LITTLE TALKS ON THRIFT
By S. W. STRAUS
President American Society for Thrift
One of the subtle values of thrift lies in the fact that it makes one think.

Our boys are in the Army and Navy giving up their lives that we may live and enjoy our homes and liberties. They are fighting for you and fighting for me. We should at least send them money and clothing.

Six Day's Casualties.
Washington, April 10.—Publication of 447 American casualties today sent a sobering realization throughout the nation of what the days ahead hold. These casualties withheld for six days under the Baker order, making Pershing the arbiter of his own news, contained 18 names of men killed in action, 18 from other causes and more than 300 wounded. The list also revealed that the Germans had taken a score of American prisoners.

Official news of the American engineers' gallant battle in the first part of the Picardy drive is still lacking here.

Conquest of Canada Was On German Program

Washington, April 10.—The conquest of Canada by the 350,000 reservists in this country formed a part of the German world-wide plan of conquest, Earl E. Sperry, professor of history at Syracuse University, told the senate judiciary committee which is considering the King bill to disband the German-American Alliance.

The activities of the alliance were often referred to in words of ringing praise in various periodicals published in Germany, Sperry said. Even the state chapters were not neglected by the periodicals in the fatherland, Sperry maintained. They were frequently commended.

Took Over All Spruce in the Northwest

Portland, Or., April 10.—The United States signal corps this afternoon took over all spruce logs on Grays Harbor, the Columbia river and Puget Sound. The order issued by Colonel Disque commanding the signal corps, follows: "The disposition of spruce logs on Grays Harbor, Columbia river and Puget Sound is herewith in the hands of the United States signal corps. All loggers and boom companies are instructed to wire Logging Department, United States Signal Corps, Teon Building, Portland, Oregon, when rafts are ready to be moved. They must not be moved except on orders of Logging Department, or an accredited representative of the signal corps."

Music lovers were delighted with the public recital given last evening at the First Methodist church by T. S. Roberts assisted by Messrs. John W. Todd, Dan F. Langenberg, F. E. Saunders and Misses Louise Benson and Lella Belle McCaddam. The instrumental and vocal numbers were heartily applauded calling for many encores. The entertainment was given under the auspices of the Tuesday Night musical club.

An interesting meeting of women of North Salem gathered at the Grant school last evening, the occasion being the regular meeting night of the dressmaking class which is being conducted in the interests of economy in making over and remodeling old clothing. The instruction is free and the meeting will be continued as long as the interest in them continues. Mrs. H. C. Schultz and Mrs. Ella A. Toothacre are among those who have been regularly donating their time to the work. The women of south Salem are considering the establishment of a similar dressmaking class in view of the success of the class in north Salem.

Thomas J. Stuart, giving his age as 19 and his address as Jefferson, signed up at the local army recruiting station today and left for Portland for assignment in the engineer corps.

All Around Town

Walter E. DeLong has filed with the clerk of Marion county his intention of becoming a candidate for the office of constable, Salem district, running on the republican ticket. He says he will recognize neither friend nor foe if elected and that he believes in equal service for all. His slogan is, "Service with the least expense."

The navy recruiting office in the post office building forwarded two recruits for the navy to Bremerton this morning. Nick K. Hatch, aged 23, a graduate of Chemawa and a former pupil of the Salem high school enlisted in the electrical division. William M. Wallace, age 25, of Scio enlisted for the hospital corps.

R. O. Thomas came from Portland today to attend the funeral services of Henry B. Thielson. It was 47 years ago that Mr. Thomas and Mr. Thielson were working together in the building of the Roseburg branch of the Southern Pacific. Mr. Thomas at that time serving as a surveyor. He was formerly mayor of Turner but last June moved to Portland.

J. N. Knowland, custodian of the city comfort station, stated today that the station would be opened again to the public on Saturday of his week barring undue acts of providence. The station has been closed the past several weeks owing to the repairs being made to the Ferry street sewer. The floor and base of the walls at the station are now being painted and things put in readiness for re-opening.

Manager F. D. Bigh, in speaking of the cancelling of the showing of "The Birth of a Nation," says that the governor, mayor or no one else had anything to do with the fact that the picture is not to be shown here. Some time ago while in Portland, the proposition came up of cancelling the show on account of feeling in that city and at the same time, the date was cancelled for Salem.

Mrs. Miller Bevier of 775 Cottage street is in receipt of a letter from her brother Dr. Carl Goehring announcing that on March 30 he was promoted to the rank of captain at Fort Benjamin Harrison. Captain Goehring is a graduate of medicine and surgery from Ann Arbor Michigan university. For the past three years he has been first assistant to Dr. Klotz a noted bacteriologist of Pittsburgh, Pa.

At the conference of the United Evangelical churches of Oregon held in Portland yesterday, the Rev. G. L. Lovell was appointed to succeed himself as pastor of the Salem United Evangelical church. With the beginning of this church year, Mr. Lovell has served his church seven years. He was first appointed pastor in 1917 and served the four year limit. From Salem he was transferred to the Oakley Green United Evangelical church at Portland where he served four years. Three years ago he was again appointed pastor of the local church and has been re-appointed at each annual conference.

Special services were held at the South Salem Friends' church Sunday morning when a handsome service flag was unveiled in honor of the young men of the church who are in the service. The flag was presented by the Christian Endeavor society and contained stars in honor of the following persons: John J. Elliott, who is an instructor in the aviation school at Fort Sill, Okla.; Wilfred Vestal, who is in the U. S. navy; and Ross Miles, who is in the Friends reconstruction work in France. Rev. H. E. Pemberton chose as the text for his sermon, 2 Samuel, 10:21. The services closed with a request from the Christian Endeavor society that when the men who were represented by the stars in the service flag were remembered in prayer, the men out of the church who were represented by the stars of the United States flag, which hung by the side of the service flag, be also remembered.

The district convention of the Macabees was called to order in their hall in the Derby building, 2:30 o'clock this afternoon by State Commander, J. W. Sherwood, of Portland. Delegations from Medford, Ashland, Klannath Falls, Roseburg, Drain, Jefferson and Albany had arrived before noon today and it was expected that fully 150 delegates would be in their places when the convention was called to order. A big banquet will be served to the visiting delegates at the Ball in the Derby building at 8 o'clock this evening. August Hocketstein acting as toastmaster. The convention proper will open at 7:30 o'clock tonight. Speeches will be made tonight by J. W. Sherwood, Frank Davey, Harvey Wells, N. N. Christy and others.

Funeral services over the late Henry B. Thielson were held this forenoon at the Episcopal church and at the Masonic temple. Services were held first at 9:30 o'clock at St. Paul's Episcopal church, Rev. Robt. S. Gill pronouncing the Episcopal rituals followed by services in the Masonic temple at 10 o'clock where the regular Masonic funeral rituals were performed. Pallbearers at both places were: W. P. Allison, Milton L. Meyers, J. F. Allison, George G. Brown, George G. Bingham and Frank Gibson. The remains were taken to Portland on the 11:10 train for burial, accompanied by the immediate relatives and a large number of fraternal brothers.

WARNS BUSINESS MEN AGAINST NEW MENACE

President of Chamber of Commerce Points Out Grave Danger
Chicago, April 10.—Business men were warned today by President R. Goodwyn Rhett of the chamber of commerce of the United States against bolsheviki in America, a menace equal to German militarism which would turn us over to mob tyranny more cruel and destructive than that of the autocrat.

Formally opening the chamber's sixth annual meeting, Rhett beseeched those in business who believe in cooperation for the common welfare to seek kindred spirits in the ranks of labor to suppress spirits of discontent who would bring about a "revolution."

This unrest "must be reckoned with and adjusted if industry and commerce is to go on under private initiative and private leadership and management," Rhett declared.

"What is not for the common good is not for the good of business. When we have all learned that lesson suspicion between employer and employe will disappear, conflict between capital and labor will cease, thoughts of coercion will change to cooperation, the spirit of greed will be transformed into service."

Rhett criticized the supreme court for its early interpretation of the Sherman "anti-trust" act under which he said "combinations were declared merely a matter of form and not a violation of the law even if price and production would thereby be absolutely controlled."

"For fifteen years the moral sense of business men was twisted and distorted under this interpretation. But five years ago the supreme court reversed itself and adopted the interpretation of the common law which regarded combination with favor only when it did not injure the public. This reversal undoubtedly saved the country from a revolution," Rhett stated.

Rhett concluded with an appeal to American business men to "put a soul into business. In that democracy may find its safeguard and protection."

His address was followed by an important session devoted to shipping with a talk scheduled by Edward N. Harley, chairman of the United States shipping board. Resolutions submitted by various commercial bodies urged repeal of the Sherman act, amendment of the war revenue act, relief of public utilities hurt by the war, increased punishment for anti-war acts and new federal bankruptcy laws.

A resolution to suppress German language newspapers was tabled by a vote of 134 to 102. Americanization of 13,000,000 foreign born persons in this country is a pressing problem, it was agreed.

Government May Handle All Coast Vessels

Washington, April 10.—Government operation of all coastwise shipping to further relief the national railroads was authoritatively forecast here today. Co-ordination of rail shipping has been a problem long considered to shorten the rail hauls. This would accomplish a utilization of the smaller ships to the fullest extent at the same time. Particularly this is true of the traffic between the New England and Gulf districts.

It is reported the railroad administration will take over the properties of the Merchants' and Miners' Transportation company, one of the more important links in the north and south traffic.

WANT SKILLED ARTISANS.

Washington, April 10.—A call for 12,000 skilled artisans to volunteer for war service between now and April 30 with the announcement that this number will be made up by a draft call on that date if sufficient have not volunteered, was made by the provost marshal general this afternoon.
