NATIONAL CAPITAL IS HOPING FOR BEST

Military Men Believe Drive Will Be Stopped But Recognize Crisis

By Carl D. Grost.
Washington, June 1.—The German drive will stop at the Marne, army men here predicted today. They do not believe the Germans will now make a great effort to pass it.

The next development expected is a German attempt to straighten out their lines from the Marne to Amiens and in the Rheims region. If they succeed, another lull in the conflict may follow, permitting concentration of Teuton forces for a renewed drive toward the channel.

The situation is viewed as extremely grave, but there is a distinct note of confidence here today.

Germany is making extensive use of a new form of gas attack in her drive, throwing nine-inch shells, seven and eight miles behind the allied lines, members of the senate military committee learned today at the weekly conference of the war council.

The general situation, so far as the United States is concerned, continues to improve, the committee learned. May proved a record breaker in number of troops sent across. Aircraft production has increased in volume, members of the committee declared. A number of Bristol planes have been completed and will be shipped soon.

Senator Lewis' statement that we had already a million men in the forces abroad was declared to be an exaggeration of about 30 per cent.

Not Strong On Marne

London, June 1.—The Germans first reached the Marne at Chateau Thierry, according to semi-official reports received here today.

From Chateau Thierry, small detachments of the enemy worked their way as far eastward as Verneuil.

This is accepted as an indication that the Germans are not in strong force on the Marne as yet. It is believed they are being held back by French artillery firing across the river.

The fact that the Germans were forced to turn eastward along the Marne, instead of being able to move westward, augurs well for the allies.

Checked in their attempts to cross the Marne, the Germans are now confining their efforts to break down the resistance on the wings at Rheims and in the region of Soissons.

British troops on the eastern flank are checking all progress in that direction, despite the fact Rheims is partially surrounded. Consequently the Germans' heaviest efforts are to the west of Soissons for the purpose of linking up the recent advance with the original Amiens drive.

Railway Company May Construct Reservoir

Lewis, state engineer, has approved the application of the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company for the construction of the Timothy Meadow Reservoir on Oak Grove Creek in Clackamas County for the storage of 40,400 acre feet of water. ATTEMPT TO COLLECT TAXICAB LICENSE FEE

Three Arrests Are Made and Trials Set For Monday and Tuesday

According to the records of the police station, J. A. Beck, James A. Kappahm and Z. J. Zinn were arrested yesterday, each accused of operating a taxicab for hire in Salem without first taking out a license as required by ordinance. The complaint charges that Mr. Beck received a fee of $1 and his case will come up before the city court at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Kappahm and Mr. Zinn are each charged with accepting a fee of $5 from passengers without taking out the license. They will be tried Monday and Tuesday next.

This is the culmination of the effort on the part of the city authorities to induce taxi men to comply with the ordinance and at the last meeting of the city council, B. W. May, city attorney, was instructed to take action against those who had not taken out the license.

Although the taxi men are opposed to paying the annual license of $15, the city records show that since the first of the year, Mr. Beck has received from the city $18 for city work and transporting officers on hurry up calls, and that Mr. Kappahm has received for city work and taking officers out on hurry calls, $11.50.

The ordinance requiring a payment of $15 annual fees reads in part as follows: "It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to operate or stand any taxicab, jitney, or automobile for hire on the streets of Salem, or to solicit from passengers or to accept a fee for carrying passengers without first having obtained a license for each taxi, jitney or automobile."
