Gentlemen:

Please send me a list of the garments which you make for children. My little girls have worn Koveralls in all their real play for the last three years and I find nothing else so satisfactory.

The older child has now about outgrown your six year size. She and her little sister play outdoors all summer and such garments are more of a protection to them in every way besides saving a great amount of washing.

When I want to dress the girls in pretty clothes it is a comfort to find that their knees are not scuffed and stained by continual contact with the ground and not burned brown by the sun.

Very sincerely yours,

(Name on request)

A friend who lives near San Francisco made me a present of Koveralls for both girls three years ago.

for walnut grafting. In regard to the coming crop, Mr. Van Trump says that he has found the cherry crop will be short in general and not quite up to that of one year ago. The apple crop will be short as well as the peach crop. In fact, Mr. Van Trump cannot see any kind of a peach crop in sight for this season. But there is some satisfaction in the fact that the prune conditions at present are the best for many a year and the same can be said of the loganberry crop. Both are at present running towards a big crop. You simply can't walk down the street with easy nonchalance unless you are wearing the little second Red Cross war fund button.

Americans to Observe Memorial In France

By Frank J. Taylor
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
With the American Army in Lorraine, May 23.—(Night)—The American army is planning a Memorial Day celebration. Following the custom back home, the graves in certain localities will be decorated with flowers and flags. French soldiers will be thus remembered, as well as Americans. The chaplains in this sector will hold special services in memory of the Americans who have already fallen in battle.

SOCIETY

By CAROL S. DIBBLE

A piece of dramatic presentation, distinctly unique and of a severely classical character will be given to-night at the Commercial club auditorium, when Miss Lulu Walton is presented by Mrs. Anna Rogers Fish in a recital, featuring "Lalla Rookh," an Oriental romance by Thomas Moore. Miss Walton will graduate this year from the Fish School of Expression and has charmed Salem audiences on several occasions with her readings, characterized by an exquisite artistry of interpretation. She has specialized in lecture work, planning to eventually go on the lecture platform, but has at the same time, broadened her powers along the one line by general dramatic study. The program, which begins at 8:15 follows:

Lalla Rookh's journey begins. The poet Feramorz recites "The Veiled Prophet of Khorasan." Podladesen's criticisms. Feramorz recites "Paradise and the Peri." Interlude: Paritone solo, Mr. Barton. Prof. Roberts at the piano. "The Song of Hybris" the Orestes. (Elliott.) The arrival at Lahore. Feramorz tells the history of "The First Worshipers." Interlude, piano solo, Prof. T. S. Roberts. The poet's last evening, when he sings of "The Feast of Rossa." The conclusion of the whole matter. Presentation of diploma, Mrs. Alice E. Dodd, president S. W. C.

Sponsoring the recital are: Mrs. Wm. Kirk, Mrs. W. M. Hamilton, Mrs. W. H. Burghardt, Jr., Mrs. S. E. Keger, Miss Edith Hazard, Mrs. A. N. Bush, Mrs. P. E. Carleton, Miss Mattie Beatty, Mrs. J. H. Albert, Mrs. Everett Anderson.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Bennett arrived home last night from a week's stay in Pendleton.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Meyers and Mrs. Frank Jordan of Seattle motored to Portland yesterday for the day. They were accompanied home by Mrs. Charles Gray, who was returning to Eugene after a short stay in Portland.

Miss Vivian Hargrove, an O. A. C. student, is the guest of her mother, Mrs. L. L. Hargrove, for the week end.

Mrs. F. A. Elliott has been entertaining as her guest the past week, Mrs. J. C. Price of North Bend, Mrs. Price left for Newberg this morning, where she will visit for a few days.

Mrs. Anabel Bush returned from Portland today, where she has been enjoying a stay of several weeks. She was accompanied home by Mr. Bush, who will remain in Salem over the week end, returning to Portland the first of the week to resume his training preparatory to entering the radio service.

Mrs. Clifford Brown and small son, Chandler, are expected home tomorrow from a week's visit in Portland.

The many friends of Mrs. W. H. Byars will be glad to hear she is slowly improving after a severe illness of several days at her residence, 633 North Commercial street.

Mrs. W. M. Bushey was hostess for a small card club, of which she is a member, yesterday afternoon at her home on North Summer street. Three tables of cards were circled by the players, the high score falling to Mrs. Fred Buchtel.

The Aid society of the Englewood United Brethren church met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Harry Rowe. The members devoted their time to sewing for the hostess, accomplishing a goodly amount of work.

The rooms were effectively decorated with hydrangeas and roses. Mrs. Lulu Moody was admitted into the society as a new member.

Those participating in the pleasure of the afternoon were: Mrs. F. H. Neff, Mrs. E. Puestman, Mrs. H. Richmond, Mrs. Gay F. Phelps, Mrs. M. Rowe, Miss Della Neff, Mrs. H. Rawson, Mrs. H. Pascoe. The guests of the Aid were Mrs. C. Spurlin and Mrs. Yarnell.

When the Germans change "Hindenburg is dead" to "Hindenburg ought to be dead," then we can begin to listen for a noise like chairs being drawn up around a council table.

Use of Grain and Fruit for Alcohol Prohibited

Washington, May 23.—The house late today passed the emergency food bill containing the Randall prohibition rider shutting off the agriculture department's funds for food conservation and crop boosting work until President Wilson has issued a proclamation stopping use of grain and fruit in the manufacture of alcoholic beverages. The vote was 231 to 64. The house also struck out the provision carrying $500,000 for the transportation of farm labor, on motion of Representative Young, Texas.

AMERICAN AIR

The Berlin communique also reported the repulse of French attacks along the west bank of the Aves, southeast of Amiens. Field Marshal Haig said that hostile raids were repulsed at Aveluy wood and south of Hebuterne during the night. French troops made a successful raid east of Loere. Only intermittent artillery activity at various points were reported by the French war office.

GERMANS REMAIN QUIET

By Fred S. Ferguson
(United Press staff correspondent)
With the Americans in Picardy, May 23.—(Night)—It is the boche's move, but he apparently is gathering his wind after the recent severe artillery pounding he received.

There is no more indication when the offensive will begin than heretofore. This was the third day of suspicious stillness on this front. German working parties could easily be seen by American observers today and rising dust clouds told of movement in the enemy's rear areas but the guns on both sides were silent. The stillness is in marked contrast to the previous constant cannonading. The boches is so zealous in guarding against raids at night that he gives the impression of being unusually nervous. The curving salient around Montdidier and Cantigny after sunset is marked by the constant flare of German rockets and flaming "bonfires" which light up No Man's Land. The latter consist of a string of four balls, which floats slowly to earth, blazing brightly.

A low mist hung in the valleys to-night and clouds shaded the brilliant moon, reducing the favorableness for air bombing.

I walked for an hour along a road through shell-pocked fields without hearing more than a dozen gun shots. I heard one burst of shrapnel. Then it became peaceful once more. The singing of night birds, the rasping of nocturnal insects and the dull glimmer of the shaded moon made this road seem like a country lane back home.

The quietness of the past three days has encouraged the stout hearted French farmers to venture out to work in fields, which a few days ago were under terrific shell fire. They toil before a gallery of boche and French sausage balloons, which float lazily about in seeming idleness, but which are watching for the move that will mean a new era of violent fighting.

Lufberry's Life Statement

With the American Army in Lorraine, May 24.—Major Harold Lufberry left his life story two thirds written, it was learned today. His comrades say it is one of the most thrilling books of the war.

Lufberry was writing the book in French and Captain David Peterson was translating it into English. The American aviators are urging Peterson, who was Lufberry's closest friend, to finish the book immediately. It is not only literature, but it is believed it would be vital in stirring up Americans.

Day Was Quiet

"It will have a more prejudicial effect on American opinion than any mission."

Other newspapers say the lord mayor, uncertain of his reception in America, does not wish to go there, as had been planned. "The Mansion House conference alienated every friend of Nationalist aspirations in England, France and America," the Irish Times declared. "The Ladies! Why Keep Corns?

Lift a corn or callus right off without one bit of pain.

Yes! You truly can lift off every hard corn, soft corn or corn between the toes, as well as hardened calluses on bottom of feet without one bit of pain. A genius in Cincinnati discovered Freezogen. It is an ether compound and tiny bottles of this magic fluid can now be had at any drug store for a few cents. Apply several drops of this Freezogen upon a tender, aching corn or callus. Instantly all soreness disappears and shortly you will find the corn or callus so shriveled and loose that you lift it off with the fingers. You feel no pain while applying Freezogen or afterwards. Just think! No more corns or calluses to torture you and they go with out causing one twinge of pain or soreness. Keep a tiny bottle on the dresser and never let a corn or callus ache twice.

which was written when he was a student at Willamette university. The poem is as follows:
Take my hand, truest friend,
A sadder moment I ne'er knew;
And in the friendly pressure lend
A sorrow-illumed adieu.

And if they say of me, "he idly dreams,"
My heart is gone to be
A lonely pilgrim, seeking thine.

Or, if asleep I fall,
The rain will be my lonely tears:
The birds will call and call
For my dumb lips through endless years.
