OREGON HOPEFUL OF MAKING RECORD IN LIBERTY DRIVE

Bond Campaign Managers Want To Be First Hundred Per Cent State

Portland, Or., April 13.—Only two towns in the state remain in the yellow column this morning in the third Liberty loan campaign. These towns are Flora, in Wallowa county, and Oakland in Douglas county. Only sixteen towns remain in the red column that is over fifty per cent and under one hundred per cent. All other towns in the state are over subscribed. Marion, Morrow, Josephine and Jackson counties are all that hold Oregon out of the one hundred per cent and over the top column. Other counties totals putting the state over by their surplus. It is the aim of campaign headquarters to make Oregon the first full one hundred per cent state in the union and it is hoped that every county and town will rally to this end.

Total Subscription
 Washington, April 13.—Liberty loan subscriptions at the end of the first week of the twenty-six day campaign totalled $539,499,100, according to official treasury figures early today.

State House News

The following were filed today at the office of the Corporation Commissioner:

Certificate of increase of capital of Standard Vault & Metal Works, for $5,000 to $10,000. The company is located in Portland and Edw. E. Erickson is secretary.

Oregon Type Writer Co., of Portland. Capital stock $2,000. Organized to operate a type writer exchange.

Fish Point Timber & Logging Co. of Portland. General logging business. Capital stock, $100,000.

The State Highway Commission has written J. W. Ferrin, manager of the Federal Reserve Board at San Francisco, asking that action be hurried on authority to issue the balance of $1,500,000 road bonds for 1918 as allowed by the $6,000,000 bond issue. Contracts for the construction work is now in force and the money will soon be needed. Heretofore, those road bonds have been sold in the east but it is likely that hereafter they may be sold locally in bonds of from $500 up. This plan of selling locally has been suggested by the number of inquiries for the bond investment from Oregon people.

The city of Waldport in Lincoln county proposes to install a mountain water supply system at a cost of $11,000, according to an application for permit to appropriate water filed today with State Engineer Lewis. A five inch wood stove pipe will be constructed to West Creek 2.7 miles in length to supply the present population of 400.

Pronounced Dullness In Wall Street Today

New York, April 13.—The New York Evening Sun financial review today said:

Pronounced dullness featured today's short session of the stock market. Through most of the first hour the securities market stood still. In that interval those stocks which moved at all were a fraction to nearly a point below the closing of Friday. After the war reports, toward the end of the hour, prices began to pick up. In a few cases like Utah Copper small fractional advances were achieved. In the railroad department dealings were thin in the extreme. Erie first preferred and Baltimore and Ohio were a bit higher but elsewhere heaviness prevailed.

Trading in the second hour as in the first again demonstrated in striking fashion the control which Wall Street has over itself. Prices not only held but in some cases even advanced narrowly. California Petroleum common and preferred, displayed considerable strength.

Will Not Discharge Disloyal Librarian

Portland, Or., April 13.—Miss Louise Hunt, assistant at the central library here, who declared she would rather suffer any indignity at the hands of a Hun than buy a Liberty bond, will retain her position as a county employee.

The directors of the library ruled today that she had been found guilty of no over act "of opposition or criticism of the government's policy."

Miss Hunt explained to the board that the welfare of America is uppermost in her thoughts, but that she is absolutely opposed to war on any grounds. She demanded the constitutional American right, privately to hold a minority opinion.

The board's report showed that its members had known Miss Hunt's views for some time, and that she had never before tried to obstruct the government's activities.

SPY WILL BE TRIED

Portland, Or., April 13.—William Dolfin, arrested as a spy while he was cook of the old Third Oregon, now in France, will be tried Monday in federal court on a perjury charge.

Dolfin now says his right name is Silvio Bartola Dal Bon.

LOCAL EXEMPTION BOARD GETS ORDER

Only Class "A" Men Are To Be Reported For Military Duty Now

In special orders received today by the local exemption board, Division No. 1, the Board was warned against ordering men to report for military duty who fall in any group except "A", which means that registrants must be physically qualified for general military duty. Those not accepted on account of some minor physical defects that can be remedied are subject to a special call later. As the matter now stands, only men in group "A", those fitted for immediate service, are to be ordered to report for military duty under induction calls. Men in other groups are to be called only under special calls.

The corrected list for registrants who are to report for duty at the Marion county court house on April 25 is as follows:

Vernon B. Ringo, Yakima, Wash.; John Z. Larson, Shaw, Oregon; Alvin S. Hemmingsen, Silverton; H. F. Hain, Salem; Chas. V. Bunch, N. Salem; Camp, Mist, Oregon; Eugene E. Kelly, Portland; Errol V. Byrnes, Portland; Henry F. Rauscher, Aumsville; Albert G. Smith, Portland; Chas. E. Olcott, Salem; Mike H. Lim, Portland; Theodore C. Peckaboom, Salem; Chris Bahr, Silverton; Richard R. Gray, Turner; Chas. Donker, Aumsville; Caithern C. Stuart, Jefferson; Oscar Herman, Portland; Walter Leiss, Salem; Douglas Phillips, Astoria; Arizona; Harold C. Eitzen, Long Beach, Calif.; William F. Wilant, Salem; Harry P. Bowers, Salem; Forest G. Day, Portland; John A. Hain, Salem; Floyd C. Shelton, Salem; Charles B. Weatherill, Turner; Genuenos Demetron Demos, Salem.

Decision Rendered In Bishop-Kay Case Has Been Misconstrued

Ordinarily when a court renders a decision on the merits of a controversy it is terminated, but in this respect the case of Fannie Kay Bishop against her brother, State Treasurer Thomas B. Kay, seems to differ from the usual course. Judge Percy R. Kelley of the circuit court rendered his decision in that case Thursday of this week and yet there seems to still be a difference of opinion as to what the decision contains and who won the case.

Yesterday morning's Statesman contained an article in reference to the case, with the headlines, "Thomas B. Kay Wins Decision." In this morning's issue of that paper there seems to be some doubt as to whether their inspired headline of the morning before correctly stated the fact. In the report of the decision in this paper Thursday evening no attempt was made to give any conclusion. It now develops that both sides claim to have won an extraordinary situation, to say the least. However, a careful consideration of the issues involved in the trial in connection with the decision itself, seems to indicate that Mrs. Bishop, the plaintiff, was sustained on all issues and while the defendant seems to get considerable satisfaction out of the statement of the court that the funds were honestly disbursed so far as he was concerned yet it appears that this was not an issue, and was never in question, and the further statement coming from the defendant that the case was dismissed is entirely erroneous, as the decree does not dismiss the case.

A short review of the matter existed between Mrs. Bishop and Mr. Kay over the construction of the will of the late Thomas Kay. This controversy has continued over a period of several years Mrs. Bishop claiming that a proper construction of the will would require the estate of her father and the estate of her mother to be separate and apart from each other, while Mr. Kay claims that there should be no distinction. Judge Kelley, in his decision construes the will exactly in accordance with Mrs. Bishop's claim. It seems that Mrs. Bishop was appointed administratrix of her mother's estate and asked the defendant, who had handled their mother's business affairs, for many years past, for a statement of that estate so that she could properly administer upon the same as required by law. The defendant in accordance with his contention that there was no distinction between the two estates, rendered a sworn statement to Mrs. Bishop which was introduced in evidence at the trial and was known throughout the trial as Plaintiff's Exhibit No. 4. This sworn statement was to the effect that there was belonging to the estate of Ann Kay at the time of her death approximately $30,000. Now it appears from the law pertaining to the taxation of inheritances that if it was that amount belonging to the estate of Ann Kay at the time of her death, there being only five heirs, there necessarily would be held a minority opinion.

The board's report showed that its members had known Miss Hunt's views for some time, and that she had never before tried to obstruct the government's activities.
