HOFF LEADS RYAN FOR TREASURERSHIP BY SMALL MARGIN

Williams Also Passes Miller As More Complete Unofficial Returns Come In

Portland, Or., May 21.—As official returns of last Friday's primaries near completion this afternoon, the race between O. P. Hoff and Thomas F. Ryan for the republican state treasurer nomination was neck and neck.

Hoff led Ryan by 143 votes out of 42,319 votes counted. Adams was a close third with 15,199.

Charles A. Johns appeared to have won the nomination for supreme judge, with 24,464 over 22,605 for Percy B. Kelly.

Another close race was for public service commissioner. Fred H. Williams seemed to be maintaining a narrow margin over Frank J. Miller.

These returns were from 23 counties complete official, and the remainder in complete.

Trusty "Happy" Gordon Walks Away From Pen

"Happy Gordon" who has been an inmate of the state penitentiary sent up from Baker county for larceny of a dwelling, is no longer hampered in his freedom of thought by guards or walls or cells or such disagreeable things. For he it known that "Happy" was a trusty but isn't now as on the 18th of this month while working at Gold Hill he concluded to skip and that is the last that has been heard of him.

According to custom, there is a reward of $50 for the apprehension of "Happy." The circular giving notice of the $50 reward notes the fact that his real name is Darrell Dickinson and that he once served a term in the Nevada penitentiary under another name. "Happy" Gordon is fairly well known to those in Salem who attended the last penitentiary minstrel and the one about four years ago. He was not only the interloper, but the manager of the entire show and was largely responsible for the success of the last minstrel show at the pen.

United Press Service Covers South America

Rio De Janeiro, May 21.—With the opening of the complete United Press world service here Sunday, Argentine, Chile, and Brazil are linked with news service which the Rio papers today termed the "most practical sort of Pan-Americanism." The papers comment most favorably upon the widening of the breach in the wall of the old European news monopoly in South America.

NORMA TALMADGE

Miss Norma Talmadge, whose second Solzniek-Picture, "The Law of Compensation," will be the attraction at the Liberty theater next Thursday, Friday, Saturday, is one of the youngest of all the photodrama stars of the first magnitude.

When she was hardly "sweet sixteen" she was featured in numerous productions, and since then her rise has been steady and rapid, until now she heads her own company, organized for her by Joseph M. Schenck. Her first production in the independent venture was "Panthea," which has been acknowledged by critics as one of the classics of the year, and in "The Law of Compensation" it is predicted that this clever young star will set an even faster pace for her competitors.

Murderer of Three Is Sought In Two States

Kelso, Wash., May 21.—One arrest was made today in the triple murder mystery which has its victims an unidentified woman and her two young children.

Sheriff Studebaker was informed that a man driving a Dodge car was arrested at American Lake.

The sheriff believes the murderer escaped in a Ford car from the spot near the Pacific highway where the three were found shot. The bodies were lying in a tent. All three lay side by side. Apparently they had been sleeping when killed.

Studebaker said a Ford inner tube, together with testimony of those who had seen the family the preceding day, indicated that a Ford machine was used by the murderer in his escape.

The woman, aged about 35 years, a girl about 13 and a boy of 11 were found in a tent along the Pacific highway by a small boy from a nearby

LITTLE TALKS ON THRIFT

By S. W. STRAUS, President American Society for Thrift

Thrift of land is a lesson America must learn. In Europe, every foot of ground that is not occupied by the armies is under cultivation. We have been most profligate in this respect and even under the war stimulus, we are letting too much available ground go to waste.

In order to secure a more extensive cultivation of soil in Nebraska a movement has been started that is worthy of national emulation. The new plan is called "Acre Day," which is designed to be worked out in small towns and villages. Each man is asked to lend an acre of ground and take care of it in order to increase the state's food supply. One day each week is to be observed as "Acre Day," when places of business will be closed and each man will spend the time working his acre.

It is not believed that this plan will work any hardship on business interests during the summer months. The plan is valuable and worthy of being followed for three reasons. First—it will add materially to the nation's food supply; second—it will teach a valuable lesson in thrift to every community where it is followed.

Germany in the last year before the war, produced almost two billion bushels of potatoes. In this respect, at least, America can learn a lesson from our enemy.

At this time of year, much attention should be given to the cultivation of the potato. It is a very good form of patriotism. All over the country movements are springing up for total abstinence from wheat. The spirit of patriotism in America is so vital today, that this movement easily could be made universal and if the United States Food Administration so desired, the country would eliminate wheat entirely from its diet.

The potato is an ideal substitute for wheat and can be made a large part of the daily diet. There is practically no limit to the amount of potatoes that can be grown in the United States. They can be made into flour and used as bread. They can be used steadily three times a day without a thought of one growing tired of them.

Even if one has only a few square feet of ground space, it can be utilized advantageously in potato raising which is a good example of patriotic thrift.

Germany in the last year before the war, produced almost two billion bushels of potatoes. In this respect, at least, America can learn a lesson from our enemy.

One Hundred and Seventy-Five Are Dead

Oakdale, Pa., May 21.—Giant locomotives tugging at cables attached to the standing framework and heavier debris at the Aetna Chemical company's plant today cleared the way to more bodies, among the ruins.

Official estimates of the dead in the disaster stood at 175 this morning with a possible hundred or more to add to that gruesome toll.

Investigation went on with the questioning of witnesses regarding alleged habitual use in the plant of chemical substances forbidden in government bulletins issued several months ago.
