtailment in bread supplies, according to official reports here.

Will Eat Hoe Cake

The residents of Grimes county, Texas, for instance, have pledged themselves to give up every bushel of wheat within the county limits for war needs. Similar action is expected elsewhere.

Meantime, to facilitate the use of substitutes, corn milling equipment is rapidly being introduced and already possible production of cornmeal and corn flour has increased 20 per cent. Measures for limiting millers and jobbers profits are expected soon. Next year, it is estimated, corn will release fifty million bushels of wheat for war needs. Already with the limited grinding machinery available ten million bushels of wheat have been saved by substituting corn.

Increased planting by farmers gives officials here high hopes of record crops. Spring wheat acreage will exceed anything in history, it is said. Winter wheat acreage is forty two million acres, two million acres above the previous high mark.

Boys with wheels always seem to be more or less in demand.

WISCONSIN CAMPAIGN WILL END TONIGHT

Dopsters Say Lenroot, Republican, Will Win—Berger Has Hopes

Milwaukee, Wis., Mar. 30.—Wisconsin's senatorial campaign will practically be concluded tonight, Monday, the only other working day before Tuesday's election will see little activity in any way of the three contending camps.

statement by Allan L. Benson, socialist candidate for president in 1916, disapproving of some of Berger's statements relative to war.

It is expected that 350,000 votes will be cast Tuesday. Berger today declared that he will poll 180,000.

Backers of Irvine L. Lenroot, republican candidate and Joseph Davies, democrat, apparently believe Berger has little chance to win. They expect a close race between Lenroot and Davies. Bettors have made Lenroot a favorite.

Major Diech Named to Command State Police

The appointment of Major Richard Diech of Portland as commanding officer of the new state police force is announced by the governor. The order has been conveyed to Major Diech through Adjutant General Williams, and the new commander will take immediate charge and proceed with the organization of the force.

At a meeting of the emergency board a few days ago a deficiency of $250,000 was created in the military fund to take care of the proper policing of the state. It was also recommended that the plan backed by the council of defense for a state constabulary be adopted. This will be substantially the force to be followed in the organization of the new police force, with the exception that the force will be a part of the militia organization. Four companies with motorcycle equipment are included in the plans.

In commenting on the appointment the governor stated that several injunctions were placed on Major Diech. No politics can be allowed, the force must be managed with the utmost economy in order to keep within the limit of finances, and at the same time a thorough efficiency must be secured. The force, when organized, will be used for police work over the entire state, and is to be organized in such a way that it can be easily mobilized at any point. Portland will probably be the scene of most of the work of the organization as the most extensive guarding must be done along the water front at that place.

British Casualties During Month of March

London, Mar. 30.—British casualties published during March totalled 14,588 according to computations made today from official lists.

This is the smallest British casualty list since last August and obviously does not include the total losses in the present German drive.

The casualties were divided as follows:

Killed: Officers, 334; men, 2,976; wounded: officers, 729; men, 9,855; missing: officers, 136; men, 538; total officers, 1,119; total men, 13,389; grand total, 14,588.

The total casualties for the past few months have been:

February, 19,492; January, 74,038; December, 80,034; November, 129,679; October, 83,558; September, 105,430; August, 60,373.
