

SOCIETY and CLUBS

By CAROL S. DIEBLE

THE regime of the picnic party is on once more, and it is this favored form of entertaining that Milady turns to with renewed enthusiasm after the long season of indoor affairs, which however charmingly arranged, yet lack that sparkle of unimpeded pleasure, which the zest of the outdoor world is certain to impart. An especially gale party of this nature was held at the Illahee golf links Wednesday night, when about twenty five friends were hidden by Mrs. O. C. Locke to a picnic dinner given at the club house in honor of Mr. Locke's birthday anniversary. Dancing formed a merry mode of evening entertainment. Mrs. William Walton, Mrs. Edwin L. Baker and Mrs. H. H. Otinger assisted Mrs. Locke.

The Aid society of the Epworth U. B. church, responded to the invitation of their president, Mrs. Carrie M. Chase, to meet with her Wednesday afternoon. The ladies brought their fancy work, and a short business session was held, in which the need of urgent work was pointed out, before the conference meets in June. The usual number of guests and members were present. Mrs. S. P. Hale assisted the hostess in serving. The next meeting will be held May 8 at the home of Mrs. F. H. Neff, the wife of the pastor of the church.

Mrs. C. D. Gabrielson will leave early next week for Palo Alto, California, where she will visit her son, Lieutenant Carl Gabrielson, who is stationed at Camp Fremont. Mrs. Gabrielson will remain in the south for several weeks, and following her return north, will reside in Portland, joining Mr. Gabrielson, whose business interests called him to Portland the first of the year. Mrs. Gabrielson will be missed by a host of Salem acquaintances and it is only the likelihood of her returning to the city occasionally to visit her daughter, Mrs. Chauncey Bishop, and others, that is reconciling her friends to her departure.

Mr. and Mrs. Will D. Bennett will occupy Mrs. Gabrielson's residence, 155 North Fourteenth street.

The Bennetts are newcomers in the town, having formerly lived in Portland. Their wedding was a recent event of that city. Mrs. Bennett being Miss Beatrice Beachell before her marriage.

The Burnett family came to Portland from Pendleton. The young couple are being eagerly welcomed by Salem society, Mrs. Bennett being very talented musically. Mr. Bennett has succeeded O. Guy Sargent as state superintendent of banks.

The members of the Thursday Night Dancing club participated in a most delightful stepping party, when the last dance of the season under the supervision of Mrs. E. T. Busselle and Mrs. Fred G. Buchtel was held at the Masonic hall this week. Introducing novelty into the gayeties of the evening were a number of old fashioned dances, which were especially enjoyed by the club members.

Following the dance, several jolly supper parties were held at the Spa and the Grayhelle. Among those joining in these small gatherings were Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Fullerton, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Canfield, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Davis and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Steuskoff, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Frye, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Minto, W. D. Novel birthday parties for the little folk continue to form bright spots of color in the spring interlude of subdued social activity, for whatever the ban placed on elaborate entertainment in grownup land during the war period, the children still hold sway when the eagerly anticipated birthday rolls eagerly with its promise of candle beaded cake, and festal frolic. In such a merry manner was the fifth birthday of Charles Kay Bishop, the small son of Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Bishop, celebrated Monday morning at the kindergarten of the high school. A joyous round of songs and games, conducted by Miss Inez Goitra and Mrs. Bates, were enjoyed by the juvenile guests. Miniature cakes, bearing tiny candles were brought in at the refreshment hour.

The little people numbered: Jane Harrison, Helene Elgin, Eleanor Schmidt, Emily Frickey, Mildred Shields, Warren Kennedy, Stanley Price, Howard Price, Fredly Joe Choate, Frederic Thielson, Thomas Elvius, Thomas Livesley, Asahel Bush, John Hughes, Myron Upton, Samuel Harrison, Chet Ockert, Arthur Boesch, Eugene Harlan, Frances Bailey.

The Priscilla club was charmingly entertained Thursday afternoon by Mrs. S. S. East at her residence, 1320 Court street. An artistic arrangement of lovely spring flowers graced the rooms.

Additionally hidden for the affair were Mrs. Walter Buchner, Mrs. Gertrude Volk and Mrs. Fred Delano. The members present included Mrs. D. J. Fry, Mrs. John Craig, Mrs. Ida B. Cook, Mrs. A. L. Brown, Mrs. Fred Steuskoff, Mrs. Frank Myers, Mrs. C. B. Webb, Mrs. W. G. Allen.

Miss Gertrude East, an O. A. C. student, will pass the week end in Salem as the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. S. East.

The seventeenth and eighteenth of May have been set as the dates for the children's dance recital under the direction of Mrs. Ralph White. Rehearsals are being held regularly and a number of striking military effects have been planned for the two acts, which will include drills, aesthetic dancing, solos and several brilliant pageant numbers.

The King and Queen will hold court, amid a gayly attired assemblage of small attendants. Catherine Hartley, the attractive little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Hartley will be the Queen of the day, while Jack Minto, the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Minto, will assume the throne as King.

The recital, which will be in the nature of a patriotic benefit will be held in the Grand Opera house and will be sponsored by a number of society matrons.

Those acting as patronesses will be: Mrs. Frederick Thielson, Mrs. Clifford Brown, Mrs. John J. Roberts, Mrs. Asahel Bush, Mrs. Melvin Plimpton, Mrs. Chauncey Bishop, Mrs. T. A. Livesley, Mrs. T. C. Smith, Jr., Mrs. W. H. Bughardt, Jr., Mrs. Ben Salckung, Mrs. Zedee Riggs and Mrs. W. H. Lytle.

The Monday Afternoon Bridge club was entertained this week by Mrs. R. B. Goodin at her residence on Court street. Mrs. Kate Keenan of Portland, a visitor of Mrs. Goodin, was an additional guest for the afternoon. Mrs. Ralph Glaver will be hostess to the club members next week.

Much regret is being felt among the friends of Mr. and Mrs. George M. Post over the fact of their departure to Portland the first of June, when they plan to locate permanently. Mr. Post has accepted a position as architect in the office of Morris Whitehouse.

A jolly outing was enjoyed last night by a group of congenial friends, who, taking advantage of the ideal evening, motored over to Hallas to attend a dance. On their return the merry makers rounded out the evening's good time with a gay little supper party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Mills on Court street.

The party included Mr. and Mrs. Paul Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kirk, Dr. and Mrs. O. A. Olson, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Bates, Mr. and Mrs. William Neil, Mrs. Walter Spaulding, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Mills.

Pleasant in the extreme, was the regular meeting of the Sweet Briar club, for which Mrs. A. H. Steiner was hostess at her home on the Wallace road, Wednesday afternoon. Responses to the roll call were given in the form of patriotic and helpful thoughts, the general idea of which was embodied in a reflective paper, "What are we really doing," read by Mrs. E. O. Moll. The central theme of Mrs. Moll's discussion was the effective character of the work being accomplished by war relief activities as a whole.

A timely feature of the program was the reading by Miss May Gregory of the poem, "No Understanding," given by Lieutenant McQuarrie at the close of his address the other evening at the armory. The poem, which pleads for a greater bond of sympathy uniting mankind, was interpreted with much depth of feeling and beauty of expression by Miss Gregory to the inspiring accompaniment of Ave Maria on the Metrola.

Mrs. Marie Matthews and Miss Nellie Taylor assisted Mrs. Steiner in serving. A red, white and blue color scheme was effectively carried out in a lovely centerpiece of red tulips, combined with blue hydrangeas and narcissus. Exquisite wild flowers arranged in Indian baskets formed further decorations.

Fifteen members were present Wednesday. The club will be entertained next time by Miss Sylvia Mary Reil.

The formal, large reception of the week was held Saturday night in the Pan-American building at Washington, D. C., the use of which was offered for the occasion by John J. Barrett, a well known Oregonian, and general director of the Pan-American Union.

A copy of the prayer, written by the Rt. Rev. Daniel Sylvester Tuttle, bishop of Missouri, in honor of the sons of the Daughters of the American Revolution, who have joined the service, was sent to Mrs. George Thatcher Guernsey, president general, by Mrs. Isaac Lee Patterson of Salem, and read before the congress last week.

The prayer which embodies an uplifting message of appeal, was also read at the Oregon conference of the Daughters of the American Revolution held a short time ago at Portland. It reads as follows: "Almighty God, our Heavenly Father, we thank Thee for all Thy goodness and loving kindness to us and to all men, and especially for the national blessings wrought for us in the American revolution."

"Give grace and wisdom to all in authority over us that by their counsel, upheld and guided by Thy power and blessing, righteousness and justice and patriotism may prevail. Defend and prosper the army and navy of the United States that they may be a safeguard to the country and a protection to the flag."

Over the manifold sorrows and sufferings made Thy light to shine, to comfort saddened hearts and to brighten darkened homes. In Thine own time and by Thine own might, we pray Thee, make the right to conquer, to the glory of God and the good of men, through Jesus Christ, our Lord, Amen."

Miss Elizabeth Levy, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. S. Levy, went up to Portland Wednesday to hear Mischa Riman, the great violinist, who appeared in concert at the Helig Wednesday night. Elman, who has been touring the coast, has been received with tremendous enthusiasm in all of the large cities where he played.

For impassioned beauty of tone and poetry of interpretation, Elman has taken strong hold upon his audience, the magic of his music and personality leaving them enraptured and profoundly moved. No other violinist now living has attained such extraordinary popularity.

It is not only that public which the great violinist desires to reach. "I want to reach deeper for my public," says Mischa Elman. "I want to reach those people who have never heard good playing or good music. I want to get outside the circle of concert goers in order to increase the musical appreciation in the community. I want to create music lovers, for that is as much the work of a solo artist as to interest the great master composers. The creation of numbers of new music lovers must have an effect upon the whole spiritual life of the community in that it brings with it a greater breadth."

These are busy days for the Oregon

A decided loss to the musical circles of Portland and vicinity will be felt in the departure of Mrs. Thomas Carriek Burke of Portland, for New York early in the fall. Mrs. Burke, who is considered one of the most brilliant pianists of the day, is a member of the McDowell club of Portland and for some time has taken an active part in all the woman's work in regard to war service. Several advanced piano students from Salem have been pupils of Mrs. Burke at various times. Miss Lela Sinter, a former Salem girl, now residing in Portland, and a talented musician has studied with Mrs. Burke for some time. Miss Dorothy Peace, the daughter of Mrs. George J. Pearce, 267 North Winter street, also is taking work with Mrs. Burke, going up to Portland regularly for that purpose.

Mrs. Burke, who is a favorite socially in Portland, is the mother of two charming children, Jocelyn and Thomas Carriek, Jr. She and the children will join Judge Burke in New York in September, when the latter has accepted of an appointment as treasurer of the American Cotton and Grain Exchange of New York, having already left for the east to assume his new duties. The Burke family came to Oregon from Walla Walla, Washington.

Dr. and Mrs. Grover Bellinger and children motored to Scotts Mills last evening. They will return tomorrow.

The week ending April the twentieth gave rise to an exceedingly interesting series of events in Washington, D. C., when the twenty seventh Continental Congress of the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution assembled, according to custom on that week, marked by the anniversary of the battle of Lexington. The Oregon delegates to the Congress were Mrs. Mary Barlow Wilkins, retiring regent of the Multnomah chapter in Portland, and Mrs. John Hall, also of the Multnomah chapter.

An occasion to hear a program replete with features of special significance was given the delegates present at the congress, as the traditional purposes and aims of the Daughters of the American Revolution are now finding such abundant expression and broad scope of outlet in the multitude of present needs and opportunities for humanitarian activity, created by the demands of war.

Besides the regular routine of business reports, several unique events occurred, among which was the visit to the graves of George and Martha Washington at Mt. Vernon by a delegation of Daughters, for the purpose of laying memorial wreaths on the tombs.

The formal, large reception of the week was held Saturday night in the Pan-American building at Washington, D. C., the use of which was offered for the occasion by John J. Barrett, a well known Oregonian, and general director of the Pan-American Union.

A copy of the prayer, written by the Rt. Rev. These are busy days for the Oregon division of the woman's committee, State Council of Defense.

Each county is well organized and at the suggestion of Director Kollock, the county chairman of the woman's committee have been made members of the executive committee of each county council and thus the woman's work is being recognized.

The war savings societies are progressing well and the following counties have reported the work being organized: Marion, Mrs. William Hamilton, Salem, chairman; Washington, Mrs. L. W. Hyde, chairman; Yamhill, Mrs. William Houck, chairman; McMinnville, Douglas, Mrs. A. C. Mares, chairman; Deschutes, Mrs. W. A. Ellis, chairman.

Mrs. Castner of Portland, will go from the biennial meeting of the General Federation of Women's clubs in Hot Springs direct to Washington, where she has been called for a conference of the state chairmen of the women's committee, and upon her return early in June will call a meeting in Portland of all county and local chairmen, chairman of committees and the executive committee of the state council of defense woman's division. She then will present the plans received at the national meeting and further promote the state activities.

Dr. Frank Wilbur Chace, director of music, Willamette university, presents a number of the music students in recital Monday evening, at the chapel, Waller hall, campus.

The program is a mixed one of piano, vocal and violin numbers. Those taking part are the Misses Faye Bell, Helen Moore, Muriel Steves, Nellie Beaver and Misses Aileen Dunbar and Marie Largent in a duo piano. The vocal students are pupils of Mrs. Chace, excepting Miss Goulder who is going back under the auspices of Mrs. Chace. Those singing are the Misses Vesta Mulligan, mezzo soprano; Gladys Hansel, alto; Alma Nelson, mezzo soprano; Alberta Goulder, soprano; Gladys Crozer, alto, and Raymond H. Boney, baritone. Mr. Moore, studying with Mr. South, will appear for the first time in a violin solo.

The music lovers are most cordially invited to attend these recitals. The recitals are unusually good for students as they are making rapid progress in their art.

Mrs. Katherine Glen Kerry, singer and composer, gave a concert at the First Methodist church, Monday evening, for the benefit of the Willamette chapter American Red Cross. Mrs. Kerry is a prominent society woman of Seattle, who is devoting her rare talents to helping the Red Cross during the war. She pays all her own expenses, giving concerts in the towns and cities of Oregon and Washington, and not only all proceeds are given the Red Cross, but all royalties from her songs (published under the name of Catherine Glen) are also given to Red Cross for the period of the war.

Mrs. Kerry changed her audience not only with her lovely voice, but her winning personality. The latter part of the program included a group of Mrs. Kerry's own compositions, which proved exceedingly interesting. The music so well fits the words, that it almost seemed to recreate the poems. Their rendition was delightful and the hearers were most enthusiastic in their applause.

Dr. Frank Wilbur Chace assisted Mrs. Kerry in his inimitable manner accompanied her with perfect sympathy.

The program ended with the Star Spangled Banner, sung by Mrs. Kerry and the audience joining in the chorus.

Salem theater goers who have taken especial pleasure in the highly artistic piano playing of Mrs. Warren Hunt at the Ye Liberty theater, which has been characterized by sympathetic and exceptional interpretative power, will be interested to learn that she has given up her position as pianist to devote her time and talent to the study of the elpico organ. Mrs. Hunt was a well known pipe organist in Portland some years ago, and will resume her studies in that direction to the gratification of her friends, who feel she is pre-eminently gifted as an organist. She will remain in Salem for the present.

BONNER-MOSER WEDDING
James C. Bonner, manager of the Silver Glen stock farm and Miss Olive G. Moser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stenwall Moser, were quietly married at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Allyn Esson near Albany Monday forenoon at 11:30 o'clock, in the presence of a brother of the groom and brother and sister of the bride and Henry DuVal.

The wedding party motored to Albany and after the ceremonies, the happy couple left for Newport for a honeymoon and others of the party returned home. Invitations are out for a reception of the newlyweds at the home of the groom's parents at their residence.

THE RIGHT KIND OF A MAN for Senator

R. N. Stanfield.

Farmer, Stock Raiser and Producer

The State is entitled to the active services of a man who knows how to work. Work for the State generally and work for the people of the State, both individually and collectively.

Oregon does not need any orators for orators are a drug on the market, and like constitutional lawyers, they do not get anything.

The Federal government needs all the assistance Oregon can give, but is not receiving it because it has not been put up to the department on a business basis.

Today business men are having more to do with the government affairs than ever before. We are spending twenty-four million dollars a day and the people who pay this money are the people who actually create wealth, the farmer, producer and the toiler.

Our prosperity depends upon our continued industrial activities and every one of these should be maintained at the maximum capacity.

The prosperity of the small farmer, the small producer and the small manufacturer is as essential to the State and the Nation as the prosperity of the big man, every one of our occupations should be given equal consideration regardless of the amount produced.

Every encouragement must be given to increase production and this can be obtained only through assurance that the small farmers as well as the big man is going to receive his proportionate share of the war expenditures, and that there will be a market for his products and a profit to him for his work based proportionately upon his cost of production.

There must be equality in all phases of our State and National industry, and the small fellow must not be forgotten, overlooked or crowded out through the rush for big things and big orders and big accomplishments.

If the people of the State want a business man, a worker, a man who knows, is thoroughly acquainted with every phase of the industrial situation in Oregon, a man who is capable, honest and fearless, a man who has by his own labor and through his own advancement aided in the progress and development of Oregon, they want Robert N. Stanfield.

Faith Adv. By Stanfield Senatorial League, 263 Northwest Bank Building.
