flation and keep our industrial system free of speculation and waste. We shall naturally turn, therefore, I suppose, to war profits and incomes and luxuries for the additional taxes. But the war profits and incomes upon which the increased taxes will be levied will be the profits and incomes of the calendar year 1918. It would be manifestly unfair to wait until the early months of 1919 to say what they are to be. It might be difficult, I should imagine, to run the mill with water that had already gone over the wheel.

Taxes Due June, 1919

Moreover, taxes of that sort will not be paid until the June of next year and the treasury must anticipate them. It must use the money they are to produce before it is due. It must sell short time certificates of indebtedness. In the autumn a much larger scale of long time bonds must be elected than has yet been attempted. What are the bankers to think of the certificates if they do not certainly know where the money is to come from which is to take them up? And how are investors to approach the purchase of these bonds with any sort of confidence or knowledge of their own affairs if they do not know what taxes they are to pay and what economies and adjustments of their business they must effect? I cannot assure the country of a successful administration of the treasury in 1918 if the question of further taxation is to be left undecided until 1919.

The consideration that dominates every other now and makes every other seem trivial and negligible, is the winning of the war. We are not only in the midst of the war, we are at the very peak and crisis of it. Hundreds of thousands of our men, carrying our hearts with them and our fortunes, are in the fields and ships are crowding faster and faster to the ports of France and England with regiment after regiment, thousand after thousand, to join them until the enemy shall be beaten and brought to a reckoning with mankind. There can be no pause or intermission. The great enterprise must, on the contrary, be pushed with greater and greater energy. The volume of our might must steadily and rapidly be augmented until there can be no question of resisting it. If that is to be accomplished, gentlemen, money must sustain it to the utmost.

Finances Must be Provided

"Our financial program must be more be left in doubt or suffered to lag than our ordnance program or our ship program or our munitions program or our program for making millions of men ready. These others are not programs, indeed, but merely plans upon paper, unless there is to be an unquestionable supply of money. That is the situation and it is the situation which creates the duty, no choice or preference of ours. There is only one way to meet that duty. We must meet it without selfishness or fear of consequences.

Politics is adjourned. The elections will go to those who think least of it; to those who go to the constituencies without explanations or excuses, with a plain record of duty faithfully and disinterestedly performed.

Records are Kept

"I, for one, am always confident that the people of this country will give a just verdict upon the service of the men who act for them when the facts are such that no man can disguise or conceal them. There is no danger of deceit now. An intense and pitiless light beats upon every man and every action in this tragic plea of war that is now upon the stage. If lobbyists hurry to Washington to attempt to turn what you do in the matter of taxation to their protection or advantage, the light will beat also on them. There is abundant fuel for the light in the records of the treasury with regard to profits of every sort. The profiteering that cannot be got at by the restraints of conscience and love of country, can be got at by taxation. There is such profiteering now and the information with regard to it is available and indisputable.

Duty Must be Done

"I am advising you to act upon this matter of taxation now, gentlemen, not because I do not know that you can see and interpret the facts and the duty they impose just as well and with as clear a perception of the obligations involved as I can, but because there is a certain solemn satisfaction in sharing with you the responsibilities of such a time. The world never stood in such case before. Men never before had so clear or so moving a vision of duty. I know that you will begrudge the work to be done here by us no more than the men begrudge us theirs, who lie in the trenches and sail forth to their death. There is a stimulating comradeship knitting us all together. And this task to which I invite your immediate consideration will be performed under favorable influences if we will look to what the

Fred Fulton Fights Jack Dempsey July 4

Portland, Or., May 27.—Fred Fulton will not fight Willie Meehan Friday night in San Francisco for the Red Cross.

Jack Collins, Fulton's manager, made this announcement today when he arrived here with Fulton from Seattle. Fulton has broken a bone in his right hand while training, said Collins.

"We don't know yet how serious it is," said Collins.

Collins announced Fulton has signed to fight Jack Dempsey in Danbury, Conn., July 4, for $12,000.

Country is thinking and expecting and rare nothing at all for what is being said and believed in the lobbies of Washington hotels, where the atmosphere seems to make it possible to believe what is believed nowhere else.

Back-up Boys "On Other Side"

"Have you not felt the spirit of the nation rise and its thought become single and common thought since these eventful days in which we have been sending our boys to the other side? I think you must read that thought as I do, to mean this: that the people of this country are not only united in the resolute purpose to win this war, but are ready and willing to bear any burden and undergo any sacrifice that it may be necessary for them to bear in order to win it. We need not be afraid to tax them if we lay taxes justly. They know the war must be paid for and that it is they who must pay for it, and if the burden is justly distributed and the sacrifice made a common sacrifice from which none escapes who can bear it all, they will carry it cheerfully and with a sort of solemn pride. I always have been proud to be an American and was never more proud than now, when all that we have said and all that we have foreseen about our people is coming true. The great days have come and the only thing that they ask for or admire is duty greatly and adequately done; when their only wish for America is that she may share the freedom she enjoys; when a great compelling sympathy wells up in their hearts for men everywhere who suffer and are oppressed; and they see at last for the high uses for which their wealth has been piled up and their mighty power accumulated and counting neither blood nor treasure now that their final day of opportunity has come, rejoice to spend and to be spent through a long night of suffering and terror in order that they and men everywhere may see the dawn of a day of righteousness and justice and peace. Shall we grow weary when they bid us act?"

"May I add this word, gentlemen: Just as I was leaving the white house I was told that the expected drive on

J. R. Linn Married to Portland Girl

Oregon City, Or., May 26.—An interesting romance of the recent political campaign became known here today, when James R. Linn, wealthy hop dealer of Salem, and Miss Paula Stocker, of Portland, were married, Rev. E. E. Gilbert officiating.

Mr. Linn was campaign manager for R. N. Stanfield, aspirant for the republican nomination for United States senator and Miss Stocker was a stenographer at campaign headquarters in Portland. Mr. and Mrs. Linn will leave June 5 for Alaska on their honeymoon. Miss Nellie J. McGree, of Portland, accompanied Mr. Linn and Miss Stocker to Oregon City and witnessed the wedding.

German Submarines Operate Further Out

By Carl D. Grost,

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, May 27.—German submarines are operating much farther out from their bases than heretofore, but still on the other side of the Atlantic, according to navy department advices today. These messages indicated that the U-boats are taking a new course seeking to sink ships traversing other than the usual lanes. The navy today finished checking up on last week's feverish rumors of raiders and submarines off the Atlantic coast and found them to be entirely unfounded. One of these reports, not hitherto published, was a wireless from a merchant man at sea, saying she was being chased by a submarine. This has been checked up and proven false.

The western front had apparently begun you can realize how that I so comforted my feeling as I came to you and how it seemed to strengthen the purpose which I tried to express in these lines.

Congress is Praised
"I have admired the work of this session. The way in which the two houses of congress have cooperated with the executive has been generous and admirable and it is not in any spirit of suggesting duty neglected, but only to remind you of the common cause and the common obligation that I have ventured to come to you today."

Market Was Unsettled In Wall Street Today

New York, May 27.—The New York Evening financial review today said:

The market was unsettled through most of the session, with industrial prices inclined to weakness, losses ranging from one to four points or so. The rails were in distinctly better form, although gains over Saturday were at best little more than fractional. There were a few soft spots and more or less shifting about. The undertone, however, in that department was relatively firm.

In the last hour losses broadened among the industrials. United States Steel, for example, which had sold at 107, dropped to below 105 and Baldwin Locomotive lost over nine points. The rails withstood the general pressure in good form. Liberty loan 4½ per cent bonds touched a new low record at 97.28.

The Astoria central delivery system is a thing of the past, the Budget says, and in the future the respective merchants will conduct their own delivery systems.

As appears from an item in the Sun, the first ripe strawberries seen at Sutherlin this season, as was perfectly fitting and proper, were from the garden of Mrs. J. C. Saucerman.

LIBERTY THEATRE
Three Days Starting
Thursday, May 30.

COMING TO THE LIBERTY THEATRE NEXT THURSDAY, FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

The will back of Germany's war and the ruthlessness of German war methods will be brought home to citizens of Salem as never before when "The Kaiser, Beast of Berlin" is shown at the Liberty theater, in this city, starting Thursday.

New York saw the film over two weeks ago, and New York went wild with excitement and patriotic enthusiasm, while the American Defense Society endorsed it as the most powerful piece of patriotic production that has been brought out since America entered the war.
