SOCIETY

By CAROL S. DIBBLE

Miss Elizabeth Cooke, who has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Clancy and their son, C. B. Clancy, at their apartments on North Liberty street for several days, returned to her home in Missoula, Montana, today.

Mrs. Clancy also left today for Black Butte, Oregon, where she will pass ten days or more with friends. After her return, Mrs. Clancy will remain in Salem for a few weeks, before she and her husband return to their home at Tacoma. Mr. and Mrs. Clancy have spent several months in Salem visiting their son and their departure is a matter of much regret among the many friends they have made during their stay in the city.

Miss Rita Schott returned Saturday from Corvallis, having graduated from the Oregon Agricultural college with this year's class. She is a member of the Upsilon chapter of the Sigma Kappa sorority, which has just been received into national membership.

Miss Schott was accompanied home by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schott, and her brother, Jacob Schott, who has lately returned from Aberdeen, Washington, where he has been instructor in the printing and manual training departments of the Aberdeen high school. Mr. Schott was formerly principal of the Highland school in Salem. Mr. Schott has enlisted in the radio service and left today for College Station, Texas, where he will enter a wireless school for his training course.

Word has been received by Mr. and Mrs. Dan Fry, Sr., that their youngest son, Orris Fry, has left New York for France.

News of the death of Evan Williams, the Welsh tenor, on May 24 at his home in Akron, Ohio, came as quite a shock to Salem music lovers, who heard him sing four years ago at the time of his concert in Salem. Though of Welsh parentage, he was born in America and a great favorite in this country. Mr. Williams has been devoting a large share of his time to singing for the soldiers at the various cantonments the past year. He was fifty years of age.

Mrs. Anna Rogers Fish, who left Salem last week for Boise, Idaho, writes Salem friends that she is very pleasantly situated in her studio at the Overland building, and will open the Fish School of Expression the fifth of June. Though most cordially received in Boise and having already met many delightful people, Mrs. Fish speaks in very warm terms of Salem and Salem friends. She says in part: "How I do miss the natural growths of every tree, the sun shines with unerring regularity here, and the air is light and fine, and the sky blue—but the earth! Another Earth doesn't have the same smile on her kindly face that she has down in the valley. I shall never forget Salem and the beauty of its nesting place."

Mrs. Fish read on the Memorial day program at the Pinney theater, giving as her selection, "Name of Old Glory" by James Whitcomb Riley.

At the biennial of the National Federation of Women's clubs, held recently at Hot Springs, Ark., Mrs. C. H. Castner, president of the Oregon Federation of Women's clubs, was elected president of the newly formed 1918 Portland Telegram. Mrs. E. A. Jobs of Spokane Sorosis club was elected president of the Pioneer's club and Mrs. Sarah A. Evans was again chosen to be the member from Oregon of the board of the general federation.

Bridging the Gap From Steer to Steak

Live stock is raised on the farms and ranches of the West.

Meat is eaten in the large cities of the East, and by our boys in France—thousands of miles away.

The day of transporting live animals from ranch to seaboard and overseas has passed. There was too much waste. The modern packer locates his large and specialized plants in the producing regions. He ships the dressed beef in refrigerator cars, and holds it in his own refrigerated branch warehouses until delivered to the retailer. For shipment to foreign ports, he transfers the meat to refrigerated ships.

By means of his nation-wide organization the modern packer maintains a continuous flow of meats to all parts of the country, so that each retailer gets just the quantity and quality of meat his trade demands; and at the time he wants it.

Swift & Company recently shipped 1,000 carloads of meat products in one week to our Armies and to the Allies.

Bridging the gap from ranch to consumer can be done successfully—and at low unit costs and profits—only by large business organizations.

Swift & Company's profit on meat, always so small as to have practically no effect on prices, is now limited by the Government to about 2 cents on each dollar of sales.

SUBMARINE BLOCKADE

The Edna was destroyed, Rucker and others of the crew were imprisoned in the submarine more than a week. This German mate, who refused to tell his name, told Rucker that: He had lived in New York eight years and was engaged to a girl in Philadelphia, whose photograph he showed.

Men for the submarine blockade of the United States coast are being drafted from among sailors formerly in the merchant marine, familiar with American ports.

The present German blockading fleet left Kiel seven weeks ago, getting a tremendous sendoff. Photographs of this celebration were displayed.

The submarines now on patrol carry six months' supplies, but expect to stay here one year by taking provisions and fuel from ships which are sunk.

The voyage from Germany to this country was made by way of the West Indies, within sight of the Bahamas (near where the collier Cyclops mysteriously disappeared) and up the coast near Cape Hatteras.

U-boats in this patrol are 325 feet long and carry five inch guns (this is a larger type of German submarine than any known in the navy lists, and its number 151, indicates it was recently built, as U-100 is the highest listed).

The submarines at present off this coast are only an advance guard.

Each has a crew of thirty five men, exclusive of officers.

From his own observations while aboard the U-boat, Rucker saw that the vessel carried tools marked U-153. The Germans took ten days supplies from the Edna, but the American prisoners were fed black bread, canned hash and very bad jam. One hundred cases of oil were removed from the Edna to the submarine.

The Americans carried their phonograph with them, and taped records with the Germans, who were willing to play anything except "My Country 'Tis of Thee."

Officers of the submarine wore regulation navy uniforms but the crew wore leather jumpers. They carried souvenirs from the ships sunk, among them being the U. S. S. flag from the Edna, which the Germans hauled down.

Alien Females Are All Required to Register

Alien females of the age of 14 years and upwards are required to register between June 7 and June 26. In Salem, the registration will be at the police station, and for the rural routes out of Salem, at the post office. Registration in all other parts of the country will be at the post offices.

A German woman who has become naturalized, is not required to register. The marriage prior to April 6, 1917, of a German woman to a citizen of the United States, naturalizes her as an American citizen.

Any American woman who marries a foreigner, takes the nationality of her husband. But if he is naturalized, she then becomes an American citizen again.

If a German woman married an American and he dies, she still remains an American citizen. Or if divorced from her husband, the German woman still remains an American citizen if she continues to reside in this country.

From Kansas, where they raise so much corn, too, comes mention of a girl who is so thin that she doesn't dare to drink a red lemonade in the summer time when she is wearing light dresses for fear folks will think she is a thermometer.

Proceeds of the race meet that closes today at Condon will be turned over to the Red Cross.

Gerard Thinks Huns Might Bomb New York

Kansas City, Mo., June 4.—The German submarine raid on American coast-wise shipping was to be expected—and it is not impossible to conceive of Germany bombing or setting fire to New York.

This was the statement of James W. Gerard, former American ambassador to Berlin, who stopped over in Kansas City today en route east.
