For Itching Torture

There is one remedy that seldom fails to stop itching torture and relieve skin irritation and that makes the skin soft, clear and healthy. Any druggist can supply you with zemo, which generally overcomes all skin diseases. Acne, eczema, itch, pimples, rashes, blackheads, in most cases give way to zemo. Frequently, minor blemishes disappear overnight. Itching usually stops instantly. Zemo is a safe, antiseptic liquid, clean, easy to use and dependable. It costs only 35c; an extra large bottle, $1.00. It will not stain, is not greasy or sticky and is positively safe for tender, sensitive skins. The E. W. Ross Co., Cleveland, O.

RE-ASSESSMENT LAW SIMILAR TO SALEM'S IS DECLARED BINDING

Opinion by Justice McCamant—His Last Just Before Leaving the Bench

Among the opinions handed down this morning by the supreme court was that in the suit of George J. Wagoner and others appellants, vs The City of La Grande and others, respondents. This is a suit brought to enjoin the defendants from enforcing municipal liens imposed on property of plaintiffs to pay 75 per cent of the cost of a street improvement.

It seems there had been trouble about the collection of assessments for street improvements and to cure this an amendment to the city charter was voted providing for re-assessment of costs for improvements on streets.

The lower court in a decision by Judge Knowles held the re-assessment legal and plaintiffs appeal. The supreme court in an opinion by Justice McCamant sustains the lower court and affirms the decision.

The case is exactly like that in Salem so far as the re-assessment features are concerned.

Other opinions were handed down today as follows:

George Amos Marshall, et al, vs Nellie Gustin, appellant; appealed from Multnomah; argument presented on rehearing; opinion by Chief Justice Melville; former opinion adhered to and decree of lower court reversed.

E. T. Wade vs H. Peters, appellant; appealed from Umatilla; action by real estate broker to recover commissions; opinion by Justice Benson; Circuit Judge Phelps reversed and case remanded.

H. B. Davidhizer vs Elgin Forwarding company, appellant; appealed from Wallawa; action in which plaintiff seeks to recover 531 bags of wheat covered by defendant's warehouse receipts; opinion by Justice Burnett; Circuit Judge Knowles affirmed.

Farmers State Bank of North Powder vs James A. Pileber, appellant; appealed from Union; action on promissory note for $2500; opinion by Justice Penn; Circuit Judge Knowles affirmed.

Perry Boyd vs Harrison Grove, et al, appellants; appealed from Harney; action to recover damages for trespass on plaintiff's land by defendants' sheep; opinion by Justice McCamant; Circuit Judge Biggs affirmed.

Petition for rehearing was denied in Haines vs First National bank of Roseburg.

Roseburg National Bank, a corporation, vs T. N. Camp and others; appeal from Douglas; appeal from order confirming sale of property; reversed and remanded; opinion by Justice Harris.

The case of Gilbert vs Globe and Redfern insurance companies, was ordered re-argued in banc.

Town of Garlan vs T. A. Thompson, appeal from Washington and William Lisenby vs Mazie Lisenby, appeal from Multnomah, were advanced on the calendar.

On the hunt today for the raiders, variously reported numbering from ten to five. All up and down the coast naval district commanders acting under their own authority supplemented by special navy department orders, had out destroyers, U-boat chasers and airplanes.

The fact that operations had been carried on since May 25 came as a distinct shock to the national capital. It was proven, however, from the fact that the derelict Kila, recently towed into Lewis, Del., and the Hattie Dunn were both attacked on that date.

The capture of those aboard, followed by their release, only added to the sensation in this remarkable raid. This apparently was all a part of the German plan of striking fear to the heart of civilians and ship folk.

Most Rumors Unfounded Persistent rumors of U-boat activity off the coast have been checked up but the navy each time said their reports disproved the stories. Some of these reports have come in since May 25, notably that of the cargo transport Nyanza, which wireless she was chased.

That the American patrol did not pick up the trail of the raiders before they showed themselves off Barnegat Sunday was a subject of some comment today. Some officials hinted there has been too much of a tendency to discredit the idea that the Germans would come across.

On the other hand, it was pointed out that the patrol activity had been increased in recent weeks and that this fact caused some of the U-boat rumors.

What protections the navy now has out or has had out in recent days may not be stated. Suffice it to say that navy officials suggested the raid covering a period since May 25 had been accomplished largely because of the fact that the long American coast line presented a difficult patrol problem. That two distinct operations were

FRENCH FIGHTERS

An artillery observer near Rheims, discovering three German tanks descending on Rheims from Brimont (five miles north), opened fire with an anti-tank battery. The leading tank was struck squarely and set afire. The others trundled away and sought shelter behind some farm buildings. The battery continued firing and soon all the buildings were ablaze. The occupants of the two tanks were observed running northward. The two tanks were not seen again and presumably were destroyed.

The Germans employed tanks in Saturday's attack on Fort Pompelle. French cannon destroyed one, piercing it three times. Four others were destroyed or captured. One machine gunner forced two tanks to surrender.

involved is the opinion of many naval men. The U-boats attacking off Barnegat Sunday, were probably not the same as the ones attacking the Edna and the Hattie Dunn, May 25. It is possible that after making the trip from Germany the boats had some base along the American or Mexican coast.

But it appears unlikely that one of two U-boats could make the journey across and then operate more than a week here unless there were an available base within easy running distance.

Mexico is almost as far away from Barnegat as is Europe. It is doubted that any bases are there. Hence, it appears likely that one submarine did the earlier sinkings and two or more have been on the trail of the schooners and passenger steamers this week.

Six Vessels Known Lost

Its last advices last night listed six victims the Jacob H. Haskell Isabel B. Wiley, Hattie Dunn, Edward H. Cole, all schooners, the oil tanker Herbert L. Pratt and the Edna.

Daniels' Investigation

Washington, June 5.—No new reports of sinkings or attacks by the German U-boats off the American coast had reached the navy department up to mid-forenoon, Secretary of the Navy Daniels stated. He also stated there is no information concerning the reported capture of one of the raiders.

The department does not intend at this time, however, to make any official announcement if a U-boat is captured or sunk lest it prove of military advantage to the enemy.

The department, he said, has positive evidence that one U-boat is operating, but only the evidence of a surviving captain that two were off shore. Other navy officials expressed the belief that three submarines had been engaged.

Daniels said he had told the naval committee yesterday that the navy had believed an occasional submarine might get through to the country. But he added, one or two or more may be now engaged in an effort to draw the American fleet from the European waters. The secretary was loath to discuss the subject of a possible U-boat communication with the American

WAR STAMP CAMPAIGN WILL SOON BEGIN

On a basis of $20 per capita for every person living in the city, Salem will be called to buy War Savings Stamps in the sum of $792,000 between June 23 and December 31.

At a meeting held yesterday afternoon at the Commercial club the executive committee of the W. S. S. for Marion county decided to call a general conference of workers at the Commercial club Friday, June 7, when the general plans of the campaign will be outlined.

While the plan of work similar to that of the Red Cross will be carried out in general, details will differ from the fact that the directors in the county outside of the towns will constitute the executive committee for that district. For each town the executive committee will be especially appointed and it is these committees that will be asked to meet in Salem next Friday and hear a general discussion of the work and also be addressed by prominent speakers from Portland.

Preliminary to the active campaign which is to begin Monday June 24, a mass meeting will be held at the armory on the afternoon of Sunday June 23 when all committees will be given their final instructions. It is hoped that the committee will be able to thoroughly canvass the county with the two days' week.

No money will be asked by the workers, who will only have pledges which are to be signed, pledging a person to buy a certain amount of War Savings stamps before the first of next year. The pledge card will indicate the amount subscribed, where to be paid and to which bank or postoffice.

At the meeting held yesterday the following chairman of committees were appointed: W. M. Hamilton, personal of soliciting teams for Salem school district; Ben F. West, on campaign of districts in county other than Salem; E. T. Barnes on committee to distribute literature and posters; R. P. Boise on publicity; D. J. Fry on committee to secure speakers and to arrange mass meetings to be held in the county Sunday June 23.

To interview the county court in regard to financial assistance, a committee was appointed consisting of E. T. Barnes, E. P. Seibe and W. M. Hamilton. As general of forces to conduct the drive, Hal D. Patton was appointed. He will be assisted by T. P. Roden and R. C. Bishop. Each chairman will select his own committee.

The rally up mass meetings will be held throughout the county Sunday June 23. The workers will be out Monday and Tuesday following with a final rally on Friday June 28 as a close up of the campaign.

The Mexico-Cuba affair didn't stay long on the front page.
