State House News

The highway engineers office was notified this morning that a blast of 300 kegs of black powder, seven and a half tons, is to be exploded near the Beaver creek crossing of the Columbia highway, Monday next. The blast is for the purpose of securing rock for the crusher and is expected to throw down 8000 cubic yards. The blast is placed 250 feet above the road and will pile the loose rock at the foot of the hill in a convenient place. The Goebel cut off on the Columbia highway which is about two miles in length and which puts the road on a water level for that distance will be completed by June first.

Oscar Huber, who has the contract for paving the Rex-Tigard road laid about five miles of pavement last fall on the Multnomah county end. This spring he commenced paving at Rex and will finish the work as far as Newburg today, a distance of about two and a half miles, or a total of seven and a half miles. A stretch of about seven miles between Rex and Sherwood has not yet been paved but it is expected this will be done about August first. The same contractor has five miles to pave on the road to Tillamook. He has a gang grading this section and will start crushing rock for the work next week.

This land is in Washington, Multnomah, Yamhill, Polk, Clackamas, Marion, Lincoln, Benton, Linn, Columbia and Tillamook counties, in northwestern Oregon.

"It is remarkably fine land," said Campbell, "and the drawing will offer a very great opportunity. The drawing will be made on the same terms as the recent Roseburg drawing. Applications will be received here from June 22 to July 17 inclusive. Preferred right of entry will be given settlers who have lived on the land since September 1, 1913. The drawing will be July 29."

There are also 12,107 officers in the aviation section of the signal corps, 136,761 enlisted men and 4,054 fliers.

CHANGE PROPOSED IN DAIRY AND FOODS

Initiative Bill To Create Department of Foods and Market

An initiative bill of more than usual importance has been received by Attorney General Brown, in order to have a ballot title prepared. It is proposed by Hector Macpherson, of Corvallis, with the Oregon Referendum League back of it. This league is composed of officers of the State Grange, Farmers' Union and the Oregon State Federation of Labor.

The bill proposes to change the title and duties of the State Dairy and Food Commissioner. The new title being the State Dairy and Market Commissioner, and his office shall be known as the Department of Foods and Markets.

The bill provides that the commissioner shall have power to investigate disputes between consumers and producers. He shall collect and disseminate information as to market conditions, promote efficient and economical distribution of agricultural products, farm machinery and food supplies in general. He shall render producers all assistance in his power, collect information about food products grown in the state or imported, where stored, processes by which distributed and shall make public and interpret information obtained to give distributors and consumers an estimate of what prices ought to be.

STATE LIME BOARDS ASKS DEFICIENCY APPROPRIATION

If Board Grants Request There Will Be Established Bad Precedent

At the request of Governor Withycombe, a meeting of the state emergency board has been called for next Wednesday to authorize a deficiency appropriation of $10,000 for the use of the state lime board.

Since the last legislature adjourned the emergency board has been called into session half a dozen times to authorize various departments or branches of the state government to spend more money than the legislature appropriated for them. The deficiencies authorized by the board now total $302,500.

Before the end of the present year, it is considered probable that the board will be called upon to authorize deficiencies aggregating several hundred thousands more.

Most of the deficiencies heretofore authorized have been in connection with war work, but from now on it may be expected that various state institutions and state departments will be running short of funds and will be asking for more money to complete the year's work.

It is very likely, as a result, the taxpayers are going to sit up and take notice. They are going to scrutinize very closely the expenditures which the emergency board is authorizing.

Before the emergency board law was enacted, it was the practice of state departments or institutions or other spending state funds to exceed their appropriations and present deficiency bills for the balance to the next legislature, which would have to appropriate funds to make up the excess expenditures.

For instance, if an appropriation of $100,000 was made by the legislature for a new state building, likely as not the officials supervising the construction would proceed to build a $200,000 building. The $100,000 would be spent and the building would be about half completed. The officials would then go to the next legislature and inform the lawmakers they must have another $100,000 before the building could be finished. In order to save the $100,000 already spent, it would be necessary to appropriate another $100,000 to complete the structure and make it serviceable.

Thirteen German Sailors Are Executed

Amsterdam, May 25.—Fifteen German sailors were tried at Ostend in connection with the British naval operations which resulted in the blocking of Ostend and Zebrugge harbors, according to reports from Bruges brought here today by fishermen.

Thirteen of the sailors were executed. The other two were sentenced to twenty years imprisonment.

The sailors executed probably were among those on guard at Zebrugge and Ostend when the British made the daring raids. The element of surprise figured largely in the operations, particularly in the last one at Ostend.

Here Is Booster for Chevrolet Cars

Mr. C. M. Dow, of East Orange, New Jersey, is a recent addition to the rapidly growing family of Chevrolet boosters. Mr. Dow writes: "About six weeks ago I purchased a 'Four-Ninety' Sedan of the Motor Sales Co., of East Orange, and yesterday with Mrs. Dow, we left East Orange for Philadelphia. On arriving in Philadelphia I got one quart of oil and 2 1/2 gallons of gasoline, which was all I could get in the tank. My mileage was 101 miles. We left then and went twenty miles farther and back to East Orange and then to Newark, and four gallons of gasoline filled my tank to the top. Mileage was 147 1/2 miles—and average of 21 2/3 miles per gallon of gasoline."

Mr. Dow's experience with his new car demonstrates the progress that has been made in the building of the modern passenger car. Driving the "Four-Ninety" Sedan, independent of all weather conditions, the trip was made not only economically but comfortably. Thus has comfort kept pace with Chevrolet economy.

If ever a car is called upon to prove its speed, durability and economy of operation, certainly it is in Uncle Sam's postal service. Busy on important errands at all hours of the day and night, to all the demands that can possibly be to all the demands that can possibly be made of a transportation unit. The Chevrolet "Four-Ninety," shown in the accompanying illustration, is recognized as a reliable and trustworthy servant of the Post, Michigan, Post Office, where it is upholding Chevrolet reputation for efficient performance.

Military Bill Carries Over Twelve Billion

Washington, May 25.—The Sinn Fein and Nationalist press are attaching much significance to the arrival here of Walter Hume Long, colonial secretary and chairman of the committee drafting the Home Rule bill, for a conference with Field Marshal French, lord lieutenant of Ireland.

Long was recently designed to advise the Irish executive. Newspapers believe his presence here portends another move in the government's policy which is awaited with forbidding.

"Secretary Long's arrival suggests that the drama is rapidly developing," declared the Freeman's Journal. "We boldly forecast it will be along the well known lines of coercion. Long was
