

Information Department Salem Woolen Mill Store

The American Wool supply is to be prorated to the Mills of the Country, under plans completed in Washington, by the War Industries Board, for the complete supervision of the wool cloth and the yarn industries. The change is significant and very great; instead of buying and selling as in the past wool merchants will under Government supervision market the entire American clip on a commission basis.

Watch this space for important suggestions pertaining to wool and woolen manufacturing.

San Francisco, May 7.—After he had pleaded guilty to violation of the espionage act, Otto Janson, manager of the Janson Iron Works of Oakland, experienced a change of heart.

When he appeared before Federal Judge Dooling for sentence late yesterday, he declared that he wants to enlist in the navy "to show the public that I am an American."

Judge Dooling will hear witnesses in the case Thursday.

Salem Man Has Thanksgiving
Every Day

"Two years ago, after suffering many years with stomach trouble, I took a course of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and haven't been sick a day since. I can eat anything I want and have no pain at all. Three doctors had advised operation, but your remedy has cured me. Every day is Thanksgiving day for me." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the watery mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. MAURICE ACCUSES ENGLISH MINISTERS OF TELLING UNTRUTHS

Former Director of Military Affairs Explodes Bombshell
in Letter

By Ed L. Keen
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
London, May 7.—A public letter from General F. B. Maurice, former director of military operations, substantially charging Lloyd George and Chancellor Bonar Law with lack of veracity concerning vital matters, admittedly presents the gravest situation with which the recently much-assailed government has yet been confronted.

Herbert Asquith, former premier, precipitated matters in the house of commons this afternoon by bluntly asking the government what steps it intended to take regarding Maurice's letter.

Bonar Law, acting as spokesman for the government, replied that the army council is inquiring into the question of military discipline raised by the letter. He said that the government had asked that two judges be appointed as a court of honor to investigate Maurice's allegations against the ministers. He offered to permit Asquith to name one of the judges.

Bonar Law said that secret documents of the utmost importance must be examined and because of this a house committee would be unsuitable to deal with the matter. He said, however, that the government would set a date to discuss Maurice.

Admiral Sir Hedworth Meux declared that Law's answer would be received with the greatest dissatisfaction by the army and navy, "who are sick to death of the way things are running in common."

The consensus of opinion today was that unless the accused ministers explain satisfactorily, a parliamentary inquiry is practically certain.

The Maurice letter was such a "bolt from the blue" that only three editors recovered sufficiently to discuss the matter editorially. These were the Post, Chronicle and Evening News. The two former, although at the opposite poles in politics, insisted on a complete and exclusive clearing up of the situation.

Later the afternoon newspapers commented fully.

"These accumulating incidents, coupled with serious errors of policy are creating confidence in the government," declared the Westminster Gazette.

"We need, in these times, above all else, a government we can trust. Commons must be based on a searching inquiry into Maurice's allegations."

The Evening Star said:

"Unquestionably there is something wrong in the present government's relations with the army and navy. An investigation must be ordered."

The Globe said:

"We can imagine nothing meaner or more contemptible than the minister's refusal for the purpose of saving themselves from public odium, should blame be cast upon the soldiers by false statements, when they themselves are responsible. We suspend judgment on the condition of an immediate promise of a searching inquiry."

The Evening Standard is the only paper so far to criticize Maurice, although it demands an inquiry.

"We deplore emphatically the acceptance of the principle that a distinguished soldier may compel the ministers to submit to an inquiry concerning points in administration of which he disapproves," it declared.

GREGORY NAMES FREESON.

Washington, May 7.—Assistant Attorney General Frieson has been designated by Attorney General Gregory to take charge of the probe ordered by President Wilson into Gutzon Borglum's charges against the aircraft production board.

ONLY CLASS ONE

575,000 men.

The needs of agriculture will not cut down class one now, officials point out and essential farmers were given deferred classification. Farm laborers of class one will not be taken until after harvest, but they are still in class one and will be subject to call then.

Unless final congressional approval of the draft amendment, authorizing registration of the 21 year old men is delayed, these men will be listed on June 5 under present plans.

The bone of contention on the question now is whether these men shall be placed at the end of the class one lists, and it is expected this will be settled this week.

Call for Engineers.

Washington, May 7.—A call for 4,000 men to fill up vacancies in the civil engineering, ordnance and quartermaster corps was sent out today by Provost Marshal General Crowder. Men will be drawn from all states except Arizona, Delaware and Vermont. They are to enter May 20.

Siberia Will Attempt to Separate From Russia

A Pacific Port, May 7.—C. A. Todabush, of St. Louis, attaché of the American embassy in Petrograd, declared his belief today that Siberia soon will attempt to separate from Russia and set up an independent republic.

Todabush said such a movement has gained considerable force in Siberia, where opinion generally is strongly in favor of active participation in the war on the side of the allies.

Bearing diplomatic reports for the state department, Todabush arrived here today on an Oriental liner and will go to Washington immediately.

"When I left Russia," he said, "there were many reports of a movement to put the Grand Duke back in power and I believe they had considerable foundation."

Kidney Sufferers Have Feeling of Security

Service Commission was willing to raise the rates, that was its business, but he didn't want the city council to appear as endorsing the effort on the part of the light company to increase its revenue.

Alderman McClellan also thought the light company was barking up the wrong tree in coming before the council. "I am opposed to endorsing the resolution of Mr. Hamilton asking for an increase of rates, because I want the commission to take all the responsibility," he said.

Alderman Roberts and Wiest favored the resolution. Mayor Keyes took the floor, stating that the law provides that the public service commission had exclusive jurisdiction and that the city council had nothing to do with raising rates. He thought the talk of a new generator was camouflage on the part of Mr. Hamilton. "If they are not getting enough, they should have more," Mr. Keyes said, "but I am opposed to the city council bolstering up the efforts of the company to secure a higher rate. The Public Service Commission alone has jurisdiction."

On motion of the mayor the resolution of Mr. Hamilton asking the endorsement of the council in its efforts for higher rates was laid over until the next regular meeting.

To Economize on Lights

The city will economize on down-town lights during the summer months. By the new arrangement the 104 cluster lights down town will burn just the top light during the night at a cost of $2 a post each month, making a saving of $84.50 monthly.

Sergeant Major Christy and Private Burke were thanked for their patriotic addresses made in the armory several weeks ago. The Cherry City Mills were given permission to do some paving and also the right to move the Cherry City Mills building to lots owned by the Capital City Mills.

F. W. Stensloff, president of the Commercial club appeared before the council asking that the bridge be properly lighted. McClellan thought the people living on 14th street were also entitled to more light, as well as other parts of the city. It was finally agreed that the city should pay $15 a month for its share of lighting the bridge, especially as the city wasn't out a dollar for the new bridge to cost the two counties $247,000, except of course its proportionate share of taxes.

As the council had been working steadily for two hours and the councilmen showed signs of drowsiness, at the hour of 9:40 o'clock, the motion to adjourn was carried and four bills that were to have come up for final passage were laid over until the next regular meeting.

Hindenburg has been hard hit, but by now his reorganization should be about complete. When the weather and other conditions are favorable, there can be no doubt but that he will hit again, and hard—though not necessarily on the Somme or the Lys.

HEAVY LOSS INDICATED

By Henry Wood
With the French Armies in the Field May 7.—The French have identified eighteen fresh or re-formed German divisions (218,000 men) on the Amiens front.

While this presumably indicates the Germans' intention to resume their offensive there, it indicates likewise that the divisions thus placed have sustained aggregate losses of at least 50,000, the enemy customarily replacing first line divisions when they have lost between 2,000 and 3,000 men.

L. J. SIMPSON

"Your Kind of a Man for Governor"

The Highest possible endorsement. The most rigid test that his policies, practiced over a period of twenty years, are SOUND JUST and EFFICIENT. THE BEST POSSIBLE PROOF that his pledges to the citizens of Oregon are not mere "words," but "WORDS BACKED BY WORK."

Those who know him believe in him, believe in his ABILITY, believe in his POLITICAL. They know he will give Oregon a CLEAN, IMPARTIAL, BUSINESS-LIKE administration. They know it to be true, ABSOLUTELY. WHY?

Because—In nineteen years he has employed 51,000 men. He has always paid good wages. He never had a strike or a personal injury suit. He built many homes "on time," never foreclosed a mortgage or sued on a promissory note. He has helped many laboring men to acquire their homes, their business and their livelihood. These workers, who know him best, have endorsed him to a man, have adopted the above slogan and that's "WHY" he is "Your kind of a man for Governor."

Capture Americans

London, May 7.—Capture of American prisoners in "forefield engagements" southwest of Blomont, was claimed in the night official statement of the German war office.

Blomont is 16 miles due east of Lunenburg and two and a half miles southeast of the German border. It is four miles due north of Amersfoort, where Americans were engaged a few days ago.

Field Marshal Haig, reporting on the Australian advance in the neighborhood of Morlancourt Sunday night said that 200 prisoners were taken. Enemy raids were repulsed south of Loere, in the northern portion of the Flanders battle front Sunday night and Monday morning.

The French war office reported heavy cannonading on both sides of the Aisne, but no infantry actions.

Berlin further described the repulse of a French attack on Mont Kemmel and near Bailleul, with the loss of 300 prisoners.

Artillery Active.

Paris, May 7.—There was a mutual artillery firing on both sides of the Aisne, the French war office reported today.

West of Hangard-En-Santerre (where American troops are in the line) a German surprise attack failed. Our operations there resulted in the taking of some enemy prisoners.

Raiding Operations.

London, May 7.—Raiding activities were reported by Field Marshal Haig today.

"We captured a few prisoners and three machine guns in a successful raid last night in the neighborhood of Neuville-Vitasse (three miles southeast of Arras)," the report said. "Our troops suffered slight casualties."

"An attempted enemy raid near Bayelles (six miles south of Arras) was repulsed."

Major Rasmussen Had Brilliant Army Record

Portland, Ore., May 6.—Major Axel Rasmussen, reported today in a United Press dispatch from the French front, to have been killed by a German shell, was an officer of the second battalion, 28th United States infantry.

Rasmussen was known as the "flying major" because of dash and valor displayed while with the famous Princess Pats of Canada. He was transferred to the American forces at the request of General Pershing. Rasmussen was with the Princess Pats at Ypres when that command was practically wiped out by the first German gas attack. He conducted many brilliant reconnoitering and was party to many stiff fights in No Man's Land. Before Rasmussen enlisted in the Canadian forces, he was with the Fourth United States cavalry. He fought in the Philippines during the Spanish-American war.

The "flying major" drilled many American troops in France in bomb throwing. In a letter addressed to his brother, R. W. Rasmussen, Sherwood, Oregon, he praised the fresh American troops highly and said he was sorry for the Germans who were to face them.
