

Both Ends (Producer and Consumer) Against The Middle (The Packer)

The consumer wants to pay a low price for meat. The farmer wants to get a high price for cattle. The packer stands between these conflicting demands, and finds it impossible to completely satisfy both.

The packer has no control over the prices of live stock or meat, and the most that can be expected of him is that he keep the difference between the two as low as possible. He does this successfully by converting animals into meat and distributing the meat at a minimum of expense, and at a profit too small to be noticeable in the farmer's returns for live stock or in the meat bill of the consumer.

Swift & Company's 1917 transactions in Cattle were as follows:

	Average Per Head
Sold meat to Retailer for	$68.97
Sold By-products for	24.09
Total Receipts	$93.06
Paid to Cattle Raiser	84.45
Balance (not paid to Cattle Raiser)	$ 8.61
Paid for labor and expenses at Packing House, Freight on Meat, and Cost of operating Branch distributing houses	7.32
Remaining in Packers' hands as returns on investment	$ 1.29

The net profit was $1.29 per head, or about one-fourth of a cent per pound of beef.

By what other method can the difference between cattle prices and beef prices be made smaller, and how can the conflicting demands of producer and consumer be better satisfied?

They returned to Camp Lewis Monday. Eugene Slater, a brother of Captain Slater, who has recently returned from a two years' stay in Cleveland, Ohio, was also a visitor in the city the latter part of the week. Mr. Slater expects to enlist in the radio department of the service shortly. He is the guest of his parents, Judge and Mrs. W. T. Slater of Portland, at present.

The Aid society of the Presbyterian church will entertain the new members and friends of the church Friday afternoon at a silver tea to be given at the Z. F. Moody residence on Court street. All ladies interested in the church are extended a cordial invitation.

In Musical America for April 27, is nearly a page interview, with pictures, with Hartbridge Whipp, baritone, now of New York City, and recently of Portland. He says that because he read Musical America he was inspired to become a singer. He thinks that the present war will change American composition. One of the pictures of Mr. Whipp is when he was 2 years old and the other is as he is today. Mr. Whipp is well known in Salem musical circles, having appeared here in concert.

The Red Cross auxiliary of the Congregational church will hold an all day meeting Friday, in the church parlors. Assembling at ten o'clock, the members will devote the entire day to Red Cross sewing. Any one, who is not working with other auxiliaries is cordially invited to attend the meeting Friday.

Mrs. Melvin Plimpton spent the day in Portland, as the guest of Mrs. Asahel Bush, who is passing a few weeks in the city.

Some Pertinent Facts

The headquarters of both the city of Portland and the state campaigns will be at Liberty Temple, Portland. The Red Cross war fund dollar is really $1.02 for of every dollar subscribed to the Red Cross in the drive last year. $1.02 has been available, the two cents representing interest. The funds subscribed will be deposited 75 per cent to the credit of the American National Red Cross for war work abroad and 25 per cent for the war work of the local chapter. Not a cent will be expended from the war fund for the expenses of the campaign in any way. Eleven hundred dollars was allowed to Oregon by national headquarters from membership dues and this has been expended on

So far as is known, the Red Cross war drive is the only fund in which this procedure is rigidly carried out. In Portland it is announced the entire campaign will be over in two days. With the exception of $1,000,000, which will be expended or contracted for before June 1, the $100,000,000 originally subscribed to the Red Cross has been expended.

Fred H. Strong who has been appointed assistant manager for Marion, Polk, Linn, Benton, Lincoln and Lane counties, is manager of the Ladd estate in Portland. He has been conspicuous in every patriotic campaign but as chairman of the Canteen committee of the Portland chapter, American Red Cross, which cared for and fed thousands of soldiers passing through Portland, his work attracted national attention. Mr. Strong is known throughout Portland as a campaign manager without his equal.

To the Customers of the Salem Gas Plant Gas Rate Talk No. 3

The next phase of this matter to be considered is the value of the gas plant property, including distributing mains or pipes.

In 1916 the State Public Service Commission took an inventory of our gas plant and in their final report No. 191 dated April 30, 1917, they found that a reasonable value of the plant on December 30, 1916, was $211,797.24

During the year 1917 we made additional investments in the plant to the amount of 3,779.54

Therefore the value on December 31, 1917 was $215,576.78

The only profit or interest on the above investment that has been earned since 1907, when we purchased the plant, is that shown in our Talk No. 2 of $1,038.50 in 1916, and $2,353.54 in 1917. The first amount equals 0.48% and the second 1.09% interest on the $215,576.78.

Not a very attractive investment, is it? Consider the previous years when it did not even pay expenses.
