SOCIETY

By Carol S. Dibble

The martial call continues to erip... The art ranks of the various countries having voids in numerous artistic activities, well high impossible to refill. The departure of Harry Q. Mills for a Georgia training camp, shortly will remove from the musical circles of Salem one of its most gifted pianists, and one destined to go far in the concert field. The young soldier musician appeared in recital last night at Portland before an audience composed of members of the Realization League at Woodcraft hall. Following the musical, Mr. Mills held an informal reception, when a large number of old time friends took advantage of the opportunity to extend both congratulations and farewells. He was accompanied to Portland by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Mills and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Baker, the party motoring back to Salem last night.

since their organization at the beginning of the year: 323 triangle, 242 head, 32 abdominal bandages, 14 suits, 123 handkerchiefs, 14 fringe pillows, 24 pairs socks, 30 dish towels, 1 pair bed set, 4 wash cloths. In March a box social was held netting the treasury $89.30. The auxiliary is now buying its own material and plans to continue being self supporting.

Yesterday's Oregonian says in regard to the recital of last night: "Rev. H. Edward Mills of Spokane, will address the Realization League in the Women of Woodcraft hall, Tenth and Yamhill streets, this morning and tonight. At tonight's meeting the address will be preceded by a piano recital by Mr. Mills' nephew, Harry Q. Mills, of Salem."

Mrs. E. G. Terwilliger was the motif of a pleasant surprise party last Thursday, when the Aid society of the Woman's Relief Corps gathered at her residence on Cheneca street on the occasion of her second wedding anniversary. The afternoon was enjoyably passed with Red-Cross needlework, and an informal program. Mrs. Echo Station gave a reading, Mr. Terwilliger contributed several vocal selections and little Olive Lewis of Riverbank, California, also gave an entertaining recital. Refreshments were served by the committee in charge. About forty ladies were present.

This young man is 21 years of age and belongs to the ordnance class which was scheduled to train at Eugene, but will soon be sent directly to Georgia. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Mills, long time residents of Salem. From a little child he has played the piano, and with constantly increasing ability. He received instruction at Willamette university and later at the state university of Oregon at Eugene. It was here that Arthur Frazer of Chicago, concert pianist, heard young Mills perform on the pipe organ. So talented is young Mills that Mr. Frazer urged him to accept a music scholarship for 1917-18. He did so and for months has been studying intensely under the close supervision of his instructor.

Mrs. Louise Wells, president of the Seigwick Corps, recently entertained the officers of the corps at an afternoon gathering at the army. Dainty refreshments of cake and punch were served.

Mr. Arthur G. O'Shaughnessy of Denver, Colorado, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. George Lewis, at her home on South Twelfth street for a few days, left for San Francisco last night, where she will join her husband, who has business interests there. Mrs. O'Shaughnessy was accompanied by her two children, Margaret and John.

Commencement events held full sway Saturday night, when the pre-graduation festivities of Willamette university were joyfully inaugurated. Mrs. Carl Gregg Doney, the wife of President Doney, now in service in France, entertained the seniors of the university at the annual class reception. Masses of cherry blossoms lent a glory of flaky bloom to the reception room. About forty five guests were in attendance. Mrs. George H. Alden assisted Mrs. Doney. In the absence of both the president and acting president, the receiving line was dispensed with.

Mr. C. P. Bishop is planning to leave the middle of the week for an extended eastern trip. He will accompany his son, Clarence Bishop, of Pendleton, who will go on business. They will be gone a month or more, stopping at New York, Boston and other points of interest on the coast.

Dr. and Mrs. M. C. Findley were also hosts Saturday night, for the annual freshman-sophomore party at their residence 225 North Twentieth street. Japonica and an array of spring bloom furnished lovely decorations for the affair. Professors and Mrs. W. E. Kirk acted as chaperones for the occasion. Over a hundred guests were present. The entertaining committee numbered Miss Ethel Fogg, Miss Evelyn Gordon, Miss Gertrude Dillard and William Helt. Miss Mary Findley assisted.

Mr. and Mrs. Will D. Bennett entertained as guests yesterday a party of friends from Portland, who motored down for the day. The visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mandell (Margaret Mitchell), Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Watson, Mrs. Whitehead, Mrs. Deverens and Percy Garagas. Later in the day Mr. and Mrs. Bennett joined their guests for an afternoon's outing to the golf links, where a number of picnic parties were in progress.

Mrs. Russel B. Fields (Olive Beckley) went to Portland this morning to join her husband, who leaves this evening for Georgia to complete his ordnance course at a training camp near Atlanta. Mr. Fields, who left for Portland early this morning, had expected to return to Salem, before his departure, but a change in orders, made it impossible for him to make the trip back again. Mrs. Fields will remain in Portland for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Lee Patterson entertained a party of out of town guests over the week end, several of whom will remain at the Patterson residence for the greater part of the week including, Miss Virginia McDonough of Portland, Miss Mary Louise Hoge of Seattle and the hosts' son, Captain Philip W. Patterson of Camp Lewis. The latter's brother, Lee Patterson, and Miss Harriet Cummings of Portland, who were also members of the house party, motored back to Portland last night. Lieutenant Sullivan of Camp Lewis, who likewise was a recipient of the Patterson hospitality left this morning.

Full Blooded Indian Born in Alaska Bound to Fight For America

When an Indian wants to get into the service and fight for his country, it is evidently hard to keep him out. At least that is the opinion of the local exemption board in his experience with William Henry Reddie.

For the past few months Reddie has been touring the country in the Redpath Lyceum bureau as a member of the Indian string quartette. But even the sounds of strangled music could not subdue his martial soul as the board frequently heard from him, asking when he could get into the service. Reddie is properly registered, but the time had not come for his call.

Requests State to Withdraw Application

The Desert Land Board has been requested to withdraw its application for a five years' extension of time made to the Federal Government prior to the recent decision of the supreme court on the Chewaucan river water right matters, according to a letter received today by John H. Lewis, secretary of the board, from the commissioner of the general land office.

The federal government has been informally advised that this water right litigation has terminated adversely to the state's interest and if such withdrawal is not made, the state is called upon to "make a full showing as to the present situation and what it proposes to do."

Henry M. White, United States immigration and conciliation commissioner for the government spoke at Sunday's organization meeting.
