BLANKS FOR GETTING SOLDIER ON FURLOUGH

Enough Red Tape About It To Fence a Farm But It Can Be Unwound

Application blanks whereby anyone following agriculture may apply for the furlough of a soldier for the purpose of engaging him in agricultural work have been received by the local board of Marion county for division No. 1.

The blanks ask for the furlough of a soldier, specifying that he is to be engaged only in agriculture. They provide that information must be given as to the location of the farm, name of owner or tenant, number of males above the age of 14 working on the farm and the number of acres in cultivation.

Besides this definite information, the number of horses, cattle, hogs and sheep on the farm must be given and also the market value of last year's production and the anticipated value of this year's crops and the farm machinery used.

Then in order to secure the soldier for farm work, the blank requires experience as to his farming ability, what wages are paid in the vicinity and if farm labor is available. Answers to these questions must all be sworn to.

The local board takes the application under consideration and either grants or refuses the request. The county agent or government appeal agent then either concurs or dissents from the findings of the board. Then the soldier joins in the application and agrees to give his time to the work on the farm and that if for any reason his services are urgently needed before the expiration of the furlough, to report immediately for military duty.

The papers asking for the furlough are then passed up to the commanding officer where the soldier is stationed and it is either approved or disapproved. If disapproved, the commanding officer gives his reasons.

in cheating you out of three years of this war and they are now saying things trying to make you people hate England.

"England at the start of the war was in the same condition that you were, totally unprepared. We had no gas for drill as all we had were needed in France that first summer.

"At the first fight at Ypres, the Germans held the high ground and we had to build trenches. After the first 48 hours, one third of the men were suffering from shell shock. And then came the gas in the early spring of 1915. A mass of vapor came from the German trenches and in ten minutes most of our men were dying and gasping for breath. Then the Germans cut our barbed wire protection, but they did not pass.

The German way

"The German women who were in England sent us gas masks with typhoid germs in them. That is the German way of doing things.

"Soldiers over there do not travel in Pullmans. They travel in box cars just like horses. For every five yards of trenches, there are three trench rats and they are as large and tame as cats.

"At the front, nobody is afraid of being afraid. When a big Jack Johnson is heard to be coming along, the private and the brigadier general will be found side by side at the bottom of a dug out. When in the trenches, you pray for a 'Blighty,' a minor wound, that will send you to England and those lovely Red Cross nurses.

"The victory we are going to win is not that of killing the Kaiser but rather that of joining together the United States and England, so that when we say there shall be no more war, there will be none.

"English men will fight until they are all killed and then the women will come in. We are up against a big problem but we must race it smiling.

"Be patient for another three or four weeks, or maybe a few months. The time is coming when the enemy will exhaust themselves. But we will get them all right."

American Talks

Lieutenant Thomas H. Boyd of American Lake told of the men working 16 hours a day and of the fact that the soldiers of the 51st Division had averaged $42 per capita in their subscriptions for the third Liberty loan.

Out of the $30 a month the private receives, he must take insurance costing $7.70 a month and then with his laundry bill, candy, cigarettes and such, Lieutenant Boyd said the soldier has practically nothing left after subscribing for bonds.

"We have the greatest army there ever was," declared Lieutenant Boyd. "You have heard of the drafted men and how awful some of them were.

Western Canada has an enormous acreage to be seeded but man power is short, and an appeal to the United States allies is for more men for seeding operations.

Canada's Wheat Production last Year was 225,000,000 Bushels; the demand from Canada alone, for 1918, is 400,000,000 Bushels.

To secure this she must have assistance. She has the land but needs the men. The Government of the United States wants every man who can effectively help to do farm work this year. It wants the land in the United States developed first of course; but it also wants to help Canada. Whenever we find a man we can spare to Canada's fields after ours are supplied, we want to direct him there. Apply to our Employment Service, and we will tell where you can best serve the combined interests.

Western Canada's help will be required not later than May 5th. Wages to competent help, $50 a month and up. board and lodging. Those who respond to this appeal will get a warm welcome, good wages, good board, and fine comfortable homes. They will get a rate of one cent a mile from Canadian boundary points to destination and return.

Good Health Demands Good Teeth

"MORE physical degeneracy can be traced to neglect of the teeth than to the use of alcohol," says Dr. William Oster, the eminent authority. And Prof. Lewis M. Terman, in his lecture, entitled, "The Hygiene of the Child," says that out of 20 million school children in this country, 18 million are affected by decay of the teeth which undermines their health and progress.

Decayed and neglected teeth cause indigestion and mental backwash. Tooth-troubles may affect the heart, the eyes and ears—in fact, all our faculties are weakened by diseased teeth and a neglected mouth. "A decaying tooth, unpleasant as it may sound, is a rotting bomb in your mouth," according to Arthur Brisbane, the famous editorial writer.

Diseased tonsils or a neglected mouth is not a joke. It is a constant menace to your health. There is no real cure, except neglect and indifference. Once your teeth are in order you can keep them that way—for remember this—decay does not start on a clean tooth.

Men haven't a monopoly on patriotic stuff by any means, as three young ladies of the state house yesterday afternoon decided that the women of the town should do something to make the world safe for democracy.

Hence, Miss Virginia Wechter with the Desert Land board, Miss Grace Babcock with the State Water board and Miss Margaret Stodge with the State Highway department organized what is to be known as "The Oregon Legion of Home Defense."

The organization is to be semi-military and the purposes of the organization are about as follows:

To do our part in the gigantic struggle in which the nation is now engaged, and to prevent the recurrence of the outrages that have been perpetrated upon the helpless, unprotected and unaided the past four years.

To assist the home guards in harvesting crops or any other service which may be within their scope to perform.

To place their organization at the disposal of state and national authorities.

Members of the organization agree to acquaint themselves with military evolutions so as to execute their duty with dispatch. Also to obey orders of those who may be elected to command.

The Oregon Legion of Home Guards is the first of its kind in the state. Its membership will probably be limited to 50, and all women over the age of 18 years are eligible for membership. The Legion has a motto and efforts will be made to secure a membership large enough to justify the beginning of drills within a few days.
