ens, of this city, who is now living in that city.—Roseburg Review.

Sarah Elizabeth Sumpter today filed her complaint in an action to nullify her marriage to Livingstone Sumpter. The parties were married at Independence, Polk county, January 8, 1912, and moved to Marion county soon after that time. She alleges defendant deserted her in November 1915, and asks that the name of Sarah Elizabeth Creson be restored to her, that being her name before she married defendant, and she having six living children bearing that name.

Boy scouts of Salem, as well as those from Turner, Marion and from Polk county will hear an address this evening at the First Congregational church, to be delivered by Albert Gille, of the state Forestry service. The lecture will be illustrated and will be mostly on methods of forest fire prevention and the care of forests. Boy scouts are asked to bring a friend. The address will begin at 8 o'clock and there will be no admission charge.

Running for the job of serving the city as alderman is not so awfully expensive after all if one happens to know how. For instance, Paul V. Johnson got through on an expense of 15 cents, but A. H. Moore had had no experience in the game and it cost him 20 cents. Ralph Thompson spent 20 cents for a blank application but to make sure of his job, spent $2 more on cards to pass around to his friends. It cost Earl Rhee just $4.40 to make his race for city recorder. This sum was itemized in his report as blanks, 5-cents, petition blanks 35 cents and $4 for the circulating of his petition. Other candidates, whether winners or losers, are obliged to file a statement of money expended by June 1.

The Polk-Yamhill-Marion Medical Society will meet in Dallas Wednesday evening of this week. The program includes an address by Dr. L. A. Bollman on "Prostitutes in the Age of Radical Removal." Dr. M. C. Findley of Salem will speak on "Complications Following Middle Ear Infections."

The Retail Grocers at their meeting held last evening passed resolutions to close all day Thursday, Memorial day. The day is a legal holiday and on account of the elaborate preparations to properly observe the day, the grocers decided not to open at all. It is probable the majority of merchants will do likewise, although as yet no official action has been taken.

The closing exercises of the school year for the Oregon State school for the Blind will be held June 12 or 13. The State Institution for the Feeble Minded for its closing exercises will give a play "A Rose Dream" on Friday evening of this week. The Oregon State School for the Deaf will hold its closing exercises on the evening of June 7.

Men who are interested in Navy service may receive information at the former headquarters of the Red Cross in State street where a party of naval officers and yeomen are stationed for a day or so accepting recruits for the naval reserve. Yesterday Robert Clyde Dent and Ira Jackson Fitts signed up for service as second class firemen. Ira Tripp of Eugene and Herman W. Wolcott of Corvallis also enlisted here yesterday. Only a limited number besides being able to take dictation at they must stand a physical examination besides being able to take dictation at the rate of 100 words a minute and also be pretty rapid operators on the typewriter.

If one really wants to tempt fate and the speed cop, it is cheaper to be arrested within the city limits than out in the country fresh air. When the city cop arrests a speeder, said speed maniac is set back only $5. But out in the country where the speed limit is only 25 miles an hour, things come a little higher and the man who is found hitting it up beyond the legal limit is subject to arrest and a conference before Judge Webster. The Judge evidently figures out that a man who wants to travel more than 25 miles an hour either has plenty of money to distribute or a disregard for the law and the fine is $10. Walter DeLong is now speed cop for the country having been appointed by the county court.
