THE END OF THE WORLD.

The subject of the second coming of Christ and the consequent end of the world has been brought prominently before us by this great world war.

The various bodies of Christian believers who have made this doctrine prominent in all their teaching have seized upon recent events as sure proof that the end is at hand.

Ever since that day on Olivet when the little company of disciples watched their Lord ascend until the cloud hid him from their sight, and heard the angels message that some time he should so come again in like manner as they had seen him go into heaven, the Christian world have expectantly looked for his return.

man dominion begins, certainly not later than 476 A. D., the fall of Rome. Then this fifth era has lasted four or five centuries longer than all the rest put together!

Second--The history of this doctrine is sufficient to make thoughtful people stop and consider before accepting. Since the view is that the world is to grow worse and worse until Christ shall come and end all the wrong and misery every season of calamity has been looked upon as an indication of the end, and in every age many good people have thought their sufferings a sure sign of the coming of Christ.

Third--The pessimistic outlook of the pre-millennial theory is contrary to the optimistic attitude of the Bible. Christianity is a victorious religion. Christ is a conqueror, and his church is a conquering church.

Monmouth News

(Capital Journal Special Service) Monmouth, May 11.--James Hinkle writes that he has returned from the trenches for the third time, but that all is well.

Ivan Wood of the quartermasters department, stationed at Fort Sam Houston, has been transferred by request to the finance department, where as he believes there is more chance for advancement.

Chaplain Elkins came up from Ft. Columbia Friday evening on a short furlough for a visit with his family. He returned Sunday. He reports everything as usual in the forts that guard the mouth of the Columbia.

Clark Hembree shipped a mixed load of cattle and hogs to Portland Thursday. F. O. Powell attended a meeting of the dairy exchange in Portland, Saturday.

Monmouth grange met Saturday in regular session, with a fair attendance. Prof. Hyslop of O. A. C., who was scheduled to talk on "bulk handling of grain," did not arrive, so Mr. Lorence and J. E. Winger and others discussed the subject with profit to farmers present.

Just as the farmers were beginning to feel proud of their fall grain and hay crop which is unusually fine for this time of year, along comes the aphid to destroy the crop. The extremely dry season last summer and the unusually dry spring has been favorable to this pest which are so numerous in some fields that they not only menace, but are actually destroying the crop.

Students of the high school contested for honors in the end of thrift and war saving stamps Monday afternoon. Fannie Steinberg and Hope McDonald came first with sales amounting to $92.48; Ruth Stone and Beth Ostrom second with $29; Max Doverso and Herbert Powell third with $17.39 in sales.

Monmouth Co-operative creamery has again carried off the honors in the monthly scoring contest at the O. A. C. for April with seventeen competitors, our butter maker, Elias Goetz, was given first place with a score of 93%. The business of the creamery is increasing daily since the cream route has become established. Sam Morrison has been driving the truck lately.

Mrs. Lizzie Bowman and family autoed to Portland Sunday. Mrs. Neal left Thursday for her home in Turner, after a visit of several weeks with her daughter, Mrs. T. J. Edwards.

are not pessimists. We refuse to believe that the Bible teaches pessimism. On the contrary, we believe that this gospel of Christ's is believing as never before. We believe that the heathen will become Christian, that we can change our business life so that the spirit of Christ shall possess the spirit of greed; we believe that we can "make the world safe for democracy"; we believe America is giving her wealth and her greatness for the sake of co-operation in this divine task; and we believe that God has deeded many centuries yet for our race here on the earth to work out their God-given destiny.

It is this pessimism which is unscriptural. It is this denial of success to a Spirit-filled church. It is this denial of the power of a conquering Christ. Away with this pessimism! Give us instead the optimism of the gospel, the faith in a conquering church, a conquering Christ. Give us, O Christ, the insight to see, and the consecration to make possible the truth, that thy people are to make thy kingdom reign upon earth, and thy plans for men and society operative here as they are in heaven.

E. S. HAMMOND.

Time to get ready to welcome and entertain the old soldiers.
