

SOCIETY

By CAROL S. DIBBLE

BEAUTIFUL, large bride's roses, each bearing a tiny announcement card revealed the engagement of Miss Barbara Golden Steiner to Lieutenant Carl Coslen Fligel this afternoon, at a lovely tea, for which Mrs. Milton L. Meyers, an aunt of the bride to be, was hostess, at her residence on Court street.

The guests were apprised of the secret at the door, when little Miss Margaret Evans bestowed one by one her beautiful white, waxed petals upon the friends of Miss Steiner, as they came in, met at the door by Miss Priscilla Fry. The dainty cards which told the betrothal were attached to the slender rose stems by white ribbon.

Assisting Miss Steiner and Mrs. Meyers in receiving the guests were the honoree's grandmother, Mrs. G. Steiner, and her mother, Mrs. R. E. Lee Steiner. The bride elect, who is an unusually pretty girl made a most attractive picture, carrying a handsome bouquet of orchids and Cecil Brunner roses.

The living room was transformed into a bower of delicate pink bloom, by an artistic arrangement of pink roses and peonies. A pastel color scheme prevailed in the dining room, developed by a charming combination of pink and yellow snapdragons, supplemented by blue delphinium.

Mrs. Dan J. Fry Jr., (Rita Steiner) and Miss Margery Marvin poured, with Mrs. Lloyd Shisler and Miss Helen Deekbach assisting in the serving of light refreshments.

About the rooms were Mrs. H. H. Ohinger, Mrs. Prince Byrd, Mrs. Frank Spears, Mrs. Curtis Cross, Miss Nell Thielens and Miss Teresa Fowle.

The guests included a number of Miss Steiner's girlhood friends and several of the younger society matrons.

The news comes as a great surprise to society, none but a few close friends of the couple knowing that the engagement existed. Miss Steiner is the second daughter of Dr. and Mrs. R. E. Lee Steiner, and a sister of Mrs. Dan J. Fry, Jr., whose wedding a few weeks ago, tinged with a decided military atmosphere, was also one of the surprise events of the season.

Miss Steiner is a great favorite socially, being endowed with a very winsome personality, that has won her many friends both here and at the University of Washington which she attended the past year. She is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority and of junior standing having taken her undergraduate work at Willamette University, where she met her fiance.

Lieutenant Fligel is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Fligel of Portland, the former being a prominent Portland attorney and the latter a well known club woman. Lieutenant Fligel is a popular member of the 1917 class of Willamette, where he took an active part in college athletics. He left Salem last June to take the military training necessary to admit him to first lieutenancy in the regular United States army. Following this course of training at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, and at the Presidio in San Francisco, he was sent to Camp Fremont, California where he is now stationed.

The wedding will be a simple event of the latter part of the month.

Mrs. William Carlisle passed Thursday in Salem as the guest of Mrs. John J. Roberts. Mrs. Carlisle left Portland today for Washington, D. C., where she has received an appointment in the intelligence service at Washington and will be located in the capital city for several months. Mrs. Carlisle is a fluent linguist and expects to be called for special duty work in a French canteen in the near future. Dr. Carlisle has been in France since the first of the year. Since the departure of her husband, Mrs. Carlisle has made her home in Portland, where she is quite popular socially having spoken frequently at various functions in regard to her experiences in Russia.

Mrs. Clifford Brown entertained informally in honor of Mrs. Carlisle on Thursday with a charming, at fresco, at her residence on State street. The guests included a few intimate friends of Mrs. Carlisle.

Mrs. O. P. Coshov of Roseburg will be a Salem visitor over the week end, being entertained by her daughter, Mrs. Knassow Pickens and Mrs. Thomas Kay.

MISS BARBARA STEINER
Charming bride-elect, whose engagement to Lieutenant Carl Fligel was announced this afternoon at a pretty tea given by Mrs. Milton L. Meyers.

Society is rejoicing in the return to Oregon of Mrs. William C. Knighton, who arrived Thursday night to pass a few weeks in Salem as the guest of her mother, Mrs. E. E. Waters. Mr. and Mrs. Knighton have made their home in Tulsa, Oklahoma, the past year, much to the regret of their many Salem friends, who are anticipating with much pleasure Mrs. Knighton's return to the city for even so brief a visit, as she now contemplates. During her stay Mrs. Knighton will doubtless be the inspiration of numerous social activities.

Miss Nellie Taylor entertained the members of the Sweet Briar club at their last meeting of the year, Wednesday afternoon at her home on the Wallace road. Masses of roses formed effective decoration throughout the room. Twelve members were present. Mrs. Minnie of Wisconsin, who is the guest of her sister, Mrs. D. S. Adams, being hidden additionally. The Sweet Briar club will reopen activities next October, holding the first meeting the first Wednesday of that month.

Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Brown motored to Portland yesterday. They will remain over the week end.

ASSUMING paramount importance among the events planned for this evening will be the distinctive reception to be given by Rev. and Mrs. Robert S. Gill at the rectory in compliment to their guests. Bishop and Mrs. Walter Taylor Sumner of Portland and Mrs. Sumner's mother, Mrs. Samuel Mitchell of Nagsome, Michigan. Quantities of pink roses, blue bells and other delicate spring blooms, intermingled with a wealth of maiden hair ferns will be artistically arranged throughout the drawing rooms.

The receiving line will include, besides the guests of honor, Rev. and Mrs. Gill, Mrs. U. G. Shipley and Mrs. Edward Weller.

Miss Elizabeth Lord and Miss Margery Marvin will cut the ices. Assisting the hostess in a variety of ways during the evening will be Miss Eliza Nolan, Miss Ethel Rupert, Miss Helen Wood, Miss Nell Thielens, Miss Marie Churchill, Miss Emily Griffin, Miss Margaret Goodin, Miss Margaret Power, Miss Virginia Nolan, Miss Beatrice Walton, Miss Norma Weaver, Miss Florence Cleveland.

The visitors arrived this afternoon and will remain in Salem till Monday. Bishop Sumner will occupy the pulpit at St. Paul's church to-morrow morning and evening, besides confirming a class.

A council meeting of the Oregon Federation of Women's clubs will be held in Portland Monday, June 18, to be preceded by a luncheon at the Multnomah hotel at 12:30 p. m. The council meetings are regularly attended by the members of the chief executive board of the State Federation, which consists of the presidents of all federated clubs and the officers of the federation. At this meeting a report will be heard from the delegates to the recent biennial convention of the general federation, and action taken on the legislation passed there.

Salem members of the executive board planning to attend are Miss Mattie Beatty first vice president of the Oregon Federation, and Mrs. J. H. Albert president of the Salem Women's club.

Music in the Capital city is destined to receive a quite noticeable impetus during this month with the recital period at its zenith. Of paramount interest to music lovers, is the annual musical to be given by the members of the senior piano class of Miss Beatrice Shelton, who, ever alert to make the affairs which she sponsors distinctive, will endeavor to emphasize the spirit of the time both in her program and in the general nature of the affair.

The musical will be given at the First Congregational church, the date being the evening of June 21.

Some of the city's best talent will assist, including such names as Miss Ada Miller and Alfred Schramm, who will appear in vocal numbers; Mrs. Alfred Schramm, pianist; Prof. T. S. Roberts at the organ and Mrs. Blanch Howard, who will appear in musical readings, a clever form of entertainment, at which she is proving most versatile.

This, together with the knowledge that the members of Miss Shelton's senior class includes many young folk of exceptional musical talent, leaves us with the happiest anticipations.

The junior class marks the cessation of its year's activities June 24, with a special at the Unitarian church. A most attractive program is being arranged for this date with the following lending assistance, and variation: Helen Cornelius of Dallas, a young violinist whose playing has captivated Salem audiences at previously given affairs; Delbert Moore violinist and Miss LaVon Coppock in juvenile readings.

Mrs. O. B. Gingrich will also be heard in several of her Indian pantomime numbers, with the accompanying Indian music.

Bishop Matt S. Hughes of the Methodist church, who will deliver the baccalaureate sermon at Willamette University tomorrow morning, is the guest of Dr. and Mrs. Henry B. Talbot. In honor of Bishop Hughes, Dr. and Mrs. Talbot entertained at a delightful luncheon yesterday. A handsome centerpiece of pink roses adorned the table. Covers were laid for Bishop Hughes, Dr. and Mrs. W. W. Youngston of Portland, Mrs. G. A. Parkinson of Eugene, Mrs. Luther E. Steele of Portland, T. A. Atcheson and Dr. T. B. Ford.

Dr. and Mrs. Youngston left for Portland last evening, but the former will return to Salem tonight, remaining over until Monday. He will speak before the student body of Willamette university tomorrow evening at the Methodist church. Bishop Hughes will return tomorrow afternoon.

Miss Lenta Patton of Salem and Kenneth D. Ravanagh of Oregon City were married Thursday afternoon at five o'clock at the home of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Mary Howd, 1572 State street. Rev. G. F. Holt officiating. About twenty relatives were present. After the wedding service a wedding dinner was served, covers being laid for twenty. The decorations in the parlor were white roses, the dining room being decorated with masses of pink roses. The bride carried a huge bouquet of white sweet peas and roses. Many beautiful gifts were received. The young couple left on the north bound train at eight o'clock. They will make their home in Oregon City.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Harding were hosts for a delightful little dancing party Wednesday evening. The Hardings have vacated their attractive home at 985 North Summer street and the party Wednesday night, was in the nature of a farewell gathering of friends, on the occasion of their departure.

Those sharing the gayeties were: Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Geer, Mr. and Mrs. William McGilchrist, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Marvin, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Myers, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Webb, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Galloway, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Bonnell.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McCorkle motored to Nockwin today to spend the summer in their cottage. They were accompanied by Mrs. George Riches, Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Galloway and Mr. and Mrs. John Brophy, who will remain at the beach over the week end.

MISS LA VON COPPOCK, who graduated from the Fish School of Expression this year, will be presented in recital Tuesday evening at the Commercial club auditorium. Miss Coppock's recital was originally planned for May 23, under the direction of Mrs. Anna Rogers Fish, prior to the latter's departure for Idaho, but was indefinitely postponed owing to the sudden illness of Miss Coppock.

Miss Coppock has specialized in child interpretation and her program Tuesday evening will include a number of favorite selections from those most beloved writers of children's poems, Eugene Field and James Whitcomb Riley.

Miss Coppock has appeared frequently on programs both in Salem and vicinity, always delighting her audience with a certain refreshing vivacity and piquant charm, which she imparts to her impersonations.

Sponsoring the recital are Mrs. Marguerite Elliott, Mrs. Blanche Howard, Mrs. Richard Cartwright and Miss Beatrice Shelton.

The program for the evening follows:

Personation—Naughty Zelle (M. Goodman.)

Group of dialect—Various phases of the boy. (a) Jack the Giant Killer (Riley); (b) Havin' to Wait (Edna Wallace); (c) Girls Don't Have no Fun; (d) Scrapin' the Frostin' Dish (Helen Dunbar); (e) Limitations of Youth (Field.)

Interlude—Prelude C sharp minor (Bachmannoff), Miss Laura Aranz at the piano.

Monologue—The Eternal Feminine (Mary S. Andrews); Scene 1, The Plot; scene 2, The Fiance; scene 3, The Eavesdropper.

Interlude—Shepherd Tey (Grainger) Miss Aranz at the piano.

Hate songs—(a) Women (Henry Rosson); (b) Men (Dorothy Rothchild.)

Presentation of diploma—Mrs. Alice E. Dodd, president Salem Women's club 1918.

The public is extended a cordial invitation to attend.

Patriotic service assumes a variety of guises these days and with our participation in the war daily looming larger, there are few fields of activity which do not rely to a certain extent at one time or another, upon the assistance of those engaged in alleviating and moderating the unusual conditions brought about by the war. And especially as harvest time draws near, the relief organizations are necessarily forced to broaden their scope of endeavor to include various phases of industry, such as the picking of the berries, in the Loganberry fields this summer, which will be sadly handicapped by the scarcity of pickers. In view of this shortage of help, likely to be so keenly felt within a few weeks, several prominent women of Salem were called to Portland a few days ago by the Oregon Women's Farm Reserve for food production, acting under the U. S. department of agriculture, to organize a movement in Marion county to relieve the situation as much as possible in the Loganberry yards. Thus giving of their time and effort in launching this latest patriotic movement were Mrs. C. A. Park, Mrs. A. N. Bush, Mrs. Joseph Albert, Mrs. H. S. Gille, Mrs. Alice H. Dodd and Miss Florence Cleveland.

The work will be carried on through the Young Woman's Christian Association as headquarters. The plan, broad in scope, consists of the organization of a number of clubs, each consisting of twenty five or thirty girls, recruited from the school ranks for the most part, which, under the chaperonage of teachers will go into the Loganberry fields and camp during the picking period. A variety of recreation will be a feature of the club camps and it is hoped to thus happily combine practical service to the country and the personal benefit derived from such a novel outing. It is expected that a large number of girls will be signed up by the first of July, when picking will generally begin.

Kimball School of Theology has a reputation for delightful functions, and this reputation was fully sustained Wednesday evening, in the reception given by President and Mrs. H. J. Talbot, in honor of the graduating class. The gathering was held in the Kimball hall of assembly which was beautifully decorated with the national colors interspersed with banks of green. The guests were greeted on arrival by members of the student body. Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Royston, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Bates, Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Abbott assisted by Miss Dragger, J. W. Worrell presented the guests to the hosts of the evening. In the receiving line were Dr. and Mrs. Talbot, Thomas Atcheson, Mrs. Carl G. Doney, Mrs. J. O. Goltra, Dr. and Mrs. George H. Allen, Dr. and Mrs. E. Sherwood and Dr. and Mrs. E. S. Hammond.

In receiving the guests Mrs. Talbot was assisted by Mrs. R. S. Wallace, Mrs. A. A. Bush, Mrs. B. L. Steeves, Mrs. M. C. Findley, Mrs. E. C. Richards, Mrs. F. W. Selee, Mrs. W. E. Kirk, Mrs. Alice Dodd, Mrs. G. Ebsen, Mrs. R. L. Mathews, Mrs. J. O. Hall and the Miss Mary Findley, Miss Grace Sherwood, Miss Mildred Garrett, Miss Mand McLean, Miss Nellie Beaver, Miss Blanche Baker, Miss Velma Baker, Miss E. Helen Hansen, Miss Genevieve Arison, Miss Ruth Spoor, Miss Louise Benson, Miss Muriel Steeves and Miss Charlotte Croisan.

During the evening the Kimball chorals, led by Rev. H. N. Aldrich, rendered four numbers: "Home, Sweet Home," "America, My Country," "We'll never let the Old Flag Fall," and "Keep the Home Fires Burning."

The engagement of Miss Lydia V. Bell of Salem to Charles H. Mays of Sherwood was made known to a group of the bride-elect's friends at a recent party given by an aunt of Miss Bell, Mrs. B. E. Carrier, at the Carrier home on Court street.

Miss Bell is a graduate of the State Normal school and formerly lived in Mammoth, before coming to Salem. She has taught in the Englewood school for the past two years. Mr. Mays is a purchasing agent for the state grange and makes his headquarters in Portland. He also graduated from the Mammoth Normal. The wedding of this popular young couple will take place

Miss Gertrude East and her house guest, Miss Elsie Brown of Portland, attended the alumni luncheon of the Alpha Chi Omega sorority given at the University club in Portland today. Both girls belong to the sorority, being students at the Oregon Agricultural college. Miss East will remain in Portland over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Canfield and Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Fullerton will leave Sunday on a motor trip through southern Oregon. They will be gone about ten days.

Mrs. Lahan Steeves of Portland is a week end visitor in Salem. She is the guest of Mrs. B. L. Steeves.

Mrs. Cal Patton is passing the week end in Portland as the guest of her sister, Mrs. C. D. Simeral.

Mrs. Robert Maensider left Wednesday for Eugene, where she will spend two weeks visiting friends. She will be the house guest of Mrs. O. J. McDonald.

Mrs. J. A. Wroten entertained the Willing Hands Red Cross auxiliary Wednesday afternoon at her home 905 North 22d street. Mrs. John Graber assisted in serving. The auxiliary will meet next week with Mrs. Paul Stege.

In the evening a few friends were bidden in by Mr. and Mrs. Wroten for a pleasant evening of music, including Mrs. and Mrs. Miller Bevier, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lee, Richard Riley and W. H. Mills.

The violin and piano pupils of Miss Joy Turner will be heard in recital next Thursday evening, June 13, at the Commercial club auditorium. Miss Martell Shipp will assist Miss Turner on the program which will include several exceptionally fine numbers.

The birthday of Mrs. G. E. Terwilliger was made the occasion of a pleasurable surprise party Wednesday night, when a number of Artisans gathered at her home for an evening of gaiety. Dancing and five hundred contributed to the festivities. Later novel diversion was formed by each guest writing a portion of a letter to Mrs. Terwilliger's son, Orley Leffingwell, who is stationed in France with Company M.

Those participating in the jollification were: Mr. and Mrs. Terwilliger, Mr. and Mrs. Fay Collins, Mr. and Mrs. Claire Vibberis, Mrs. Mary Cooke Mrs. Rachel Reeder, Mrs. Leah Armstrong, Miss Leona Peterson, Miss Estelle Wilson, Miss Emma Waldorf, Miss Bertha Waldorf, Miss Joy Turner, Miss Ada Zosel, Miss Morton, Miss Ruth Cook, Miss Verda Saxton, Fred Smith, Floyd White, Ivan Martin.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Jones and daughter, Helen Beeler, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Guy Hunt and daughter will motor to Eugene this evening for a week end visit.

CHILDREN'S DAY.

Children's Day exercises will be held at the Presbyterian church tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock in place of the regular service. In addition to the songs and recitations of the little folk, Rev. W. J. Large of Eugene, Presbyterian Sunday school missionary, will talk to the children on the Sunday schools he has organized in the mountains, and out of the way places. Rev. Large will also give the evening sermon.

A stray .22 rifle shot crashed through a window of the Baptist church at six last Sunday morning while Sunday school was in session, striking the opposite wall and falling to the floor.

NEED!

When a man actually needs money, he finds it very hard to get.

When a widow, with a family, needs money she finds it almost impossible to get except, in dribs of charity or a very small wage.

Every man owes a duty to his family which can only be paid by carrying protection on his life so that his dependents will never need money.
