

He Will Welcome a pouch of Real GRAVELY Chewing Plug

Any gift from the folks back home means a lot to the boy. When you send him tobacco, let it be good tobacco—tobacco worth sending all that long way—the flat, compressed plug of Real Gravelly.

Give any man a chew of Real Gravelly Plug, and he will tell you that's the kind to send. Send the best!

Ordinary plug is false economy. It costs less per week to chew Real Gravelly, because a small chew of it lasts a long while.

If you smoke a pipe, slice Gravelly with your knife and add a little to your smoking tobacco. It will give flavor—improve your smoke.

SEND YOUR FRIEND IN THE U. S. SERVICE A POUCH OF GRAVELLY

Dealers all around here carry it in 10c pouches. A 3c stamp will put it into his hands in any Training Camp or Seaport of the U. S. A. Even "over there" a 3c stamp will take it to him.

BIG GERMAN DRIVE

June 12.—French offensive efforts on the Oise front are believed to have brought to an end the big German drive in this region.

While the severest fighting is likely to continue for several days, with local fighting and fluctuations along the whole front, the Germans last night attained the maximum result they can obtain from their initial assault.

How far this falls short of their plans is indicated by the established fact that their pre-fixed objective for Monday night was Compiègne from which they were still nearly ten miles distant when French counter attacks drove them back.

French Check Hums.
Paris, June 12.—The Germans, striking along the entire Oise front yesterday evening and last night, were blocked at every point by the desperate French resistance. The battle is still raging, the French war office reported today.

A simultaneous attack on the western portion of the Marne was quashed.

"Between Montdidier and the Oise the battle is going on without change," the communique said.

Yesterday evening and last night, German attempts on the left were broken up. The French progressed east of Mery and Genlis wood.

"The Germans attempted to throw us back upon the Aronde river. Despite the violence of the shock and the heaviest enemy losses, they failed to succeed.

"On the right the Germans, despite repeated efforts, did not succeed in debouching from the south bank of the Matz, we holding them at Chevignacourt and Mareil-Sur-Matz.

"According to new indications, yesterday's counter attack prevented a powerful German attack under preparation on the same front.

"Prisoners taken by a single French division belonged to four German divisions.

"South of the Aisne the Germans attacked this morning between that river and Villers-Cotterets forest. The most violent combats are going on along the Dommeries-Cutry-Amblyen front."

Some Successful Raids.
London, June 12.—Raiding operations and artillery firing were reported by Field Marshal Haig today.

"An attack on one of our posts in Aveluy wood last night was repulsed," the statement said. "We captured a few prisoners in a successful raid at Boyelles.

"There was hostile artillery fire west of Lens at intervals last night."

AMERICANS FOUND THE LINES.

By Fred S. Ferguson
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

With the Americans west of Montdidier, June 12.—American artillery is pounding the German lines of communication far in the rear, as the French and boches grapple in the struggle on the new front to the eastward.

Flying in French airplanes, American observers direct the fire of the big guns. The roar of our own guns is constant while from beyond Montdidier comes the heavy, drum-like rolling of the great battle for the Oise.

The Huns attempted two determined raids on American positions late Monday night. The Germans flung a handful of men into the front line ditches, but these were thrown out in hand to hand fighting. There are numerous cases now of the Hun flyers trying to disguise their machines as French craft.

Assigned To Paris.
Washington, June 12.—American coast artillerymen, it was said on high authority today, may be assigned to aid in the defense of Paris if the invaders get within range of the big guns before the capital. A considerable assignment of these trained fighters are in France, and others are being trained for overseas service.

HARVEST STARTS.

Wellington, Kan., June 12.—With harvest weather ideal and harvest hands plentiful, due to recruiting activities throughout the cities, cutting of wheat began today in southwestern Kansas. Everything points to one of the best crops in point of quality and quantity in history.

LADIES! SECRET TO DARKEN GRAY HAIR

Bring Back Color, Gloss and Youthfulness with Grandma's Recipe of Sage and Sulphur

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready to use preparation improved by the addition of other ingredients, costing about 50 cents a large bottle, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it, and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.
