Musical Show at Grand Theatre Sunday

Guy Barick, expert comedian of the quiet school, offers a most amusing feature in "Good Bye Broadway," which is coming to Grand theater on Sunday May 5, tomorrow. He enacts a sort of Frank Tinney role, and early in the show goes to the audience where he secretes something in a most mysterious manner. He tells the person who holds this secret to guard it carefully, and he talks over the footlights concerning it every little while. Near the close of the show it stops suddenly, and it is announced that the proceedings must stop as the plot has been lost. Then Barick discloses that he has left the plot with the man in the audience. It is recovered and the show proceeds to its close.

"Over There," the great war drama which Select Pictures is releasing for distribution, will be shown at the Liberty theater next Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The picture, which was made by the Charles Richman Pictures Corporation, is being hailed as one of the finest of the year's productions, and its co-stars, Charles Richman and Anna Q. Nilsson, set a high standard in motion picture characterization. The story briefly told, concerns the lives of Monte Jackson and his sweetheart, Betty Adams. Monte has an inherent fear of bloodshed, and when war breaks out sidesteps, on one excuse or another, enlistment. In time his friends question his excuses; he is blacklisted at his club, finally denounced as a coward, and dropped by his set. Even his fiancée, in the face of his continued evasion, loses faith and breaks their engagement. Only his mother stands by him. Horrified at the position he occupies, in a revulsion of feeling, Monte joins the service. He is sent to France, where Betty is already serving as a Red Cross nurse. Here he works out his salvation, climbs back into the love of his friends and sweetheart, and covers himself with glory; See the picture; It is the sort of thing that might happen to any one of us. It is filled with human interest, and appeals to the innate love of country and flag in every loyal American. It is a red blooded American play with a great idea behind it.

Aged Lady Injured by Fall Over Bank

Mrs. Sarah J. Woodruff, who is 87 years old, was quite seriously injured late yesterday afternoon when she fell over a steep embankment near the Oregon Electric trestle on Commercial street. Mrs. Woodruff makes her home with her daughter, Mrs. W. P. Babcock, living at 631 South Commercial street, and is quite active for her age. She was in the habit of going outdoors daily and frequently gathered up trash, etc., about the yard and would take it to the rear of the lot and throw it over the embankment. It is thought that while doing this she lost her balance and fell over the embankment, falling and rolling together a distance of about 25 feet. She struck on her left shoulder, breaking her left arm and suffering other bruises. She rolled to the foot of the trestle where she lay several hours before she was discovered by two men who were walking over the trestle and heard her groan. Mrs. Woodruff was taken to the Willamette sanatorium and her injuries given medical attention. She was reported to be resting easily today, with good chances of recovering. Her daughter was not at home at the time the accident occurred.

What Should Be Sent To Boys In France

To anxious mothers and loving sisters and others interested in the boys in France, the postoffice department has issued a circular that will not be especially pleasing, as it tells just what is best not to send the boys. Many of the articles mentioned are just what the folks at home have been sending. For instance, do not send candy. They can buy it cheaper and fresher there. Just send plain money, not fancy candied biscuits or cakes. These can also be purchased anywhere in France.

A shaving brush can be had over there for 23 cents and a first class tooth brush for 28 cents. Adams Pepsin chewing gum is for sale everywhere for 4 3/4 cents and so is Spearmint. Baker's chocolate can be had for 75 cents a pound anywhere in France where the boys are stationed and Menter's chocolate cake for 13 1/2 cents. They can buy Fatimas (cigarettes) for 14 1/2 cents and Lucky Strike smokes for 9 1/2 cents. Cigarette papers, Hila-Croix are to be had for two cents. If the boy drinks tea, he can buy the best for 38 cents a pound, real Formosa. Ever-Ready flash lights, complete are 66 cents, batteries 28 cents and bulbs 14. The government says so. Gillett razor outfits are sold over there for $3.51 and razor blades for 66 cents a dozen. Shoe polish the government says is selling for 7 1/2 cents and there is all kinds of soap for sale from 5 cents a cake up to the real fancy FrFench with the delicious perfume. The government is doing what it can to induce friends of the soldiers to just send real money and not mail many articles that can be purchased cheaper on the other side.

Government Promises Thorough Prosecutions

Chicago, May 4.—The care with which the government intends to bolster its sedition charges against the 112 I. W. W. leaders on trial here was pointed out today when George Sherley, postal clerk from Augusta, Kansas, took the witness stand for five minutes. Sherley identified one signature in a mass of documents submitted as exhibits. "We'll bring ten men from Alaska, if necessary, to establish the least important fact," Special Prosecutor Nebeker told the court. Office employees of the I. W. W. organization were witnesses today testifying concerning its publications. Because of the illness of Juror John Clegg, Ottawa, Illinois, the court adjourned at noon until Monday morning. Federal Judge William C. Van Fleet, California on route to Washington, sat with Judge Landis for a time today.

Senate Passes Bill To Punish Sedition

Washington, May 4.—The senate today adopted the conference report on the sedition bill by a vote of 48 to 26. The vote was a defeat for those who contended that the measure endangers the right of free speech and a free press. Attorney General Gregory urged the adoption of the report on the ground that the bill is vital to successful prosecutions of spies and propagandists. Johnson Approves. Warning that passage of the pending sedition bill would "breed discontent," and make a "great virile people timid and fearful," Senator Johnson, California, today in the senate denounced what he termed attempts "to padlock the lips of America." The bill imposes twenty years imprisonment and $10,000 fine on any person who uses profane, scurrilous or abusive language about the government, the army or the navy, who spreads false rumors, inciting resistance to the government or who by written or spoken word favors the cause of Germany.

Goose Lake Valley Refuses Sale of Water

The Goose Lake Valley Irrigation company of Lakewood, Oregon, has refused to sell water to farmers unless they buy water for 40 acres or more, according to a petition received by State Engineer Lewis from W. A. Bailey and others who desire water for only 20 acres each. They state "our crops were almost a complete failure last year and if we don't get water we are likely to have another failure this year." The matter was referred to the Public service commission which has jurisdiction in the matter of rates and service.

Non-Union Telegraphers Arrive In Portland

Portland, Or., May 4.—Twenty-nine non-union Western Union telegraphers have arrived in Portland in the past twelve hours, District Organizer James R. Kelly said today. All these non-union workers, said Kelly, were traveling on free transportation granted the Western Union by the railroad, although, he said, orders recently were traveling on free transportation by the railroad administration. Twenty-two of the operators, Kelly said, went to Seattle on train number 402 at 11:30 last night. He did not know the destination of the other seven, four of whom were women, who traveled on "foreign" free transportation, that is, from east of the coast territory.

In a very short time after the alarm was turned in two streams of water were playing on the blaze.
