LOCAL GROCERS ARE PROTESTING ORDER

Think Food Administrator Hoover Discriminates Against Oregon

When it becomes apparent there is an actual shortage of wheat in the country and when the entire nation is put on a wheatless basis by Food Administrator Hoover, the Grocers' auxiliary of the business men's league of the Commercial Club declared at a meeting held last evening that no more loyal people would be found than in Salem and Marion county.

But the grocers of the city feel that it is not for the best interest of this community that Oregon should be discriminated against and put on a wheatless basis, especially as attention was called to the published statement of Hoover that if the country would continue on using the 50-50 plan of wheat substitutes, there is enough wheat in the country to supply our allies and ourselves until after harvest.

The opinion was also expressed that the people of Salem and Marion county had shown their loyalty in the Red Cross and Liberty Loan drives and in other ways and that now to ask them to go on a wheatless basis when there was no national action was just asking a little too much.

In other words, the grocers are willing to go on a wheatless basis when the nation goes. This stand will be taken more definitely at the meeting called for Friday when all bakers and grocers in the county are called to meet at the Commercial club.

Prices Forced Down In Wall Street Today

New York, May 28.—The New York Evening Sun financial review today said: Successive selling waves of active proportions carried prices of industrial issues down one to three points or more in today's stock market, while most of the railroad shares were firm to strong in a quiet buying movement.

The steel group was weak to a degree. United States Steel selling down over 2 points, close to 102, and Lackawanna reacting 3/4 to 81. Baldwin Locomotive dropped back below 80. The copper stocks were most successful in resisting pressure and in one or two cases there were gains of a fraction to a point.

Later advances of a point or so were numerous in the rails. Evidently the supply was very restricted, as business was light.

Industrial prices showed distinct improvement through the afternoon. Recoveries of one to two points were general. Baldwin Locomotive and some other more than made up their loss. Steel re-crossed 104. The rails moved rather sluggishly at the day's close.

GREAT MEMORIAL PARADE PLANNED FOR THURSDAY

What inspiration is in the thought! How reassuring to our cause is such a fact. Ours is the cause of humanity, therefore, the cause of God. Every devout soul should pray in devout confidence next Thursday. With what heart swellings and humiliation and confession we should come before God, that we are on his side in this great struggle.
He cannot bless our army and navy and the cause of the allies if we have unworthy ambitions, motives and purposes. What an opportunity for the Christian people to show they are Christians that they may believe in the righteousness of our cause, that they believe in God and in prayer.

Exercises of Day Will Begin with Union Meeting at Church at 9 A. M.

LaFollette Nominated by Marion Democrats

The official count of the vote for county officers has not been completed, but that of the state senators was finished this morning. The final official count for state senator is as follows: W. A. Jones 2895, Louis Lachmund 2857, A. LaFollette 2805 and Sam Brown 2455. There were no democratic candidates, but on the democratic ticket these same candidates were voted for as follows: Jones 38, Lachmund 48, LaFollette 41, and Brown 21. This makes Lachmund and LaFollette the democratic nominees, and LaFollette may still be in the race if he so desires and have his name on the ballot too.
