CUT OUT USELESS WORK

THE ONLY EFFORT THAT COUNTS TODAY IS SOMETHING THAT HELPS WIN THE WAR.

We all know, in a general way, that some men are engaged in nonessential work in every town in the country. In Athens, Georgia, a census was taken to find out the exact wastage of muscle that could be turned to war work. It was found, according to conservative reports, that the nonessential house servants alone, in that town of 20,000 people, could furnish the labor for cultivating enough land to produce at a moderate yield 75,000 bushels of corn.

There is only one test to apply to any human effort today for the determination of its value—and that is, does it help win the war?

Usually within a few hours' ride of towns where men are engaged in work that is utterly useless from a war-winning standpoint there are farmers seeking labor to produce crops—crops that will help win the war—crops without which we cannot win the war!

In every town local public sentiment can cause these nonessential workers to go to farms and help win the war!

Do you suppose Hindenburg is losing sleep over the surplus servants in Athens, Georgia? Do you suppose the Kaiser worries because a town of 20,000 keeps enough useless house help to produce 75,000 bushels of corn—if they were on farms? But, when Athens, Ga., actually has 75,000 additional bushels of corn to show for the work of the useless servants—when every town in this country has taken husky men from such jobs as running elevators, standing in divined glory in front of hotel doors, checking grips, driving taxicabs and doing a score of things women can do or the public can do without or individuals do for themselves—THEN the blasphemous bragging of Berlin and his companion butchers will find in Athens, Ga., something fearful and forbidding—something to give them the dread that comes to all beasts when they sense the real arousing of their superior.

YOUR town is Athens, Ga. Every town is Athens, Ga. That particular place is named here merely for the sake of illustration, because it happens that Georgia extension workers took careful survey there and the figures are available as substantiation of general statements applicable to practically all the towns in the country. You know we can't win the war without food; you know food can't be produced without farm labor.

As long as YOUR town continues to employ men in nonessential work while

FINANCIER CONTENTS HUNS CANNOT WIN VICTORY

Giving of Ground by Allies Not Regarded As Anyway Significant

New York, June 7.—The German drive was renewed with expected vigor, but with indifferent success. The allies gave ground, which was as expected, but their retirement cannot in any sense be regarded as decisive. The allied armies are unbroken; they have not been driven into the sea, and the way to Paris is still closed despite the furious onslaught. No real progress toward winning the war has been made by Germany, and confidence in high allied circles is unshaken, as is shown in the expressions of the big leaders as well as in the fact that since the great drive began in March British consols have risen from 54 to 56 1/2. The Kaiser is evidently doing his utmost to hasten his war-wary people.

The government is much the biggest factor to be found in business today, and the extent of its operations is not by any means appreciated by the general public. About 60 per cent of our woolen machinery is working for the government; 50 per cent of the knit goods industry; 40 per cent of cotton goods; and about 10 per cent of silk fabrics. In other lines of industry the output for the government is also enormous. Over 50 per cent of the chemical industry, which has been greatly expanded in an government work, while in the case of the steel industry it is known that fully 90 per cent of the industry is directly or indirectly working for the government. So much for the effect of war upon industry.

The country's whole energy is being more intensely centralized upon winning this war. To that end our industrial machinery has already been socialized to an extraordinary extent, and the process goes steadily on with no signs of being as yet reached the end. Our production of luxuries is gradually being curtailed or stopped altogether; so, too, are many pleasures and unnecessary articles. The latest and most important step in economic mobilization is the amalgamation of the express companies, a natural sequence of unification of our railroad system. The several large express companies are to be consolidated into one, with a capital of $30,000,000, and then leased to the railroad administration who will control their operations somewhat as with the railroads. Dividends will be allowed on a basis of 5 per cent and when more is earned the excess is to be divided between the government and stockholders on certain defined lines, the government taking the largest share of increased profits.

Despite war news, the stock market maintained a good front, and the confident undertone exhibited for several weeks past is unabated. Strength was most marked in the railroad division. These shares have been visibly strengthened by the changed attitude of the government. For years their credit had been steadily undermined by repressive action of the Interstate Commerce commission, the result being gradual im-

ASK YOURSELF ABOUT YOUR MEALS

- 1—Do they use other starchy food instead of wheat?
  - 2—Are potatoes generously represented in them?
  - 3—Do they contain local produce so that the burden on the railroads may be relieved?
  - 4—Are they as easy to prepare as possible?
  - 5—Are such of the five food groups represented every day? The five food groups are: fruits and vegetables; meats and meat substitutes; grains and other starchy foods; sugars and sweets; fats.
  - 6—Have you provided plenty of whole milk for the children?
  - 7—You are not forgetting cheese?

Ice Cream
Barley Flour Cakes

Baked Beans
Brown Bread and Cheese Sandwiches
Rhubarb Pie (or other kind)

- Oat and Cornflower Bread.
1 cup liquid; 4 tablespoons fat; 4 tablespoons syrup; 2 eggs; 6 tablespoons baking powder; 1 teaspoon salt; 1 1/3 cups corn flour; 1 cup ground rolled oats.
- Mix with the liquid the melted fat, notice to prepare for heavy new demands upon the national pocketbook, which can only be met by persistent economy and self-denial.
- The outlook for the stock market is fairly encouraging. We have had a good rise in some shares, and reactions must be expected. Confidence is widespread, being based upon ultimate victory, a good crop situation, intense activity in many industries and a greatly improved railroad situation. Money market limitations will probably keep speculation within moderate limits, and all financial operations should be conducted with caution. Fluctuations must depend very largely upon news from Washington and from the seat of war in Europe.
