COMMITTEE WILL MEET TO DECIDE ON AIRCRAFT INQUIRY

Hughes and Gregory Go Ahead With Preparations For Complete Probe

By L. C. Martin

Washington, May 22.—Granted full authority by the senate to investigate aircraft production and every other phase of war department work, the senate military affairs committee met this afternoon to determine whether to hold its aircraft inquiry in abeyance.

Senator Chamberlain, committee chairman, indicated that "developments during the day" might result in the committee deciding that for the present, at least, it will not investigate along lines parallel to the department of justice inquiry.

Chamberlain was to place before the committee the new developments and ask the committee to decide.

In any event the sub-committee on air craft will be named and even if it does not plunge at once into an inquiry will visit aircraft factories, gathering data which will be used either in the committee's own probe or by the department of justice.

The committee today will decide on its contention that an investigation should be made in spite of President Wilson's expressed view that congressional investigation is unnecessary in view of the appointment of Charles E. Hughes to assist the department of justice in its probe.

Full Investigation.

Washington, May 22.—Attorney General Gregory and Charles Evans Hughes have determined upon a far more sweeping investigation of the aircraft production program that at first planned—and as a result the senate military committee probably will defer its action in the matter determined upon today.

The Gregory-Hughes probe will not be limited merely to charges of "dishonesty" against the aircraft board, but will be a comprehensive inquiry to determine whether there is need for civil suits as well as criminal. At its conclusion there will be a complete report of its findings for the American people.

Mrs. Stokes Mind; Doesn't Want To Be Shot

Kansas City, Mo., May 22.—"I love all countries."

Thus did Mrs. Rose Pasto Stokes, on trial in the federal court here for her alleged disloyal utterances, on cross-examination, define her view of patriotism.

"I do not believe in patriotism insofar as it pertains to loving just one country," she said.

Mrs. Stokes declared that her letter to the Kansas City Star denying that she had publicly made an appeal for support of the government in its war aims was not intended to create disloyalty. It was upon this letter that the indictment against her was based.

She denied that she opposed the government, adding:

"I am not opposed to the attitude of the government in the war, my opposition being only to the capitalists who are deriving profit and controlling the government."

Government attorneys quoted a speech Mrs. Stokes made in Minneapolis last year as follows:

"I have always repudiated America and looked upon it as one of the most oppressive nations. I would not rise to the national anthem or salute the Stars and Stripes. If I had to choose between rising to this anthem or standing up against a wall and being shot I would choose the latter."

She admitted having made such a speech.

Salem Bridge Work Is Progressing Steadily

The State Highway Engineers office says the work on the steel bridge is progressing satisfactorily and rapidly. There has been some trouble with the air compressor which furnishes the power for running the riveters but this is expected to be done away with today. Two spans are up and bolted and are ready for the riveters. The third span will be ready for them before the end of the week. The false work for supporting the steel is all in place. Polk county is having the fill made on the west approach and this work is well in hand, and will be completed when the bridge is on. On the east approach a beautiful cement railing is being made and this will have a length of 360 feet on each side of the roadway. It is made of white cement and white sand brought from California and will add materially to the appearance of the structure. It is expected the bridge will be ready for traffic by July first.

American Labor Mission Sends Greeting

London, May 22.—"To the American people I can say: "We are proud of the part we are playing in the war and I urge the speeding up of every war necessity, so the terrible conflict may be successfully concluded as quickly as possible."

This message was delivered to the United Press today by James Wilson, head of the American labor mission which has just concluded a tour of Great Britain and France.

"The American labor mission is now en route home," Wilson said. "We have witnessed the war efforts of Great Britain and France, and I can say that every resource at their command is being utilized in speeding up the war."

When the delegation left London it was absolutely unchanged in its determination not to confer with German laborites until Prussian militarism is crushed.

FIFTEEN CHAPTERS HAVE DELEGATES HERE

Open Session Tonight For Delegates and Invited Guests

The delegates from the fifteen chapters of the P. E. O. Sisterhood of Oregon, devoted their time today to business matters and the reports of committees. Short addresses were made today by Mrs. Ida Kidder and Mrs. Eleanor K. Braze with the presentation of service flags. This afternoon after the business session, the delegates were taken for automobile rides over the city and to the state institutions.

The program this evening is an open session for members and invited guests. After a program of music, light refreshments will be served.

List of Committees.

Committees appointed last night include the following:

Credentials—Mrs. Lydia Leabo, Mrs. Jessie Scott, Mrs. Lina Borton.
State By-Laws—Mrs. Lena Odell, Mrs. Alice Currier, Mrs. Ella Bailey, Mrs. Caroline Selez.

Officers Recommendation—Mrs. Emma Kiddle, Mrs. Lena Odell, Mrs. Ella Bailey, Mrs. Eva McClung.

Florence Grace, Mrs. Grace Morris, Mrs. Memorial—Mrs. Martha Bowen, Miss W. H. Hornbrook.

Resolutions—Mrs. Cora Garman, Mrs. Mary K. Logan, Mrs. Georgia Wright.
Past Presidents Here

Three past state presidents were present yesterday. They were Mrs. Dorothy Seymour of Forest Grove, Mrs. David Brace of Portland, and Mrs. Willard P. Jones of Portland.

Delegates who registered yesterday from Portland were: Mrs. Maude B. Mann, Mrs. Blanche Murphy, Mrs. Alice Currier, Mrs. Lena Odell, Mrs. Lydia Leabo, Miss Ada Bronkings, Mrs. C. F. Wright, Mrs. Eva McClung, Mrs. Cecile Bittner, Mrs. Lina Borton, Mrs. Amanda Smith and Mrs. Cora Garman. Those from other chapters were: Salem—Mrs. W. T. Kirk, Mrs. F. W. Selez; Eugene—Mrs. June Korf; La Grande—Mrs. Emma Kiddle, Mrs. W. W. Wade; Woodburn—Mrs. L. Lawrence; Albany—Mrs. W. H. Hornbrook, Mrs. Mary K. Logan; Oregon City—Mrs. W. Anderson, Miss Florence Grace; Corvallis—Mrs. Elizabeth Gunn, Mrs. Minnie Bosworth; Newberg—Mrs. F. A. Morris, Mrs. Mabel Evans. The sisterhood has eighteen chapters in Oregon and all but three were represented. All of the state officers were either here yesterday or expected this morning. Beside the president, Mrs. Kirk, are Mrs. Emma L. McCaw, of Portland, Mrs. Grace J. Volk of Salem, Mrs. Edna C. Brown of La Grande, Mrs. Nettie J. White of Forest Grove, Mrs. Bertha L. Gray of Portland, and Miss Margaret Copeland also of this city.

Albany P. O. E. Makes Vests For Aviators

Chapter O, of the Albany P. E. O., claims to be the only organization east of New York city doing a certain kind of patriotic work, that of making vests for aviators out of old kid gloves, parts of old shoes and in fact any old kind of leather.

And not only has the Albany chapter been making the vests, but they have a dozen or more with them here today in Salem, just to show their patriotic sisters what can be done with old gloves, shoes and scrap leather. These vests are on exhibition in the Meyers department store patriotic windows.

Some time ago the suggestion was made to the women of Albany that what the aviators really needed was vests of leather, as they are exposed to the colds of the upper air, and ordinary woolen garments were not adapted to this service.

The government has recognized that leather will keep out more cold than wool, but has not been able to properly supply aviators. Hence the Albany chapter has been giving its time to not only the collection of old leather scraps but to the making of vests and now has 85 to its credit.

So much favorable comment has been caused by the display of the aviators' vests, that it is probable the P. E. O. chapters in the state will take up as their special patriotic work the collection of leather and the making of vests. In the east, those associated with the stage have become interested in this work.

A look into the patriotic window of the Meyers department store will show just what can be done from old gloves, shoes, and scraps of leather in the way of making vests for the birdmen.

Does Any Old Resident Remember This Incident?

Here is a chance for any of the old timers who can remember what was happening in Salem about 28 years ago. This applies especially to physicians.

The following letter was received, addressed to the recorder or city clerk of Salem. It is dated May 15, 1918, and comes from Coalhurst, Alberta, Canada:

"I am in need of a certificate of my birth and am asking if you will kindly send me the same. My name is John Plummer Van Eaton and my father's name is John Andrew Van Eaton. My mother's maiden name was Mary Adelaide Love. The date of my birth was June 18, 1890. I was born in Salem, Oregon."

Neither City Recorder Esce nor County Recorder Boyer have record of such

RED CROSS DRIVE SENT MARION COUNTY OVER TOP QUICKLY

Salem Well Over Top and Other Towns Are Reporting Quotas Raised

With the reports coming in from the captains and 600 workers at the close of the 48 hour Red Cross drive, the total sum subscribed in Salem amounted to $21,588.00 and the indications at noon were that this amount would be increased $1,000 today.

With $7,000 already assured from eight out-of-town places in the county and seven more to hear from, there is the definite assurance that the quota of Marion county's $30,000 has been safely subscribed.

Mount Angel wired in today that it had raised its quota. Silverton reports $3,500; Aumsville and Shaw $800; Hubbard $600; Donald $600; Gervais $500; St. Paul $500, and Brooks $4000.

Other points to hear from are Jefferson, Turner, Stayton, Butteville, Monitor, Aurora and Woodburn.

Red Cross headquarters on State street will remain open this week to order that those who have not been approached, may be given an opportunity of voluntarily bringing in their subscriptions.

Hornbrook Elected National Committeeman

Albany, Or., May 22.—Will H. Hornbrook today claimed election as Democratic national committeeman for Oregon by a lead of 1500 votes over J. W. Morrow of Portland.

"Complete official returns from 25 counties, together with unofficial, incomplete returns from all the remaining counties except Clackamas, Douglas and Washington counties, give me a lead of 1008," said Hornbrook. "I will carry those three counties."

Hornbrook, who is editor of the Albany Democrat, formerly was United States minister to Siam.

Strike In Winnipeg Has Crippled Business

Winnipeg, Man., May 22.—Business activity here was seriously crippled today by a general strike of union men in sympathy with telephone girls and civic employes who quit work several weeks ago. Fire department employes are on strike, leaving the city virtually without protection against a conflagration.

Streetcar traffic has been suspended. Every railway shop here is closed.

A walkout of 12,000 steam and street railway workers yesterday was followed by a call to 15,000 more union men in various trades to stop work.

State House News

The returns from Sherman county and also from Hood River have been received at the office of the Secretary of state. The Sherman report was received Monday and that of Hood River Tuesday. Sherman is usually the first to report on elections due to its small area and light vote. The same causes make Hood River a close second.

The Public Service Commission has received word from Astoria to the effect that Miss Fannie Keyt, who was received on passenger train 32, at Astoria Sunday night, died a few minutes after boarding the cars. She came from San Francisco on the steamer Beaver and was accompanied by Miss Nellie Keyt. The cause of her death is unknown.

The Golden Rod Milling Company filed notice this morning with the corporation department increasing its capital stock from $75,000 to $150,000. Its place of business is Portland and its business that of cereal milling and the manufacture of poultry foods.

Portland's High-Toned Idlers Are Worried

Portland, Or., May 22.—Consternation prevailed at the Arlington club—the milkmaid's' hang-out when word was received that the city council today passed a strict anti-idlers ordinance.

The ordinance, which goes into effect immediately as a war emergency measure, declares that every able bodied man must find useful employment at once. It fixes a maximum penalty of $600 fine and six months imprisonment.

The only men exempted by the ordinance are those who have applied for work at an employment agency and can present a certificate showing that work could not be obtained.

MARK W. GILL DIES

Portland, Or., May 22.—Mark Wilson Gill, aged 50, secretary of the J. K. Gill company, stationers, died here today. He was born in Salem.

NAVAL APPROPRIATIONS

Washington, May 22.—The senate late today passed the naval appropriation bill, carrying approximately $1,500,000,000. The measure will now go to conference, having passed the house a birth. If any old timer or physician happens to remember what was happening in Salem away back about June 18, 1890, they would confer a favor by writing Mr. Van Eaton at the above address.

GERMAN INTRIGUE FIGURES IN FINAL

One Prominent Member Wrote That Us Germans Must Hang Together

Chicago, May 22.—A German tinge appeared today in the government's evidence against the I. W. W. leaders in the sedition trial here.

"Us Germans must together hang or else we'll hang alone," was the note written on the reverse side of a letter Charles Jacobs, defendant, was accused of writing last July to Wm. Weyh, indicted in San Francisco.

Government attorneys have hinted there are surprises in store in connection with the alleged German contributions to the I. W. W. and its pretension to pro-German uses without its leaders' knowledge.

Today's evidence carried the journey far afield to Colorado, Texas, Utah and Montana. One Jacobs letter dated Denver, July 28, 1917, declared:

"We are going to make a drive on the Colorado sugar industry this fall. With a few Wobblies (I. W. W.) on the job we can do some good organization for the A. W. I. U."

Pierce C. Wetter is alleged to have written to A. Bergeson at Salt Lake:

"It is not necessary to tell you how important it is to get the coal miners in the I. W. W. But stop and consider that two weeks of a general coal strike in Australia caused all trains to stop and tie up all shipping."

AMERICAN ARMY FORMING IN FRANCE

Secretary Baker Busy Working Out Details of New Organization

Washington, May 22.—Formation of the first American field army had already been undertaken when Secretary of War Baker was in France.

He revealed this today, following publication of the United Press story yesterday pointing out the likely appointments to leadership therein.

Major General Hunter Liggett, Baker said, was working on the organization plans and General Pershing also had the problem under consideration.

Liggett's prominent part in shaping the plans were taken as confirmation of the report that he would be the commander of this army.

Brigading of Americans will continue during the summer, it is assumed, but by fall or winter a return to the original divisional plan is likely.

Shipment of troops is progressing at a surprisingly good rate and next year the added tonnage and the extra destroyers, will in the words of Secretary Daniels, permit transport of millions.

This year the American army abroad, regardless of casualties, should number two million or more, according to official estimates.

Murdered Woman Practically Identified

Tacoma, Wash., May 22.—That the woman and two children murdered near Kelso came from some point near Spokane and were on their way to Portland, was apparently established here today when Mrs. John H. Mooney of Puyallup identified the party from descriptions printed in local newspapers as the same that spent the night last Tuesday at North Puyallup, camping between the Mooney farm and Boutman's Grove.

Mrs. Mooney talked with the woman and children and with the men who accompanied them. All were at the time very cheerful, Mrs. Mooney said. The little boy told her her parents lived near Spokane and that they had crossed the mountains in their car, coming by way of Steeplesville, Pines. They spent the previous night in Seattle, the boy said.

Mrs. Mooney did not learn the name of any member of the ill fated party.

Camp Lewis Recruit Committed Suicide

Tacoma, Wash., May 22.—Private William Silvers, drafted from Solano county, Cal., committed suicide at Camp Lewis today by throwing himself under the wheels of a heavy truck. Silvers was walking along the company street and when the truck came abreast of him, deliberately hurled himself in front of the vehicle. Although the driver made a sharp turn to avoid hitting him, both front and rear wheels passed over the man's body. He died in the base hospital a few minutes later.

Silvers, according to other members of his company, has been moody ever since his arrival in camp. Records show he has a wife at Fairfax, Cal.
