BOYS ARE WANTED TO HARVEST CROP

Mayor Keys Has For This Purpose Officially Proclaimed "Enrollment"

Nine thousand five-hundred Oregon boys are wanted to harvest Oregon's crops this summer, and enrollment of boys between the age of 16 and 21 years will begin next week in Salem.

The enrollment is to be in charge of the Department of Agriculture and of Labor co-operating with the State Council of Defense. The city and county schools through their superintendents will be asked to co-operate in securing the names of the boys who will agree to help in the harvest.

Enrollment week throughout the country has been set apart by proclamation of President Wilson as from April 16 to 21. While definite arrangements have not as yet been made for the work in Salem, it will probably be taken up in a day or so through the office of County Superintendent Smith and also through Superintendent John H. Todd of the city schools.

The proclamation of Mayor Walter E. Keys is as follows:

Whereas, the present great war and industries incident thereto have made heavy inroads upon the farm labor of this nation, and

Whereas, upon the youth of our country depends, to a large extent, our ability to harvest the crop for the ensuing year, and

Whereas, during the week commencing April 15, 1918, the United States department of labor, with the co-operation of the Council of National Defense and the Oregon State Council of Defense will conduct a campaign throughout the state of Oregon for the purpose of enrolling boys between the ages of 16 and 21 years to assist in taking care of the coming harvest.

Now, therefore, I, Walter E. Keys, mayor of the city of Salem, Oregon, do hereby proclaim the week commencing April 15, 1918, as "Enrollment Week" for the purpose of enrolling boys between the ages of 16 years and 21 years in the "United Boys Working Reserve" and all local agencies and citizens of our city are hereby urged to facilitate in every way possible the action of the Federal Director in this meritorious work.

Dated this 11th day of April, 1918.
WALTER E. KEYS,
Mayor.

AMERICANS NOW

rect, personal interest to every American today in the light of the United States participation.

American military men believed that the new struggle in Flanders is an attempt by the German to gouge his way to the important channel port, Calais. Through that city pour the British legions and supplies and it is but a step across the channel to England.

Some, however, believe that the present phase is merely intended by the Germans to relieve pressure on his Pi-early flanks and to prevent development of dangerous counter attacks there.

Military men believe that the German has temporarily or permanently abandoned his direct smash for Amiens. They think he will content himself with holding the line near that railroad center and shelling the Paris-Amiens railway, meantime striving to push through to the channel, farther northward.

The boche progress thus far indicates that he has not the same driving power as in his drive out of St. Quentin. Army men say, however, that the great weight of the offensive will push the British back for a time, but that it probably will slow up as it proceeds.

GIRL'S STATEMENT WILL HELP SALEM

Here is the girl's own story: "For years I had dyspepsia, sour stomach and constipation. I drank hot water and olive oil by the gallon. Nothing helped until I tried buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-ika ONE SPOONFUL helped me INSTANTLY." Because Adler-ika flushes the ENTIRE alimentary tract it relieves ANY CASE constipation, sour stomach or gas and prevents appendicitis. It has QUICKEST action of anything we ever sold. J. C. TELLS OF LYNCHING

Still informally, Riegel told of leading the search of the jail basement, dragging the victim from hiding under a pile of tiling, exhibiting him in triumph in the streets and finally hanging him, after permitting him to write a farewell note to his parents in Germany.

"A lot of kids from 12 to 16 years old pulled him up," said the soldier.

BLAME TEETH OF THOSE TEETH YOURS

Do you know that modern medical research finds over fifty per cent of our physical ills are due to bad teeth?

Do you know that the up-to-date doctor is sending his patients--those whose cases baffle him--to the dentist instead of to the sanitarium--or to the operating table?

Do you know that diseases and maladies, that have mystified the medical profession and have caused sufferers untold sums of money in wasted treatments, have been cured simply through proper correction of tooth troubles?

Do you know that you may be ailing right now from some difficulty that is traceable solely to decayed, abscessed, crooked or broken teeth?

Do you know that you owe it to yourself to see a dentist once every six months whether you think that you need dental work or not--because defects creep slyly into even the most carefully cleansed teeth and gums?

Do you know that one of the reasons you dodge the dentist is because you fear him--fear a heavy expense, fear the interminable delays that generally accompany dental "operations," fear the gruelling ordeal that you have been led to believe must accompany all tooth-treatment--and fear unsatisfactory workmanship, on top of all that?

Do you know that dentistry has become such a bugbear that most of you prefer to let your teeth go all to pieces before you will muster up enough courage to face a jaw-architect?

BUT

Do you know that you are not only short-sighted in neglecting what our Army is telling the people is the most important part of a soldier's physical equipment--the teeth--but you are failing to grasp an opportunity to get relief without any of the troubles and pains and annoyances and financial burdens that have heretofore frightened you away from dentistry?

THE ANSWER?
The leading dental organization of the world is at your service.

Socialist Colony Near Los Angeles Has Troubles

The Socialist colony at Llano del Rio, in the Antelope valley near Los Angeles, has not solved all the problems of living as new comes word from Los Angeles that the greater part of the colony has moved to Stables, Louisiana, where the rainfall comes from above instead of in irrigating ditches.

Several families from Salem are interested in this colony, including those of Mr. Newman and Mr. Peary. Jack Frost, while not a member of the colony, is understood to have invested. While those interested in the colony claim that its affairs are prosperous, yet it seems that about 200 of the faithful found it advisable to move to the colony at Stables, Louisiana.

After the Llano del Rio company got into financial straits some time ago and the report of the commissioner of corporations of California gave it publicity, a Nevada corporation was formed and the holdings of the Rio colony turned in for the Nevada stock. It is this company that is carrying on the deal for the colony in Louisiana.

As the old Philadelphia Ledger arises to remark, now that you have an extra hour of daylight don't make light of it.

"I just looked on."

The story was corroborated, it was said, by three other witnesses at the inquest.

Fraeger was buried in St. Louis, members of the Odd Fellows lodge according to his request that he be wrapped in the American flag.

GERMANS DRIVE

again against Messines, where as I write, British bayonets are flashing red, while Crown Prince Rupprecht's guns thunder.

Hoping to pinch off Armentieres, the Germans intended to reach Bethune and outflank Vimy and Arras and, more important still, Notre Dame-Lorette.

The Fifty Fifth's stand undoubtedly checked this ambitious plan, the British taking nearly 1,000 prisoners, who testified to the German methods of exhausting their fighters by promising quickly to relieve troops who advanced successfully and threatening those who failed with a long stay in the line.

New arrivals make a total of about 200 divisions (2,400,000 men), with more coming. Divisions which were mauled during March are re-fitting and are being cheered up with tales of big advances and approaching victory.

Hindenburg's force is the biggest in the history of the world and he has the greatest network of railways and highways.

London, April 11.—Charzoff, one of the most important cities in Ukraine, was captured Monday, according to an official announcement by the Berlin war office, received by wireless.

In Finland, German forces occupied the Karis railway station.

CLASS ONE SMALL IN SOME DISTRICTS

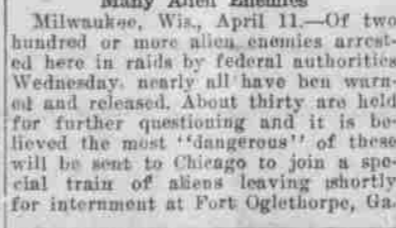

Washington, April 11.—Provost Marshal General Crowder today ordered a thorough investigation of local draft board classifications in districts where the percentage of class one men is singularly small.

The inquiries are the result of congressional opposition to Crowder's plan to base the quotas for future drafts on the number in class one, instead of the total number registered or the population.

In some districts, comparatively few, the percentage of class one men is only 17, while in other districts it is 45 or 50. Several congressmen claim that some local boards have deliberately adopted the policy of cutting down the percentage of class one men to keep their quotas lower.

"The investigations are being ordered just as rapidly as it is found there is the least cause for one," it was stated at the provost marshal general's office.

Many Alien Enemies
Milwaukee, Wis., April 11.—Of two hundred or more alien enemies arrested here in raids by federal authorities Wednesday, nearly all have been warned and released. About thirty are held for further questioning and it is believed the most "dangerous" of these will be sent to Chicago to join a special train of aliens leaving shortly for internment at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga.

CROWN PRINCE DRIVES

Amiens and Paris.

William Philip Simms declares Hindenburg is prepared to concentrate against either the British or the French as the occasion arises, aided by the biggest army in history and "the greatest network of railways and highways." Simms said the Germans now have nearly two and a half million men on the west front "with more coming."

On the new front the Germans, under

Crown Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria, whose base is at Lille, have driven from an average depth of three to four miles between La Bassée and Armentieres, while northward between Armentieres and the Ypres-Comines canal, their penetration has been comparatively slight.

Haig's official statement last night traced the British line from La Bassée canal, just eastward of Givenchy north-eastward to the Lawe river and north along this river to the Lys at Estaires.

From Estaires, which is four miles back of the original line, the front follows the Lys to Bac St. Maur then turns eastward to Floubaix, three miles southwest of Armentieres. At the latter city the line turns sharply to the north-west, then swerves northward through Ploegsteert and Messines to the Ypres-Comines canal.

The German official statement last night merely confirmed the British admission that the Lys had been crossed and said the British lines had been penetrated on both sides of Warneton, two miles east of Messines. An earlier statement said that more than 6000 prisoners and 100 guns had been taken in these operations.

The Paris war office mentioned only artillery fighting around Montdidier and along the Oise canal.

The terrific bombardment on the Franco-American front Tuesday, from south of Verdun to east of St. Mihiel, described in yesterday's French communiqué, was followed by a determined raid on one of the American sectors. This was completely repulsed.
