Warning, Feminine Flirts?

Here's a Lesson for You

Madge Kennedy's eyes never have been brighter and her smile never has been sweeter than in "Our Little Wife," Goldwyn's splendid picture of Avery Hopwood's play of a woman and her husband, coming to the Liberty Theatre tomorrow. Never has a role appeared so charmingly as that of Dodo, the flirtatious wife, despite the fact that in real life nothing is more repulsive to her than the sight of a feminine flirt in action.

In "Our Little Wife," Dodo is never happier unless she is flirting with her husband's friends, her friends, and their friends. She has hands with the doctor, a nerve specialist who acts like an osteopath, and even exchanges glances with a French waiter. As a flirt she is incorrigible. But Miss Kennedy loves the part, she admits.

"I love Dodo, even though I hate a flirting woman more than anything else in the world," Miss Kennedy ventured. "In fact, no role ever appealed to me more. Perhaps it is because I am fully assured of just how far Dodo goes with her flirtations. No part that I can think of ever gave me such keen delight while at work in the studio or during rehearsals for the stage. Furthermore, the role of Dodo affords a lot of excitement in the making—and what player doesn't crave something exciting now and then?"

Besides affording a hundred laughs and as many thrilling situations, "Our Little Wife" will serve the purpose of pointing out the evils of flirting to many perfectly innocent young girls and married women, as well as to the count that day lost in which they haven't made the acquaintance of men they will flirt with in public places. I know it well. For if these fondlers could only see themselves in the act there would be no more of it.

"There are lots of women who can't see anything dangerous in flirting like Dodo. But they're on the wrong track and I hope 'Our Little Wife' convinces them of it," concluded Miss Kennedy.

Non Union Operators Take Place of Unionists

Seattle, Wash., May 1.—Non-union union telegraphers were being brought to Seattle today to replace 130 Western Union employees discharged for affiliating with the union being organized here.

The union employees, however, are waiting word from federal officials who they believe will protect their right to organize and have not called a strike. They say they are ready to fill their former posts at any time as a patriotic duty. Each locked-out employee is wearing a red, white and blue ribbon as a badge of their unionism.

STRIKE IS AVERTED.

Washington, May 1.—A threatened strike in print paper manufacturing plants was averted today when employers and employees of the industries signed an agreement with the federal trade commission.

Both sides agreed to abide by provisions of the new law.

JAPANESE PAPERS PLEASED

Tokio, May 1.—The Japanese press is generally pleased at the appointment of Baron Goto as foreign minister, succeeding Viscount Motono.

Editorials uniformly welcomed the appointment of a man who is not a professional diplomat. No change is expected in the foreign policy of Japan as a result of Goto's appointment.

ADVANCE IN MESOPOTAMIA.

London, May 1.—British forces in Mesopotamia have advanced as far as the Tigris river, it was officially announced this evening.

Eighteen hundred enemy prisoners and twelve field guns have been captured.

GIANTS OUTCLASS OTHER LEAGUE TEAMS

Manager Pat Moran Has Exhibited Very Little Talent Up to Present Time

By H. C. Hamilton

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, May 1.—Unless Pat Moran unleashes a lot more baseball than he so far has been able to trot out for the inspection of the Giants, the blame for a long lead on the National league pennant will be chargeable within a few days directly to the eastern wheel of Governor John K. Tener's circle of ball clubs. So far the Giants have met only the weak eastern clubs of the league. And as far the Giants have tossed off just one matinee, the honor for which belongs to Larry Cheney, spit ballist of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

The Phillies have used up Erskine Mayer and Mike Prendergast in their strategic retreat before the McGraw horde. Moran has one ace left in the hole in Joe Oeschger and an alleged ace in Bradley Hogg. Maybe they can stop the Giants and may they can't.

As time goes on, it becomes more and more evident that the White Sox are going to be forced into a sincere re-joining with the Boston Red Sox before they cut their initials on another American league championship. The convincing way in which Ed Barrow's trained troops are ripping through their opposition shows no good omen for the Chicagoans.

The champions, however, are now off to a good start and will be ready to take on the rest of the league when the time comes. Joe Benz's appearance yesterday against the Indians was encouraging to White Sox fans, for the former star seems to have gained some of his old time effectiveness.

To Purify Baseball.

Milwaukee, Wis., May 1.—American Association magnates having taken radical steps to "purify" baseball, opened today with hopes for the best session in history. All freak deliveries such as the "spine ball" and spit ball, have been placed under a pitcher's penalty of $25 for each offense.

St. Paul opens with the Brewers here. Minneapolis at Kansas City; Louisville at Toledo and Indianapolis at Columbus.

Leonard Comes West.

New York, May 1.—Benny Leonard, world's lightweight champion, left today for the Pacific coast, where he will engage in several bouts for the benefit of army training camp funds. It will be the first visit of the champion to the far west.

Ross Becomes Aviator.

San Francisco, May 1.—Norman Ross, holder of a flock of swimming records, left here today for Dallas, Texas, to join the army aviation school.

Miller Seeks Fulton

San Francisco, May 1.—Colonel J. C. Miller, who is trying to stage the Jess Willard-Fred Fulton championship bout has seconded Fulton's motion that the lanky Minnesotan shall not risk his features or reputation before July 4 in a soldiers' benefit bout with Sailor Willie McEhnan. Miller wired that he is afraid Fulton might break a hand or get beaten and it would spoil the big scrap.

their recent tactics.

Western Front Quiet.

London, May 1.—The entire western battle front was quiet yesterday, following the severe defeat inflicted on the Germans in the Flanders assault Monday.

Field Marshal Haig in his official report last night said that "except for local fighting at different points, there has been no infantry action today."

He added that further reports confirm the fact that the enemy's losses were very heavy in his unsuccessful attack yesterday.

The French, in a successful counter attack near Loree Monday night took 94 prisoners.

A violent bombardment in the region of Hangard-Eu-Santerre, south of the Somme, yesterday, was reported by the French war office. A German attack was repulsed in the Noyon sector.

The German war office admitted the capture of Loree by the French and claimed the capture of British trenches north of Voormezele and Vierstraat. Artillery activity in the Kemmel region continued throughout the day, the Germans said.

General Haig Reports

London, May 1.—"Local enemy attacks on one of our posts in the neighborhood of St. Julien (three miles north-east of Ypres) yesterday was repulsed by machine guns," Field Marshal Haig reported today.

"Enemy posts in the Motereu sector were raided last night and prisoners taken."

"The French improved their positions around Loree last night by a successful minor enterprise."

Artillery Is Active

Paris, May 1.—Artillery was active near Villers-Bretonneux and on both sides of the Aves, the French war office reported today.

French patrols brought in prisoners in Lorraine. On the remainder of the front the night was quiet.

General Order Issued.

London, May 1.—"The enemy's effort to break down the resistance of the British army undoubtedly will fail, if all continue to show the resolute and determined courage characterizing the Ninth, tenth division," Field Marshal Haig declared today in a general order congratulating the Second army.

Other divisions congratulated were the Ninth, Twentieth, Thirty First, Forty Ninth and Twenty First.

Eugene High Nine Doped To Win Over Salem Team

(Eugene Register)

In the opinion of dopesters at the local institution, Eugene high school defenders of the diamond have the edge on the Salem baseball team, and will likely return to this city victorious after the session to be staged on a Salem diamond next Saturday. The following attack the red and black hurlers will be seen in action here on the cemetery edge grounds.

Most serious of problems confronting the Eugene nine is brought about through lack of a first baseman. Veatch who has been performing creditably on the initial sack, has been forced to turn in his suit because of interfering work. Among likely looking aspirants for the position is Keeney, built on lean, lanky lines, who gives promise of being able to stop the sphere within a radius of a few score feet. The retiring Veatch was noted for the manner in which he performed over the platter and his absence will likely be missed a great deal in the batting department.

Lark and Thompson are the mainstays in the box. Thompson is possessed of a good deal of speed, and has a wonderful in-drop which, unfortunately, the catcher is seldom able to connect with. Clark, the other mound man, has as many curves as a scenic railway, and is said to be much more reliable than Thompson.

From the Salem school comes reports that they are handicapped by the loss of Proctor, a star of former years. They have, however, a southpaw tosser of the leather pellet who is said to be very good.

Star Pitcher Leaves With Draft Contingent

Lincoln, Neb., May 1.—Grover Cleveland Alexander left Lincoln at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon with the St. Paul, Neb., draft contingent on his way to Camp Funston, Kansas. He expressed only one regret—that he must leave baseball with his record not quite filled.

"I did want to equal Mathewson's record. He won thirty games or more for three consecutive seasons and this would have been my third. But it's all right. I'm glad I'm going and I guess there'll be a place for us when we come home," said the big Nebraskan.

WILL BUILD SHIPS.

San Francisco, May 1.—Within five weeks a new shipbuilding plant of the United Iron Works to be located at Hunter's Point will be building steel ships for the government. General Manager J. J. Ryan of the Iron Works announced today. The new plant will employ 3,000 men. Construction on the yards already has been started and the first keel will be laid as soon as possible.

I am a candidate for the republican nomination for justice of the peace for Salem district, at the primary election to be held Friday, May 17.

If I am elected I will conduct the office along strictly business and economical lines.

I will discourage useless, frivolous and needless prosecutions, urge the immediate dispatch of all cases, thereby saving materially the tax payers' money.

I will conduct the office efficiently and in such a manner that it will continue to be of general accommodation to the circuit court, thereby relieving the higher court from the trial of numerous cases within the jurisdiction of the justice court.

All decisions will be based entirely upon the law and evidence in each particular case, courtesy, business, decisions without favoritism, justice alike to all will be my motto. Eight years of actual and continuous practice of the law has especially qualified me to conduct the office as pledged.

I assure you that any support you may give me in my candidacy will be appreciated.

Sincerely yours,

(Paid ad.) G. E. UNRUH.

CONGRESS IS READY TO INCREASE ARMY

Only Wants to Know That Clothing and Equipment Will Be Ready

By L. C. Martin

(United Press staff correspondent)

Washington, May 1.—Before congress authorizes broad gauge expansion of the American army, evidence must be submitted to show the war department's ability to officer, clothe, equip and arm the new levies with no delay.

Members are determined, they said today, that there must be no more failures to provide adequate equipment on time.

But once satisfied as to this, members of both houses will vote for any number of men the war department wants.

"The submission of new army estimates provides a capital opportunity to see whether war department organizations have been for the good of the service," said a member of the senate military affairs today.

Secretary Baker will appear before the house committee "in a few days" with his estimates and plans for the increased army. No hint has been given, however, concerning the number of men he will ask authority to add to the forces.

Taking the position that it would be discourteous to congress to let the nation know what he proposes before he tells the military committee, Baker insisted today his figures will be made known only when he goes there.

That he and the war department are planning for an army of 2,500,000 to 3,000,000 or more is a certainty, however. The department is studying carefully the problem of increasing contentment space and particularly what it shall do with the national guard camps. Lord Reading, British ambassador has guided Baker considerably in framing his plans, inasmuch as these plans depend to a considerable extent on British shipping facilities. The quartermaster corps is making its preparations "with the sky as the limit," though no figures have been presented to it yet.

The general thought here is that probably 2,500,000 men will be in the field or in camp by the end of the year.

Provost Marshal General Crowder will appear with the secretary to show the status of the nation's draft reserves and to give his opinion as to how many recruits can be put into the training camps within the next year without interfering seriously with necessary industries.

An important meeting of the war department war board today with Chairman Hurley of the shipping board, Chairman Baruch of the war industries board and Charles Piez of the Emergency Fleet corporation, canvassed the troops transportation system in relation to shipping and material and found that the nation can take care of three million men here and abroad this year and by straining can go beyond that number.

This confirmed the estimate recently made to the house military committee.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-colored tablets.

These pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Most headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lousy" and "heavy." Note how they "clear" clouded brain and how they "perk up" the spirits. 10c and 25c a box. All druggists.
