is pretty well posted on fruit conditions is authority for this statement, claiming that the canneries and outside parties are bidding strong for strawberries and there is but little chance of a lower market.

Salem folks will soon have an opportunity of hearing a woman lecturer who has spent considerable time in Belgium and France. Her name is Mrs. Vernon Kellogg and she will speak on the evening of Thursday, June 13, at the First Methodist church. She comes under the auspices of the federal food administration.

R. N. Stanfield today filed statement of election expenses showing he had paid John Kelly, his campaign manager, the sum of $500 for personal service. This is in addition to his statement filed some days ago.

W. W. Moore of the Moore Furniture store remembers what happened on the bargain day about a year ago when people from both counties came to Salem looking for the advertised bargains and there was about twice as much business as he had figured on. This time he will be prepared and today is unloading a car load of mattresses.

Prof. T. S. Roberts announces that he will present in public recital Miss Lucile DeWitte, one of his advanced pupils, at the First Methodist church on the evening of Friday, June 7, at 8.15 o'clock on the piano and pipe organ. Assisting will be Miss Lela McCaddam and Dan F. Langenberg.

Employees of the Barnes cash store will be given a chance to view the eclipse next Saturday afternoon as Mr. Barnes announces that if the weather conditions are favorable, he will close his store from 3:30 to 4:30 o'clock. It has been figured out that Salem will view about 97 per cent of an eclipse and that the first contact of shadow will be about 2:38 p. m., with the almost total eclipse at 5:37 o'clock.

Employees of the Western Union Telegraph company are in for another extra payment, due October 1, 1918, which will be in addition to the special payments of July 1, and January 1, of this year. Messengers will be made a present of $6.25 while employees receiving less than $1200 per annum will receive about $24. Those whose salaries are between $1200 and $2000 will receive three per cent of their semi-annual wages. Those on the pay roll for more than $2000 will receive 2 1/2 per cent of their semi-annual pay.

This afternoon the following young men, all enlisted in the navy, left for Mare Island, near San Francisco, to go into training: Jesse M. George, Warren M. Lindsey, Glen C. Smith, Oscar E. Schwabauer, Roy F. South and Walter L. Smith. Yesterday John C. Mulcare, 21, of Portland enlisted in the navy, and also Russell Beckett, Mr. Beckett is manager of Pinckney's dairy and will leave in a few days as soon as he can arrange his business affairs. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Beckett. Providing he is released by the local exemption board, a young man may enlist in the navy, but not after he has been notified he is in the next draft call.

The work of the Home Service section of the Red Cross has developed to such an extent that it has been found necessary to secure an additional room. Russell Catlin who has already given the Home Service the use of one room free now offers an adjoining room free. While the women in charge have all the office fixtures necessary, they really would like to have a rug and a couch in order to make the room appear home-like to the many women calling for information and assistance. Hence, if you are able to help patriotically inclined and wish to help this very important branch of the Red Cross work, a donation of a rug and a couch would be most acceptable. Telephone 332.

The Salem Apollo club will make its bow to the Salem public at the grand opera house on the evening of Wednesday, June 26. The club stands for the same standard of music as sung by the Portland Apollo club and in its first concert it will give a program adapted to those who appreciate good music. The club has been organized about two months and is under the direction of John H. Todd and includes 20 of the best male voices in the city. It is the intention of the Apollo club to give a series of concerts the coming winter. Justice George H. Burnett is honorary president; F. G. Deekbach, vice president, W. T. Jenks, secretary, Dan Langenberg, librarian and John H. Todd, director.

Weekly papers three or four weeks old and monthly magazines out of date are not wanted by the sailors and soldiers. The postoffice authorities at Washington are instructing all postmasters to call attention to the fact that many people are putting one cent stamps on magazines that are so far out of date that they are worthless to the soldiers, and at the same time clogging up the U. S. mail. The suggestion is made that no weekly more than two or three weeks old, nor any monthly more than two months old shall be forwarded by local postmasters to the soldiers and sailors. Hence it is useless to attempt to put off on the army or navy any old literature.

OREGON RETAIL JEWELERS ARE HERE

Business Sessions Held—Close With Banquet and Program Tonight

The second day's session of the Oregon Retail Jewelers opened with an address at the Commercial club by Walter A. Denton, secretary Oregon Retail Grocers' and Merchants' association. In his talk, Mr. Denton took the stand that the retailer must not overlook the human element with his employees as well as the public and that the modern retailer must do his share in building up his community and community life. It was the duty of a merchant to so conduct his business as to build up his community, he said, and to keep business at home rather than to conduct it in such a manner that his home folks would support mail order houses built on inferior merchandise and through misrepresentations. He also urged that retailers should be free from such an indirect tax on the public as trading stamps and free gifts wherein the public always finally pays in full. He claimed that the merchant is really the backbone of a community and that he was the first to be solicited and the first to give for the advance of local affairs.

This afternoon at 2 o'clock, Milton A. Miller, United States revenue collector, delivered an address on the special tax to which jewelers are subject and giving general information as to how this tax affects the business man. At 7:30 o'clock this evening the dining room of the Marion hotel will be thrown open for a dinner dance given in honor of the visiting jewelers, with a program as follows: Isaac E. Staples, toastmaster; Classic dance, "The Coming of Spring," Miss Genevieve Barbour; Violin solo, (a) Souvenir De Bate (Leonard); (b) Beutcher Tanz, Miss Teryle Staples; Soprano solo, Winds in the South (Scott), Miss Ada Miller; Dance, Butterfly, Miss Barbour; Soprano solo, Bird of the Wilderness (Horsman) Miss Miller; Dancing between courses and until 11 p. m. Hunt's orchestra.

Four Are Candidates For School Director. H. S. Poisel filed his petition yesterday to become a candidate for election as school director at the election to be held in Salem Monday June 17. Harley O. White was finally persuaded to permit the use of his name and to become a candidate. The petition of Chauncey Bishop was also filed yesterday. According to the present lineup, Harley O. White and Chauncey Bishop will stand for school advancement under the present school superintendent and corps of teachers. The petition of Frank Hughes was filed some time ago. As is customary in school elections there will be only one voting booth and that will be in the store room on State street adjoining the Postal Telegraph office. Candidates for school director must have a property qualification, but any registered voter may vote. This is the time for all good men and true to come to the aid of their country.

The only sure way of getting ahead in this world financially is to buy for cash, save from 15 to 25%, and buy thrift stamps or liberty bonds.

Telegraphers Ready For Nation-Wide Strike. Chicago, June 6.—"Blind" orders for a nation-wide strike of commercial telegraphers were issued by International President S. J. Konekamp. Operators are instructed as to procedure during the walkout. The date is not set, but Konekamp said it would not be this week or the fore part of the next. The strike order will affect both the Western Union and Postal companies. Konekamp today conferred with E. J. Thomas, representing railway telegraphers. Two possibilities for averting the tie-up are intervention by President Wilson or the war administration.

State House News

George Holland and R. J. Hughes, both committed to the state hospital from Multnomah county, eloped from that institution Sunday. They went to Turner where they stole an auto belonging to the postmaster and in this continued their travels. Hughes had a brother, I. N. Hughes, residing at Tangent and the two elopers drove to that place where Hughes forged his brother's name to a check and drew a small amount of money. They drove on until near Cottage Grove their machine broke down, and they were arrested and taken to Eugene. An officer from the state hospital went after them this morning.

Director of Railroads McAdoo has issued an order which in effect stops all suits against railroads for damages unless the suit is brought in the district where the cause of the action arose. This is done to prevent the taking of employes a long distance from their work, and thus hampering the railroad workings. The order permits suits to be brought, but compels them to be brought where they will cause the least inconvenience.

The Public Service Commission has received notice from Director McAdoo that hereafter all shippers will have to pay cash for their freight. It is explained that shippers who are accustomed to have their freight delivered in the morning can have until later in the day to make payment, which if made the same day as the freight is received is considered cash.

The Portland Gas company has notified the Public Service Commission that it has contracted for all its briquets for three months ahead. After that date it will again take orders for them. The state lame board had a short meeting this morning to receive the report of the committee named at the last meeting to look into the matter and see what could be done. The committee composed of A. B. Cordley, Warden Murphy of the prison and Benton Brown recommended that the work be continued. The governor told the committee the emergency board would be called again soon and then another application for more funds can be made. An opinion was received from Assistant Attorney General Van Winkle to the effect that contracting indebtedness that would not fall due until after there were funds, available to meet the same was permissible. The intention of the board is to cut its request in half and ask for only $5000 when the emergency board meets.

Looking Into Farm Labor Supply in Oregon

Robert C. Paulus, manager of the Salem Fruit Union is home from Portland with the cheering news that R. P. Bonham, government immigration commissioner of Portland, has promised to send a special federal labor agent to Salem next week.

For Upper Willamette River Transportation

The government has taken up the consideration as to whether it was best to have all river traffic withdrawn from the upper Willamette river, according to late information at hand. A survey of the river is to be made by Colonel Zinn, Corps of Engineers, in charge of the First and Second District. The party of engineers will leave Portland today going direct to Corvallis, board the government launch Salem at that point and steam down the river. They expect to arrive in the city this evening, resuming their journey to Portland Friday morning. The recent withdrawal of the boats of the Oregon City Transportation company between Portland and Corvallis was due to a lack of patronage. With the increasing cost of operation it was found that the boats could not be profitably operated. Comparing rates, it seems that the O. C. T. company was working on only a 4 per cent differential from the railroad lines. With the recent advance in railroad rates, it is thought that river rates could be advanced to some extent, at least enough to permit the running of boats on the upper Willamette.

Court House News

Two cases have been tried and verdicts rendered so far at this term of the circuit court. They are in the suit of the Emerson Hardwood company against Adrian Kemp a verdict in favor of the defendant in the sum of $250. In the suit of Kohler, Chase and company against L. P. and J. E. Savage a verdict was rendered in favor of plaintiff and against J. P. Savage for $457.80 and $75 attorney's fees.

G. E. Tompkins against Pearl Tompkins is an action for divorce on the ground of abandonment. The parties were married January 11, 1916.

In the suit of F. R. Bentley versus Gordon E. and Bessie G. Tower plaintiff asks nonsuit without prejudice.

In the suit of Erich Krefst against W. H. Clapper a decree was granted declaring a certain contract of sale void, and plaintiff the owner of and entitled to the possession of lot 5 in block 4, Burlington's addition to Salem.

The suit of G. J. Crop against R. L. Gaines was settled out of court and neither party gets costs.

Kenneth D. Kavanaugh of Oregon City and Leuta Patton of Salem were given a license to marry.

In the matter of the estate of Samuel White deceased, the will was admitted to probate and W. E. Walton, T. M. Hicks, and D. W. Eyre appointed appraisers. In department number one of the circuit court the trial of the suit of Austin Nichols & Co. against E. W. Powers & Co. went out of court on a voluntary nonsuit. The trial of the suit of David Frester against A. T. Moffit, for malicious prosecution is on this afternoon.

War Savings Stamps Campaign Is Opened

A committee of the War Savings Stamp campaign consisting of W. M. Hamilton, E. T. Barnes, Reuben P. Boushey and Ben F. West called on Judge Boushey yesterday and asked the assistance of the county court in a financial way to aid in the campaign June 24 and 25. The committee was assured by Judge Boushey that the county would aid in a financial way as the raising of the amount is a patriotic duty. At a meeting to be held Friday morning at 10 o'clock at the Commercial club, delegations from all the school districts in the county will be present at hear an address by C. N. Wonscott of Portland, assistant director of the Oregon W. S. S. campaign. Plans of the campaign will be outlined and announcement made of the quota for each school district. The delegates will also be given instructions how to organize their respective school districts in the county, it is figured that none will be overlooked and that each district in the county will be given an opportunity to sell its quota of War Savings stamps. The committees for each school district and town will simply receive subscriptions for the War Saving Stamps and a pledge of the amount a person will buy each month for six months beginning with July. As explained by the committee, it will give every adult and every child in the county an opportunity to agree to save a certain amount each month for the remainder of the year and to invest this amount with the government. The campaign is national with $17,000,000 to be subscribed in Oregon.
